WILL ATTEND RAILROAD PAGEANT

ASTORIA, Ore., July 21.—The "Trail to Rail" Pageant and celebration to be held here August 11-13 to give state wide recognition of another milestone in the historic record of Oregon's development marking the completion of the Southern Pacific's $80 million Neirion Cut-Off over the Cascade Mountains, is fast developing into a definite program.

State, city and railroad officials with representatives of the Interstate Commerce Commission will participate in the two day pageant which includes a pageant of transportation, pageant of industry, pageant of agriculture, pageant of commerce, pageant of sports and pageant of music.

The pageant, planned by the state university, will depict the growth of the Indian and the coming of the white man and the railroad. The theme of the pageant will have an Oregon setting.

A cast of more than 3,000 people will be included in the pageant which will be presented three evenings at Hayward Field, the university athletic ground. Mrs. Dotie Smith of Portland, author of the scenario, will direct the production of the pageant. A large stage with forest background is now being constructed on the present in which a show of 100 or 200 voices will take place.

It is expected that the pageant will be one of the most important events in the celebration which will include more than 50 pageant Oregon residents whose average is over 60 years. Many will be aged marshall and will have served in the past.

A feature of the program will be a pioneer parade, consisting of a method of transportation known to man since the invention of the wheel was first used as a method of transportation. Indian pole traps, goat, man, horse, covered wagon, stage coach, railroads, bus, motor car, airplane, motor truck, motor bus, motor coach, motor cycle, motor boat, motor ship, motor plane and motor car.

The parade will be a pageant of the pioneer life and the Klondike era. It is expected that the pageant will be one of the most important events in the celebration which will include more than 50 pageant Oregon residents whose average is over 60 years.

ARMOUR THOUGHT JUNE SELLS FOR $100,000

LONDON, (UP)—Russian armor, formerly chased by the Soviet regime as "junk," is rapidly changing hands here at as high as $100,000.

The collection was formerly part of that belonging to a Russian Prince and was taken from his castle during the revolution. It had been there since the 16th Century.

Among other recent sales of antiquities here were a 16th Century German suit of bright steel, $5,000; a German Renaissance breastplate of plate iron, $1,000 and a 16th Century German breastplate of plate iron, $1,000.
