DEMPESEY LOOKS TO BE IN GOOD SHAPE

BY HERBERT L. PARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)
NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—(UP)—Jack Dempsey's biggest concern as he prepares himself for his fight with Gene Tunney on the next defense of his title against any opponent will be to find out how much has been taken out of his weapons by three years of idleness.

In training he can find out how good his wild is and correct any deficiency by proper exercise and diet. He can find out how strong his legs are and do more roadwork if he thinks he hasn't the proper strength. He can improve his speed and his boxing by sparring with fast and shifty partners.

But there is no way for him to recover any lost mental spark, the thing called coordination which makes the hand and foot respond to the eye and the brain automatically.

All the work he could do in the gymnasium or the training camp would not improve an eye that was one-thousandth of the second slow because the best of sparring partners are not good enough to give him the real test or they would not be sparring partners.

Not many critics give Tunney a big chance if he meets Dempsey. They admit that Tunney is younger but they do not class him as a killing puncher. They admit that the long absence from the ring may have impaired Dempsey's speed, eye and boxing but they refer to the Carpenter and Firpo fights as proof that Dempsey can take it even no matter how many times Tunney hits him.

But, if memory serves correct-

Taking a Shot at the Tide

Miss Aloha Porter, of Venice, Calif., is "Miss California" for 1926 and will compete in the national tournament at Atlantic City. This shows her getting out her bow and arrow—competing with Cupid, or just taking a shot at the tide?

ly, Dempsey was hit by Carpenter and Firpo when he was stepping back or rolling with the punch. He didn't have to take the double force that a boxer gets when he steps into a punch or "runs into one" as the boxers put it.

Dempsey looked to be in almost perfect condition when he came to New York and seemed to be within a few pounds of fighting weight. He had speed in the ring and a punch on the bars.

But, some very good trainers pointed out that you can't tell about the inside. They still point out that doctors who looked over Jim Jeffries before he fought and lost to Jack Johnson said that he was fat inside and couldn't last long under punches to the body.

Tunney no doubt has figured for some time that his chance for victory rested on an attack to the body, based perhaps on the belief that Dempsey would be hurt more inside by his long absence from the ring.

Before Dempsey went to his training camp, some friends in New York gave him the laugh when he said he was not taking Tunney lightly.

"Explain, if you can," one of them said, "how you can lose unless you're in such bad shape that you collapse from your own exertion. Tunney can't hurt you—"

"Listen," Dempsey interrupted. "any man can be hurt if he's hit in the right spot, and I've got just as many right spots as any other champion."

LONGER SKIRTS TO RULE THIS WINTER

By HEDDA HOYT
(Written for the United Press)
NEW YORK (United Press).—Kneecaps, like the Marines, have had a chance to see the world! Their sight seeing tour is nearing its finish though, and as this may seem to those who have taken a keen delight in watching knee sockets cavort on byways and highways throughout the world.

Of course, legs won't suddenly depart from fashion but skirts will gradually come downwards. Several smart gown designers in Paris are already sponsoring dresses which come three inches below the knees. In New York, especially on Broadway, the knee is not the skirt limit and many Misses wear dresses which extend two inches above the knees.

The short skirt vogue has taught us that legs are merely legs after all. Very seldom do we see a pair which knock us out of our feet with their shapeliness. Legs are slender or plump, long or short, and that's all. From a rear view sixty-year-olds look like flappers if the legs are encased in silk and the heels are high. In fact, older women often have more shapely legs than do the youngsters. One simply can't get excited over a pretty leg these days when every woman seems to have them.

Those who possess well-turned-out shin-bones are out of luck for they don't get much credit. Perhaps Dame Fashion is planning on concealing our knees in order to bring before an American girl the vogue of the "pencil" leg.

Up in New York where the colored element holds sway, the "pencil" legs have long since ceased to excite any enthusiasm so the dusky belles have taken to going bare legged as a special inducement. Those who are not quite so dusky have lovely parchment-colored legs which can't be distinguished from stockings.

In the residence district of upper Broadway white girls are also going stockingless but the nude effect is not quite so alluring since plunkish legs are not in keeping with tannish hosiery shades.

The time is coming when women will devote less time to following their mother portions and they turn from exposed boyishness to more modest feminine styles where swishing skirts, slimline figures and trills will triumphantly. Gradually, very gradually, the wheels of fashion get back to their starting point.

MODERN GRANDMOTHER
LONDON (United Press).—A one-day's search by a London newspaper for the old fashioned grandmother who is usually pictured as sitting quietly darning six by the fireside, has failed completely. The inquirer compiled a list of seven grandmothers and then set out to find out what they were doing.

No. 1 was in Paris buying her frocks.

No. 2 had recently acquired a two-seater sports automobile and had driven up into the Midlands to see her son's sons.

No. 3 had gone into the country to make a political speech in her son's constituency.

No. 4 had gone to a matinee.

No. 5 was out buying some new valves for the radio set.

No. 6 was out getting her hair shingled.

No. 7 had gone to a tea dance at a big hotel.
