Six-Foot Shark

Struck by Ferry
ASTORIA, Ore., Aug. 12.—A six-foot shark, slither ruler of the sea but a luckless creature in fresh water, ventured "out of bounds" here recently and was struck by a ferry boat in the Columbia river. Injured, the shark was dragged ashore and slain. Local fishermen said it was the first time a "sea tiger" of its size had been captured here.

GRAND OF THANKS

We wish to thank our many friends and neighbors for their kindness during our last bereavement and the loss of our dear son and brother Harold. We also wish to thank the ministers who spoke such comforting words, and especially the six boy friends who served as pall bearers, and those who sent so many beautiful flowers.
Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Kincaid and Family.

Teachers Deserve Higher Salaries

PALO ALTO, Cal., Aug. 12.—Until public schools pay high enough salaries to attract men teachers in the right numbers, America will continue to face the problem of the "vocational vanguard," says Dean Elmer Shortt of the University of Arizona, in an address here.

MOORE
Ella Cinders, the kitchen slave, becomes a movie vamp — she learned all about grease spots from the kitchen pots — but grease paint — that was different! She knew how to warn up an Irish stew, but it took the movies to teach her how to tempt an iceman's heart.
