Business Visitor—

Marsh Goodman of Portland, of the Clark Kendall Co., spent the day in Ashland on business and visiting old friends. Mr. Goodman lived in Ashland eighteen years ago.

Summer-time is just around the corner and the fortunate motorist who lives on the Pacific Coast where there are so many good motor trips over excellent roads is beginning to give thought to vacation outings. Naturally he choice of a route, the condition of the roads, and the distance involved.

How many motorists have not gone through these throes of uncertainty at this season of the year when the open road is calling, and who, rather than make haphazard choice have given up the contemplated trip and sought other scenes?

To those who have, the announcement that Union Oil Company of California has prepared road maps covering the entire Pacific Coast slope including British Columbia, Arizona and Nevada, will be welcome news. The maps are free to the motorist. They have been placed with independent dealers handling Union Oil products and also with the company's service stations for distribution to all motorists who may desire them.

Visiting in Ashland—

Rev. J. C. Poor of Hillsboro, Oregon, wife and four children are visiting in Ashland, today. Mr. Poor was formerly pastor of the Methodist church in this city. They note great improvements in the appearance of the city.
