A Program At Assembly—
 Wednesday evening at 8:45 a program of more than passing interest was given during assembly period at the Normal.
 Mr. Greenleaf, who is well known in the valley, occupied the hour in presenting "Hallelujah" to the students and others who attended.
 Had it been generally known, doubtless there would have been many more students at school present to enjoy the treat.
 The announcement was made at the banquet Saturday evening that at the assembly period there would often be interesting speakers and varied programs, to which the public was cordially invited. These sessions will be given in have the advance notice of any attraction offered, so the announcement may be made in time for any who wish to attend.

Excellent Program Presented—
 An excellent program was given at the Methodist church Tuesday evening, under the auspices of the Epworth League, in which Mr. H. P. Campbell presented many of his poems to the great delight of his auditors.
 Mr. Campbell's ability as a reader is unquestioned and his poems show marked ability, and are especially favorites with Ashland audiences. Humor and pathos a keen insight in human nature and his happy fashion in picturing his characters are some of the distinguishing features of his delightful poems.
 Those who attended enjoyed a hour of unalloyed pleasure.
Recital at Presbyterian Church—
 Miss Imogene Wallace will present her piano pupils in recital at the parlors of the Presbyterian church, Thursday evening at 7:45.
 The pupils will be heard in piano solos and in duets. Many playing from memory.
 Parents and friends of the pupils are cordially invited to be present Thursday evening to enjoy the program with the children.
A Family Home Wedding—
 A marriage of more than usual interest occurred Tuesday, June twenty-ninth, at 11:00 o'clock at the home of the bride, near Talent, when Miss Edith Mary Robinson and Mr. Sumner C. Getter were united in the holy bands of matrimony, the Rev. B.

F. Lawrence of the First Presbyterian church of Medford, officiating clergyman.
 It was a quiet home wedding, with none but the immediate relatives present.
 Promptly at the hour, bride and bridegroom, attended by the father of the bride, took their places in the archway, with beautiful baskets of gladness on either side giving a rich tone of color to the scene. The Rev. Lawrence read the impressive service and the vows were spoken that made them man and wife.
 Very lovely was the bride, groomed in soft white crepe de chine with the deft veil caught to place by pale blue forget-me-nots, and falling softly to the hem of the gown. Fears were worn and an arm bouquet of pink and white carnations and delicate forget-me-nots was carried during the ceremony.
 After congratulations were offered, a delightful luncheon was served the wedding party.
 Pink and white carnations were used effectively in decoration and the wedding cake was an artistic creation, with a tiny bride and groom adorning it. The pretty appropriate place cards added a dainty touch to the festal board.
 The happy couple left very soon after luncheon, with Mr. and Mrs. H. Getter, for Portland, where they will make their future home.
 Miss Robinson is the daughter of Mr. W. W. Robinson, now of near Talent but for a number of years of Ashland. She was prominently identified in high school, church and social activities, and will be missed greatly by a large circle of friends.
 Mr. Getter is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Getter of Portland and is a splendid young man. Both Mr. and Mrs. Getter are graduates of the Bible Institute of Los Angeles, Mr. Getter graduating last year and Mrs. Getter finishing this year.
 To them are offered the best of good wishes for a happy, helpful, prosperous life.
 Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. H. Getter, of Portland, Mr. and Mrs. George Pegg, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Robinson, Miss Bertha Robinson, Cecil Robinson, Virginia Herbst, and the bride and bridegroom, Mr. and Mrs. Sumner C. Getter.
Methodist Party for East Boulevard, Jr.—
 Saturday afternoon a group of little youngsters gathered in the Ashland park at the invitation of Mrs. Henry Reid to help little Carl Loveland, Jr., celebrate his sixth birthday.
 After a jolly afternoon in the playground the children were served ice cream and birthday cake, the cake having been made by Mrs. Charles Brady.
 The guests of little Carl were: Donald McWilliams, Jane Sugg, Darrell Sleaf, Mark Smith, Martha Sleaf, Lily Seelitz, Billy Elhart, Martin Herrin, John Pemberton, Margaret Pemberton, Philip Pemberton, Ethel Stanton, Jamie McNair, Billy Fraley, Billy Pendleton, Mark Ellis, Jean Fridagar, Buddie Silver, Frank Swan, Bobbie Furrier, Maxine Erickson, Francis Miller, Mrs. Harden, Agnes Miller, Morris Corby Jeannette Hastings, Shirley Enders, Patsey and Jr. Powell and little Miss Peggy Julia Silver.
Club Improvement Club Meets—
 At a recent official board meeting of the Women's Civic Improvement Club of Ashland it was decided to meet as usual, every first and third Tuesday of each month during the summer.
 That will give opportunity for the transmittal of any business and also provides a pleasant social afternoon for the club members who are in town and for any one who wishes to attend.
 Strangers are particularly invited and welcomed at these meetings.
 On Tuesday, July 6, is the first of the summer sessions. It is hoped that there will be a good attendance.
Madame Ade Meets—
 The Ladies Aid of the Presbyterian church holds its regular meeting Friday of this week at the church. The sessions have been very frequent recently because of the renovation of the manse, with the members, with the assistance of the Wednesday Club, have undertaken.

It is now completed, and they are justly proud of their work, which meant weeks of effort and the expenditure of nearly three hundred dollars.
 They feel appreciation of the help that they have received from a number of sources in the accomplishment of the work.
Art Club Meets—
 A picnic supper marked the last meeting of the Art Club for this season. Those attending were the members of the club and their families, making a large number gathered around the tables to partake of the delicious provisions.
 The meeting was a purely social one, and in the pleasant talk about the month table, time passed off quickly.
 September will see the club membership reassemble for the fortnightly gatherings.
 Until recently the club held its sessions in the Civic Club house, but more recently have met at the homes of the members.
 The officers for the coming year are: Mrs. Clifton Baughman, president; Mrs. Louis Schweid, vice-president; Mrs. Sam McNeil, treasurer and Mrs. Harry Sackett, secretary.
Of Interest to Friends—
 Friends of Miss Grace H. Chamberlain and Miss Elizabeth Palmer will be rejoiced to learn that they have returned to their home in Ashland. They came sooner than they expected because of the intense heat in Red Bluff, which registered at times 114 degrees and we melted at night.
 Miss Palmer is quite well considering how badly she was injured but is still troubled from the terrible experience. Miss Chamberlain's strict orders is not permitted to see her friends for a time; absolute quiet being entailed because of the nature of her injury.
 Both will be happy to receive their friends as soon as the physician's orders permit.
 They have enjoyed the message from their friends and trust it will not be many weeks until they may see them.
Surprise for Mrs. Elizabeth Van Sant—
 A delightful surprise, which assumed the guise of a handkerchief shower was given Monday evening by the Past Matrons' Club whose membership and the worthy Matron and other officers of Alpha Chapter were guests.
 It was a real surprise, for the honored guest had not an inkling of the affair. Mrs. Eugenia Atkinson had been asked to call to spend the evening so that Mrs. Van Sant would be sure to be home.
 The friends met at the home of Miss McCall, and approached so silently that until they were admitted Mrs. Van Sant did not dream of the pleasant plan of the club.
 An evening spent in pleasant, friendly chat, with superb and delicious cakes served at its close, passed all too quickly. A happy feature of the evening was the handkerchief shower, a token of the strong friendship felt for the hostess by those present.
 For years, many of them, Mrs. Van Sant has been the champion of Alpha Chapter No. 1, O. E. S. and her going away is a matter of universal regret, not only by the members of Alpha Chapter, but by every organization to which she gives such loyal, whole-hearted service and hosts of friends will feel it as a personal loss to them and a great loss to the community.
 It is hoped that she and Mrs. Mary Dunn, her mother, will return soon to Ashland. Mrs. Van Sant is going to make her home in Portland for a time and has rented her beautiful home during her absence.
 She will leave soon for the northern city.
Floral Society Meets—
 Ashland Floral Society will meet Thursday evening, July 2, at 8:00 o'clock at the Public Library.
 The change of date is made because the regular meeting would fall on July 3 and every one would wish to be enthusiastic and engaged that evening.
 The purpose of the women is to further formulate plans for the Flower Show, which the organization is sponsoring.

Leghorn Hat
 A very smart leghorn hat is a bold of color and was made with only draped around the crown. The trim was in black, it lined with the same material.
Women's Foreign Missionary Society Meets—
 Mrs. C. F. Tilton is hostess at the meeting of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society of the Methodist church, Friday, July 2, convening at two o'clock.
 "The Lord's Song in a Strange Land" is the topic, with Mrs. Tilton leader. All the membership and very one interested, invited.
W. R. C. Social—
 Mrs. James Boyd was hostess Monday afternoon, entertaining the membership of the Women's Relief Corps and, as their guests, a number of the old soldiers, members of the G. A. R.
 There were between 35 and forty present to enjoy the afternoon at Mrs. Boyd's hospitable home. The time was largely spent in visiting but Mrs. Elizabeth Reid played a number of selections and the entire group sang America.
 Ice cream, water and punch were served at the close of the pleasant social hour.
 Mrs. Boyd was assisted in serving by Mrs. Nellie Peters, Mrs. Virginia Shaw, Mrs. Elizabeth Reid, and Mrs. Anna Robinson, two of the ladies presiding at the punch bowl.
 House guests of the hostess were special guests for the afternoon.
Study Club Has Picnic—
 The Ashland Study Club enjoyed its June picnic Monday evening of this week.
 The supper hour was set for six o'clock, but the membership convened before that time of hold a short business session and to discuss the work planned for the coming year.
 At the business session, the resignation of Mrs. D. Peroni was accepted and Mrs. J. R. Robertson elected to fill the vacancy.
 The real business of the meeting now began, in the enjoyment of a most satisfying repast provided by the membership present, who lingered long in pleasant chat at the table, nor did the company part until lengthening shadows were warning the day was done.
 Book reviews and a part of the program devoted to the study of parliamentary usage constitute part of the plans for the year's study.
 The new officers are: Mrs. W. M. Peley, president; Mrs. F. G. Swedburg, vice-president, and Mrs. J. R. Robertson, secretary and treasurer.
Valley View Community Club Meets—
 Mrs. C. W. Glasgow was hostess at the recent meeting of the Valley View Community Club. Mrs. Wm. Glenn assisting, honoring Mrs. sub-guest president, Mrs. Stratton.
 A delicious buffet luncheon was served on the lawn, which, with the delightful social afternoon, all present enjoyed immensely.
 There were at least forty there, with a number of visitors from Talent.
 The officers for the coming year are: Mrs. Mabel Reaschard, president; Mrs. Stella Morse, vice-president, and Mrs. Wm. Glenn, secretary and treasurer.
 This club became a member of the civic federation last year and followed a well planned course of study in its program.
 Fruits were studied, particularly the peach which was grown in this section and for the literary hour, book reviews, literature, and discussion of new ideas and a wide range of interesting subjects presented at the meeting.

 Much thought will be given the club program plans for next year as announcements will be made later.
 Both in this year's work and for the coming one the social part had and will have its place. Community affairs are given at frequent intervals.
Mrs. V. V. Mills Entertains—
 Mrs. V. V. Mills was hostess at a very attractive afternoon, honoring the engagement of Miss Florence Hollmeyer to Mr. George Conover Wednesday, June the thirtieth.
 She was assisted by Mrs. Donalino Provet, Mrs. Earl Crow, Mrs. Clyde Malone, and Mrs. Stanley Robinson.
 The early part of the afternoon was spent in a very cleverly arranged game, in this, questions were distributed, typewritten questions to be answered by each one. On one list distributed the heading written was "The Proposals and the Man," and on the second list, "My Idea of a Proposal and Engagement."
 These questionnaires were filled out by the guests. Much amusement resulted, when the bright and witty papers were read, for in them the authors and artists had illustrated their stories. The afternoon passed in this and other amusements most happily.
 Each one had brought to the complimented guest her favorite recipe and household suggestion and for these Miss Hollmeyer was given a pretty card index case in which to keep them.
 Mrs. Clara Beebe received the prize in a game played.
 A pretty feature of the first entertainment of the afternoon was the artistry displayed in displaying the pencils with which the guests were supplied. These were arranged in a basket and had the appearance of a daintily arranged nosegay for attached to each pencil was the loveliest little nosegay surrounded with gold lace and the pencil itself gilded. The flowers in pastel shades, carrying out the color scheme, which was pink and blue. No one suspected the contents of the basket until passed.
 In the dining room, candles were disposed effectively about the room and in the center of the table was a silver basket, with knives down in which were pink and blue streamers and in baskets of the corners were gracefully arranged all pink hollyhocks and blue hydrangeas.

 Mrs. Clyde Malone presided and Mrs. Donalino Provet sat the ice cream which was served on a long platter, upon which were placed three pink hollyhocks a pretty touch.
 About thirty of the younger set enjoyed this delightful hospital-ity.
 Miss Robinson and Mr. Conover were dinner guests in the evening and they, with their host and hostess later attended the birthday dance, in the park.
 Through the courtesy of the hostess it is permitted to publish one of the clever little stories written during the afternoon.
 "We met with a good brick about beneath a nutty teacher's rule. I thought at first he was a prano but changed my mind by light of moon.
 "I'll be become a man, we waited Then, we knew that we were fated.
 And then he asserted, "Be my wife."
 I grabbed him quickly—let your life.
 But said "She costs a lot of dollars!"
 "I won't be there when the feller hollars."
 Mother said "Shes off our hands."
 We shook wry wry where she lauds."
 The happy outcast had a fly— The man had his faults as well as I.
 I hardly like for better half,
 A man who didn't like a bath.
 But still he spends his dollars
 frog—
 So what's a bath to you or me."
 This was cleverly illustrated, a picture being used for a word in each line.

Parent-Teacher Notes
 We are "keeping fit" for our positions as leaders of little children, for the wonderful opportunities that are ours to walk and talk and lead and direct the precious lives that are entrusted to our care and that are the "wax to impress and the marble to retain," by studying the right kind of books, and associating with the children themselves? Where will "a little child lead us?" To God's great outdoors, with a little lunch basket, to the river, woods or park, there to watch Nature, to hear the birds twitter as they feed their young, to listen to the babbling brook or water-fall, or to have the pleasure of picking flowers. These are memories well
