Faithful Parent Ends Vigil When Called by Death

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 16.—For perhaps a dozen years a broken little old man was a familiar figure at the post office where he called several times a day, asking if a letter had arrived for John Fahey. But there was no letter. He was expecting to hear from his only daughter who disappeared. After awhile, his mind broke down but still he came. How he lived nobody knew. Then he suddenly stopped coming. Kindly men at the postoffice made inquiries. They found him dead in a little houseboat.
