Epworth League
The topic for next Sunday is "Louis Pasteur—Pioneer in Preventative Medicine."

Pasteur was a tanner by trade, but through the efforts of his father, he attended the small college of Arbois. While here, he heard lectures on chemistry by Dumas, a noted chemist. He soon made up his mind to devote his life to research in the field of chemistry.

His first experiments dealt with the formations of crystals. While studying these, he observed the process of fermentation and consequently became intensely interested in these organisms. This led to his accomplished task of perfected inoculation. Nadine Swenning is the leader for the evening.

It will be well worth your time to be present as the church service next Sunday night. The Epworth League has charge of the service. The pageant "The Fruits of Peace" will be the feature of the evening.

Anyone not a member of the League may get their publication "The Epworthian" every week by phoning the editor at 294-R. It is ten cents a month.

Crops This Year Will Be Average

WASHINGTON, (UP)—Farmers will produce average sized crops for food and feed crops this year despite unfavorable weather conditions that handicapped growth in the spring, the Agriculture Department forecasts.

Had weather conditions, been favorable to the agriculture industry, bumper crops would have been harvested this year, however. The corn, hay and oat crops are below average.

Planters sowed more potatoes and holidays. The public is cordially invited to attend these services.

this year than usual because of the backward season the crop of spuds will not be extra heavy. With a production of 15,000,000 bales of cotton forecast, there will be a surplus of this crop.

"One of the significant effects of this season's development is likely to be in the corn belt," the department stated. "A corn crop above average or slightly less will almost certainly be followed by a readjustment in the familiar balance between corn and hogs. If history repeats itself, pig production will be increased and the relative price effect next year will be in the direction of lower hogs and higher corn."

Wheat producers stand to make fully as large a gross income from their crop this year as last, the department estimated. The winter wheat crop is exceptionally heavy and the spring wheat production is forecast at somewhat less than the crop of 1925.

Baker—Two tons of ore from near old Basin mine returned $1,500.

Eugene—Fruit growers canery starts on pears; to handle 600 tons this season.

Portland—Pacific Car and Foundry Company completes 1,000 refrigerator cars for Pacific Fruit Express, costing $3,130,000.
