KIWANIS LEADER IN MONTREAL FOR BIG ANNUAL CONVENTION

MONTREAL, June 5.—John H. Moss, of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, president of Kiwanis International, who will end his administrative duties following the 19th annual convention to be held next week, arrived today to take up the many tasks of an executive, official nature in carrying out and completing the work accomplished by Kiwanis during the past year over the North American continent.

"The past year has been productive of great results," Mr. Moss told an audience of Kiwanis officers and Dominion dignitaries that greeted him on his arrival from the United States. "The field of unselfish service has been shown to the world by what Kiwanis has been and is accomplishing in civic and many other ways," he said.

In answer to questions of what the outstanding accomplishments had been during his administration, Kiwanis' president spoke of the furthering of the work of aiding the under-privileged child, the efforts of creating a better understanding between the town and country people, vocational guidance and the dedication of the Harding International Good Will Memorial in Stanley Park, Vancouver, Canada, last September. The monument in honor of the late President Harding, a member of the Marlon, Ohio, Kiwanis club, and a memorial in remembrance of the more than a century of friendship and peaceful relations between Canada and the United States, was erected by voluntary subscriptions of the 100,000 Kiwanians.

"Kiwanis is attracting attention because of its accomplishments," remarked the Milwaukeean. "Its appeal has always been to public opinion, and this appeal has been for activities of the highest social type. What Kiwanis is doing in every department of human endeavor shows that its

Berry Crops To Set New Record

VANCOUVER, B. C., (UP)—British Columbia's berry crops are likely to establish records this year unless there is an unexpected change in unfavorable weather, according to officials of the department of agriculture.

Recent rains increased the prospects about 25 per cent. Strawberries and raspberries have been on the market for some time, employing hundreds of pickers. The season opened much earlier than usual. Loganberries promise to produce well, so that the province will turn out more wine this year, it is expected, than ever before. Winemakers are prepared to handle all the loganberries produced, as their beverage product is gaining in popularity both here and abroad.

Favorable reports are being received from not only this vicinity but from Vancouver Island and from the interior.
