House Guests Entertained—
 Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Conway of Los Angeles, Calif., have been the house guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Butler on Granite street for the past week and during that time a number of pleasant affairs have been given in compliment to them.
 On Wednesday evening, last, Mr. and Mrs. Conway were host and hostess at a delightful dinner served at the Lithia Springs hotel, with covers laid for Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Conway, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Briggs, and Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Butler.
 On Thursday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Butler entertained at dinner at the Lithia Springs hotel, with Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Conway, Mr. and Mrs. George Barron guests for dinner and the pleasant evening which followed.
 Saturday last, Dr. and Mrs. J. D. Rickert were host and hostess at dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Conway, with Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Butler, complimented guests for dinner and for the club dance later in the evening.
 On Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Conway entertained Mr. and Mrs. Butler and Dr. and Mrs. J. D. Rickert at the Hotel Medford; later Dr. Rickert was host for the dinner guests at a theatre party at the Craterian.
 Mr. and Mrs. Homer Barron entertained at a most attractive dinner, Thursday last, honoring the house guests at the Butler home, with covers laid for Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Conway, Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Butler, George Francis Barron and Miss Isabella Barron, now Mrs. Paul McCracken, who had come home for a short vacation visit from San Francisco, where she has been on the Pantages circuit.
 Mr. and Mrs. Conway are very well remembered in Ashland for they lived here for some little time. Mr. Conway was a contractor and builder and many of the bungalows erected in 1916-1917 were planned by him.
 Mrs. Conway is an especially gifted woman; many will recall in musical circles the pleasure she gave with her voice.
Home Missionary Society Meets—
 The Home Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal church will hold its regular monthly meeting, Friday, August 13, at the home of Mrs. Frank Bess at 501 Hillison street.
 The program will be one of interest. It is a varied one, taken from the Missionary magazine and will be led by Mrs. George Allen.
 All the membership is urged to come to this meeting.
Mrs. L. J. Eder Entertains—
 Mrs. L. J. Eder entertained a group of friends Friday at midday, at a two course dinner, with yellow margarine used as a condiment, and the yellow of the margarine carried out in decor-route, see Klamath Falls and a dozen other scenic outings, filling her home with pleasure and giving her pictures of Southern Oregon, which she will take out of her cabinet at various times in the days to come.

 Mrs. Eder expressed herself delighted with her visit and the wonderful trips she enjoyed while here.
To Be Entertained at Lake O' Woods—
 Mr. and Mrs. Louis Dodge are expecting Mr. and Mrs. Clark Bush of Long Beach, Saturday, of this week to spend the vacation, as their guests at the Dodge cottage at Lake of the Woods.
 The day following their arrival, Mr. and Mrs. Dodge, family and guests will go out to the lake for a real rest, but there will be recreation, too, spent with the summer colony in the happy fashion of those who sojourn there.
 Mr. and Mrs. Bush will be welcomed by many friends in Ashland for they were former residents and their removal to the California city a matter of real regret.
W. R. C. Hold Social—
 The W. R. C. will hold another of their enjoyable socials next Monday afternoon in the Park. The place of meeting will be in the park nearest the city and not in the picnic grounds as is the usual place of picnic affairs.
 Assistant hostesses are in charge, with Mrs. Alma Staunett, chairman; others on the committee Mrs. Belle Schwinn, Mrs. Nellie Sheppard, Mrs. Frank, Mrs. Wenner, Mrs. Hattie Walker, Mrs. Wolcott, Mrs. W. J. Wallace, Mrs. Maude White and Mrs. Alice Turner.
 It is expected that there will be a large attendance, since the picnic feature in having it in the park, with its excellent program and delightful refreshments is quite appealing.
Picnic for Neighbors of Woodcraft—
 A delightful picnic is planned for the Neighbors of Woodcraft and their families. This is arranged for Monday evening, August 18, in Lithia Park at 6:00 o'clock.
 Every one is to bring a well filled basket. Coffee, cream and sugar will be furnished.
 After the feast, the company will adjourn to the hall, where the membership will attend the regular lodge meeting, which occurs that evening.
 All the membership with their families are cordially invited to be present.
W. C. T. U. Have Meeting—
 Mrs. Will Davis presided at the business hour of Tuesday's meeting of the W. C. T. U., which opened the regular session.
 Devotionals were conducted by Mrs. A. H. Russell and Miss Benedict.
 During the program hour, interesting reminiscences of the experience of those who conducted the earlier meetings and stories of letters from Frances E. Willard were told by Mrs. Russell who was one of the pioneer members of the organization.
 The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Howard on Greenham street the third Tuesday of the month and at this meeting the question of officers will take place.
 Those who serve on the nominating committee are: Mrs. Howard, Mrs. C. W. Fraley and Miss May Benedict.
Picnic Thursday Evening—
 This (Thursday) evening there will be a picnic by the members of the Nazarene church and the Sunday school in the Lithia Park. Each is to bring a well filled basket for the supper which will be served at six. There will be a social time afterwards.

 It is planned as a get acquainted meeting and really is a reception to the newly arrived minister and his wife, the Rev. and Mrs. Thatcher.
Lecture Friday—
 Another lecture will be given Friday at the home of Mrs. Charles Strell in the Klamath street. The season begins at 8:00 o'clock and is an illustrated talk given by Miss Martha M. Spensker.
 Every one interested is invited to the meeting.
An Unusual Meeting—
 Sunday evening's meeting of the B. Y. P. U. planned a contest in which sides were chosen, and two races represented.
 Appropriate costumes were worn and interest ran high in the match, and the quick answers showed splendid preparation on the part of the young folks.
Wins in Essay Contest—
 Some time ago the Southern Pacific Bulletin conducted a "Courtesy Essay Contest." This has now closed. There were 571 essays submitted from the fifteen Divisions represented.
 Grand prizes were given and first and second prizes in the different Divisions. A number of University presidents with the editor of the Bulletin acted as judges in the contest. They were Dr. W. J. Kerr, Oregon Agricultural College; Dr. W. W. Campbell, University of California; Dr. Cloyd H. Marvin, University of Arizona; Dr. David S. Hill, University of New Mexico; Dr. Geo. Thomas, University of Utah and Dr. Maxwell Adams vice-president of University of Nevada.
 There were twenty-eight contestants in the Shasta Division, and of these, J. H. Turner, of Ashland, Southern Pacific passenger conductor won the first prize.
 It is a pleasure and privilege to publish the essay in full.
 "Courtesy, in a finer sense, acts of kindness, brings a reward to those who confer these favors along the journey of life.
 "Courtesy should come of a natural desire to benefit those we meet.
 "A conductor's position affords opportunities to lighten the burdens of many weary souls.
 "Courtesy is either natural or acquired. The natural comes from the spirit of the Master. The acquired is a veneer that is so shallow it deceives very few.
 "How can you obtain the natural? Simply by forgetting yourself and studying the pleasure of others. Realize that, instead of just trying to get by, you are obligated to extend a helping hand to the ill, the aged and infirm, the mother with her brood, and the timid making their first railroad journey. Knowing you have brought comfort to these will produce self satisfaction, broaden and better fit you for the future.
 "Courtesy is due even to the haughty, callous nature that does not respond to kindly action.
 "True courtesy leaves cause for reflection and may at some future time help such personalities to respond and reach out for companionship, thereby furthering the Fatherhood of God and the Brotherhood of man.

 "Courtesy from officials brings respect and more efficient from employees, helps them to advancement and better things.
 "Then let us in our demeanor convey an inward feeling of kindness, for to courtesy, that precious gift of gentle mannerism, will be due in a great measure our value wherever our duties lie."
 Note—
 It is hoped that later the essay of Miss Jessie Wade, a ticket clerk at Oakland Pier may be secured, a short essay of perhaps two hundred words yet it won the grand prize offered.
 Those winning second and third places in Shasta Division were N. E. Beaughan, Dunsmuir and Chas. J. Brady, passenger conductor, Ashland.

BROKEN CHILDREN
 (Address delivered by Miss Camille Kelly at National Conventions)
 If we could think of broken children and safeguard against the breaking of those now whole we would conquer most of the sin and much of the sorrow of this universe.
 In what better hands could the healing of mankind be, than in the hands of the mothers of the country? God has given us the very first responsibility with the child and may in fraternal sympathy we stand ready to carry on. After all it is the mother who gives the child life and her first morsel of food stimulates his first step, teaches him his first saying prayer and breathes into his heart the undimmed light of life as against wrong.
 Let us divide our subject into three parts. Children become broken—physically, mentally and spiritually. We will consider moral and spiritual as due at this time. Children become physically broken from disease, undernourishment, poverty and inherited taint.
 Lightly touching these subjects, we will take first, disease. Many of our children get a late start in school or a handicapped physical condition keeps them from running the race of life evenly. We believe that Dr. Hoke of Atlanta is doing a great deal toward giving the crippled child a chance and everywhere we find the dark places becoming bright because of earnest workers. Undernourished children soon become broken. Poverty, panishment, thereby furthering the Fatherhood of God and the Brotherhood of man.
 "Courtesy from officials brings respect and more efficient from employees, helps them to advancement and better things.
 "Then let us in our demeanor convey an inward feeling of kindness, for to courtesy, that precious gift of gentle mannerism, will be due in a great measure our value wherever our duties lie."
 Note—
 It is hoped that later the essay of Miss Jessie Wade, a ticket clerk at Oakland Pier may be secured, a short essay of perhaps two hundred words yet it won the grand prize offered.
 Those winning second and third places in Shasta Division were N. E. Beaughan, Dunsmuir and Chas. J. Brady, passenger conductor, Ashland.

any breaks the substance of a community to a great degree. We need a sure grip not only upon those who are broken but upon the broken themselves.
 Inherited Taint—This is one of the most insidious causes of broken children. Blind children, warped mentalities, distorted bodies and unhappy hearts. The grossness of inherited taint and the hereditary responsibilities are too well known to require amplification at this time. Inherited drunkenness, the similar vices and indulgences, are too familiar to every social worker. "As a cause" to desire more than mention.
 We will just consider for a moment the things our great mother civilization has already done on the preventive side of the physically broken child to keep other children from being broken. We have day camps, well staffed and well equipped, visiting teachers, social service teams for children, to supply their clothing, car fare, lunches, etc., rest rooms, first aid, physical training, lunch rooms and playgrounds. Where the boards of education have been instrumental in placing these advantages in the schools it has been because of the work of the Parent-Teacher Association, and later the educational board have caught the vision and acted.
 This is almost invariably true.
 Then comes our mentally broken child. This is a more difficult problem to handle than the physically broken. The feeble-minded or the sub-normal child is not able to cope with others and is often led into evil, punished or embarrassed when a different setting and environment would have saved them from destruction. Often hand-training makes a good citizen of a sub-normal child where scholastic attainments ment is not only impossible but the struggle brings unhappiness or nervousness.

 The proper treatment of these children is under classification. There are above a hundred classes, to be broken because there is no provision made in our social systems for the over-bright mind. I have known many cases of children, who, having learned their lessons with ease, will get into mischief because of idleness when if we prepared rooms for the super-intelligent as we do for the sub-normal we would not only save these children but educate leading in every line to take after the better of the world. There are our "ten talent" children and we recognize that we are equally responsible for their production. If we save the crippled, the sub-normal, and the defective all along the line and neglect our super-child, what will the past generation be?

 Note: It would be illegal to publish these statements if not true.
 W. J. Vague, Banker, Valley Park, Mo., says: "Two days before my fatal hemorrhage, I had a home treatment by using which my blood began to flow. Twenty-four hours from first application of Herbal-Quadruple I felt relief, and in forty-eight hours restored to my normal condition. In three weeks, the side has vanished and the rest is beyond expression. You might see of this and I will gladly answer all questions."
