Presbyterian Executive Board Meeting—
 Tuesday, there was an Executive Board Meeting of the Presbyterian Society in Ashland at the Presbyterian church.
 There were a number of officers present from the different communities in the Presbytery. Interesting and worthwhile suggestions were made for the conduct of the Missionary activities in the church. Altogether, it was a helpful meeting with much accomplished in plans for the societies.
 Luncheon was served at the church.

Family Reunion—
 A family reunion and picnic dinner at their own pleasant home occurred, when Mr. and Mrs. Mark True were host and hostess Sunday at a family gathering, with the dinner served at a picnic on tables set in the beautiful yard.
 The gathering was honoring Mrs. A. R. Brown and her daughter, Rayna, of Dallas, Oregon, who have been visiting relatives for some time in the valley.
 The dinner featured chicken, and there was everything that goes with it in the wonderful feast which was served, which ended with the loyalest of cakes, pies and ice cream.
 Music and visiting made the hours winged. Those who enjoyed the happy day together were: Messrs. and Mesdames James Owens, Loren Gregory, John Owens, H. L. Gregory, Henry Head, Arthur Sellers, Henry Owens.

Mark True, Mr. W. A. Sellers of Los Angeles, Miss Freeman of Eugene, the Misses Mildred Gregory, Shirley and Mary Roseberry, Keith Gregory, Dean and Roscoe Owens, Vern Owens and Harold Head.
 Mrs. Brown, for whom the day had been planned, left for her home Monday morning.

Delightful Luncheon at Elsie's—
 "Twenty cars filled with happy-hearted Camp Fire Girls from Ashland, Klamath Falls and Talent spent the last day of the conference at Pinehurst.
 Miss Squire, distinguished visitor, was guest of honor, for the day and at the luncheon. The fire in the fireplace at the Inn was welcome, and the girls sat about on the floor, campfire style, enjoying the warmth and coziness of it all.
 At the table for the complimented guest, the unique centerpiece attracted general attention. It represented a lake with trees around which Indian maidens held a council fire. Very unusual and very pretty.
 The program presented was interesting in the extreme. A talk from Miss Squire, vocal and piano solos and stunts filled a happy afternoon.
 Those who so kindly took their cars were Mrs. B. B. Balis, Mrs. P. S. Frowd, Mrs. S. B. McNair, Mrs. H. H. Elhart, Robert Wright, Chester Woods, Galus Crosby, Mr. Roy Parr, Mr. H. A. Stearns, Mrs. Borgenson, Mrs. G. A. Briscoe, Mrs. Bertha Deaton and Miss Lolita Pierson.

Entertained While Away—
 Drives, auto trips of length, dinners and visits with old friends and relatives marked the vacation outing of Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Patterson who returned Friday from a few weeks spent in the south.
 Of the relatives, some time was spent with a daughter, Mrs. Vansteel and her husband of Madison, California. A visit was made at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Potter of Sacramento, California. Mr. Potter is the manager of the Advertising Department of the Sacramento Union. Mrs. Potter is another daughter. Two brothers, Dexter Patterson of Meridian, California, and Lair Patterson of Salinas, claimed some time of the travelers. Delightful entertainment was theirs during their stay.
 Upon the return trip, which was made by auto, they paused to visit Miss Grace Chamberlain and Miss Elizabeth Palmer in the hospital at Red Bluff.
 Both are improving, yet it will be some time before they may return to their home in Ashland. They were happy to see their friends and are very cheerful.

Mrs. Lamkin Entertains Society—
 Several cars conveyed members of the Women's Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church, who were guests of Mrs. C. B. Lamkin, north of town, Wednesday afternoon, to her country home.
 The meeting was more than a business one, but entirely for the regular program, for on this occasion, the social hour was emphasized.
 Mrs. S. D. Taylor, president of the organization, was in charge for the business and program hour, which opened with the devotionals, led by Mrs. Lamkin. The roll call brought out beautiful gems of thought, quotations from biblical meetings, reports of the secretary, treasurer and secretary of literature were made and helpful suggestions were offered by the president.

The lesson for the afternoon was on Porto Rico and the Philippines, a number taking part. A map talk in opening, with interesting illustrations was given by Mrs. J. W. McCoy, Mrs. C. W. Nims, told of the "Inanimate Partner of the Missionary," which was no more nor less than the ubiquitous automobile, surely a friend in need to the missionary.
 Mrs. Andrews closed the discussion of the work in the Philippines with a resume of the field, in opportunity and need.
 The Porto Rican situation was presented by Mrs. J. M. Ross in a talk on the island itself and many incidents in the work there were given as told by a new missionary. This, too, was supplemented by additional facts related by the leader, in closing.
 During the social hour, the hostess served delicious sandwiches, raspberry shortcakes and coffee, with only such cream as can be found on a dairy ranch.
 Mrs. Lamkin was assisted in serving by Miss Edna Goheen and Mrs. Charles Robertson.
 After luncheon many of the visitors went out to inspect the new milkers recently installed and to enjoy the wonderful view from this altogether delightful country home.
 An unusually large number were in attendance.

College Club Meets—
 Saturday afternoon saw the members of the Rogue River Valley College Club guests in the pleasant home of Mrs. H. A. Stearns of Ashland. There was an excellent attendance, considering the fact that many had started on their vacations.
 In opening the program, which featured a travel talk, given by Mrs. R. L. Reed, Mrs. Clara Beebe played very delightfully. Ashland audiences are always happy to hear Mrs. Beebe in her pleasing selections.
 "A Day in Honolulu," was the theme of Mrs. Reed's address and portrayed, very happily, a day she spent there, on her way to New Zealand, with a party of American friends.
 The story covered all the interesting details, from the landing until the close of day.
 Many sidelights and bits of information, not usually known, were given in the discourse, and Club appreciated the privilege in hearing Mrs. Reed's personal experience in the beautiful city.
 During the social hour, tea, with little cakes and ice cream, was served at the beautifully appointed tea table. Pink and lavender sweetpeas were used effectively in decoration. Mrs. V. V. Mills and Mrs. G. A. Briscoe poured.
 The hostesses were Mrs. H. A. Stearns, Mrs. C. E. Pell, Mrs. R. L. Reed, Mrs. Frank Dickey, Mrs. Ralph Billings, Mrs. Frank Davis, Mrs. Warren Cook, with Mrs. Clara Beebe, Mrs. V. V. Mills and Mrs. G. A. Briscoe assisting.
 Those who serve as officers for the coming year, and who assumed their initial duties Saturday were: Miss Ora Cox, President; Mrs. H. A. Stearns, Vice-President; Miss Florence Hurd, Secretary; Miss Sarah Van Meter, Treasurer; Mrs. F. D. Wagner, chairman of program committee; Mrs. Frank Davis, publicity chairman, Ashland; Mrs. Chaney, publicity chairman for Medford.
 There were a number of guests present to enjoy the program with the members, among them, Mrs. Rhodes of Albany, sister of Mrs. H. A. Stearns, Miss Katherine Vincent, Registrar at the Normal, Mrs. J. A. Churchill, and Miss Cora Mason.

Celebrated Anniversary—
 Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Lamkin were host and hostess, Sunday, June 19, 1928, at a delightful dinner party, commemorating their wedding anniversary which occurred this day.
 Covers were laid for ten, at the charmingly appointed table, with the announcement of the occasion made in a very happy fashion, by the dining room hostess, upon the table, the guests not knowing of the anniversary, until seated at the table.
 Beautiful blossoms in a French arrangement, added to the beauty of the table, at which a four-course dinner was served with friend chicken of the host's own flock, the piece de resistance, with all the delicacies of the season, accompanying it.

 Happy quip and jolly story caused the guests to linger long at the hospitable country home, of Mr. and Mrs. Lamkin.
 Those enjoying this hospitality upon this occasion were: Mr. and Mrs. August Schurman, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McCoy, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Day, and Mr. and Mrs. Otto Winter.

Birthday Luncheon—
 Mrs. C. W. Nims was the guest of honor at a charming little celebration of her birthday, Wednesday, with a group of relatives and friends making this a very happy occasion.
 The birthday cake was a part in the celebration and congratulations and good wishes were offered the complimented guest, who however had to leave very early for the meeting at Mrs. Lamkin's, which occurred the same day.

W. C. T. U. Conference—
 The W. C. T. U. Extension Conference, conducted by the State President, Mrs. Mary L. Mallett, of Portland, and the Vice-President, Mrs. Rachel Ellis of Madras, Ore., will convene at the Christian church in Ashland, at 10:30 o'clock Friday morning, June 18, for an all-day meeting.
 A luncheon, at noon, will be served in the church, for all present. Forenoon and afternoon sessions will be held; all interesting and well worth attending.
 The address of the evening, given by Mrs. Mallett, "Shall Wine and Beer Come Back?" is a splendid lecture, and it is expected, the speaker will address a crowded house.
 Mrs. Wolcott will appear in two vocal solos.
 Every one is invited to all these meetings.

Entertained in Klamath Falls—
 Those attending the impressive memorial services in dedication of the Monument to Gen. Canby and other heroes from Ashland were: Mrs. Gordon MacCracken, State Regent of the Daughters of the American Revolution, Mrs. C. E. Pell, a member of Mount Ashland Chapter, Miss Katherine Vincent, Registrar of the Normal and Mrs. Grace E. Andrews, local Historian. Mrs. MacCracken was the guest of Mrs. Wattenburg Saturday night, as was Mrs. Andrews. The next day, Mrs. MacCracken, with Mrs. Harshbarger, Past State Regent of California, who now lives in Klamath Falls and Mrs. Triax of Columbus, Ohio, were guests of Mrs. Wattenburg for the trip to the dedicatory ceremonies and the picnic luncheon.
 Mrs. Pell was hostess for the Ashland party for the wonderful trip. From Klamath Falls, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Pell's sister, made one of the party and was hostess for the delightful picnic dinner, which all enjoyed. Little Alicia Applegate returned to Ashland, with her aunt, Mrs. Pell.
 The members of Mount Ashland Chapter united with their present from Eulahoma Chapter, in giving the American's Creed. Three state officers of the D. A. R. were present: Mrs. Gordon MacCracken, State Regent; Oregon, Mrs. Harshbarger, Past State Regent, California, and Mrs. Wattenburg, First Vice Regent of Oregon.

Sunrise Breakfast—
 Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Cole entertained Monday morning, with a delicious sunrise breakfast at their home on Evergreen Heights.
 Guests at this pleasant function were Mrs. Clarence Atterbury and daughters Clara and Iris, and Mr. and Mrs. S. Morehouse and daughter Caribel.

Chapters Keep Flag Day—
 Nearly seventy Daughters of the American Revolution, members of Mount Ashland and Crater Lake Chapters gathered in Lithia Park Monday, June 14, at twelve-thirty, for a covered-dish luncheon.
 Beautiful flowers, in red, white and blue bouquets decorated the tables. The menu, which had been planned by the committee in charge was a well-balanced one, and the board fairly groaned under the weight of satisfying and delicious viands, the repast ending with ice cream and a variety of cakes.
 At the close of the luncheon, the Chapters adjourned to the Civic Club house where the program, a splendid one, put on by both organizations, was presented.

 The strains of the "Star Spangled Banner," with Mrs. Cora Van Fossen at the piano, opened the program.
 In courtesy to the State Regent, Mrs. Gordon MacCracken, a member of the Ashland Chapter, the Regent's salute was made.
 The Flag salute, always the formal opening at a meeting of the Daughters of the Revolution was impressively given.
 Mrs. C. A. Meeker, Historian of Crater Lake Chapter, read a most thought-provoking essay, on "Fifteen Reasons Why I Am a Daughter of the American Revolution."
 In summarizing, briefly her reasons were: "I am a Daughter of the American Revolution primarily because of the aims and objects of the Society, which are to perpetuate the memory and spirit of the men and women who achieved American Independence; to cherish, maintain and extend the institutions of American freedom; to foster true patriotism and love of country, and to aid in securing for mankind all the blessings of liberty." The speaker then named the fifteen reasons, beginning with "I am a Daughter of the American Revolution, first of all because I believe in these ideals and in the American's Creed."
 She then took the statements of the Creed and enlarged upon them, closing with, "I am a Daughter of the American Revolution because I believe in these fundamental principles of the American's Creed, in patriotism, in the constitution, in the law, in the flag, in national defense. They are the essence of good and loyal citizenship. To teach them is the duty of every loyal American."
 Mrs. E. O. Smith and Miss Jean Anderson, with Mrs. Cora Van Fossen at the piano, then sang a beautiful duet, which was heartily applauded.
 Mrs. H. C. Galey appeared next reading, most feelingly and with dramatic intensity, "Two Voices," one of an American, with the background of a patriotic, cultured ancestry—the other an American, loyal and true to his adopted country, but with ages of oppression and misery behind him.
 At this juncture, Mrs. Alice Willits and Mrs. H. S. Aikins played for the great pleasure of the audience, two numbers "Italy" and "Russia" from the suite "From Foreign Parts" by Moszkowski, which were applauded very much.
 Mrs. Volney Dixon, of Crater Lake Chapter, presented "An Apostrophe To The Flag," prefacing it with an illustrated talk on the development of the flag, which had been prepared by Mrs. Warren of Medford.
 In this, she began with the Red Cross of St. George, and closed with our own beloved banner as it now appears. As she told the story the different flags were displayed in the order of their development, and their significance told.
 Mrs. Volney then read the "Apostrophe to The Flag," very beautifully.
 The need of care for the D. A. R. monument at Phoenix was spoken of by both Mrs. MacCracken of Ashland and Mrs. J. H. Cochran, Chapter Regent, of Medford. Mrs. Cochran also called attention to a monument now on foot to change Bear Creek to Stewart Creek, the original name.

 Mrs. MacCracken, as State Regent, invited all who could come to the meeting of the State Board of Managers, which meets in Eugene Saturday.
 A wide of books was tendered all who graciously furnished the numbers of the program, to Medford Chapter for the splendid program planned, and to the Civic Club for the use of the Club house.
 Those not members of the Chapter, who appeared on the program, were guests of the Chapter, at the delightful luncheon in the Park.
 The Chapter Regent, Mrs. Harriet Fielding, expressed her appreciation of the occasion in a few graceful words, hoping that there would be many such in the future.
 Mrs. E. V. Carter, assisted by Mrs. F. Dodge had charge of the luncheon arrangements.

Normal Notes—
 Miss Leona Marsters, formerly music supervisor at Eugene has returned to Ashland as a member of the Southern Oregon Normal faculty. She is at home with Mrs. Mary and Miss Nell Dickey on the Boulevard. Friends are very glad to welcome her back to Ashland.
 Her work begins Monday.

Other Faculty Members Arrive—
 Miss Clara A. Trotter of Oshkosh, Wisconsin, and Miss Eva White, both faculty members of the Ashland Normal, are guests in the E. V. Carter home, on the Boulevard.

Will Live in the Hurt Home—
 Mr. and Mrs. Walter Redford and little daughter, of Kirkland, Washington, arrived Tuesday evening, and will occupy the Hurt home on Mountain avenue. Mr. Redford is a member of the faculty and comes from the University of Washington. Mrs. Redford's mother accompanied them to the new home in Ashland.

Will Live at Mrs. Wain's—
 W. R. C. Social—
 There were forty present at the W. R. C. social which was given Monday afternoon.
 It had been expected that the affair would be a picnic-social in Lithia Park, but the weather was too cool so adjournment was made to the J. O. Q. F. Hall where the interesting program was presented.
 America was sung as an opening number.

Parent-Teacher Notes
SECOND GRADE
 It was down to Georgia, the home of the wild Cherokee, that delegates, National Board members and distinguished visitors journeyed for the thirtieth annual convention of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.
 Two delightful readings were given by Mrs. Allen Turner and Mrs. Mary Willshire also favored those assembled with two enjoyable readings and Mrs. Helen Mack gave much pleasure to every one by playing a number of piano selections.
 Ice cream and dainty waters were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Nellie Randies, Mrs. Guy Randies, and Mrs. Roy Parr. They were assisted by the Mesdames Hattie Moore, Mabel Moor, George Mathes, Martin, Nostrom, and McDonald.
 Miss Virginia Hale, another member of the faculty of the Normal, from Madison, Wisconsin, arrived this week and will make her home with Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Wonne on Sherman street. Miss Hale formerly lived in Eugene.
 At Mrs. Merrill's—
 Miss Bertha A. Stephens, recently arrived, will be at the home of Mrs. Frank Merrill on the Boulevard, and Miss Augusta Stockton of Portland, is nicely established at the Dickey home, also on the Boulevard.
 Dedication of Normal—
 Preparations are being made and plans maturing rapidly looking toward the dedication, June 26, of the State Normal School at Ashland. Dr. Henry Russallo of the University of Washington has been secured as principal speaker for the momentous occasion.

Following a period of community singing, Miss Lillian Schooler, of the National Amateur Athletic Federation, spoke on athletics for girls. She asked that the keynote in an athletic program for girls be physical training, not physical training. Let the program (1) build up athletics for girls as girls, adopting girl rules for basket ball; (2) eliminate team play, making it possible for all girls to participate; (3) intramural.
