YOU CAN'T BE LOYAL TO TWO COUNTRIES

The Good Book says that one cannot serve two masters. By the same token one cannot hold sincere allegiance to two countries—he cannot hold aloft two flags and be loyal to both at the same time. One or the other must ride at the top of the mast. Loyalty is an attribute akin to godliness. Treason is the outward expression of ingratitude.

President Coolidge says that the greatest danger to our government today lies among those who are here, but who are unassimilated in heart and spirit, and whose greater love is still for the foreign lands they left to better their condition in the United States.

"It is not unnatural, nor even cause for criticism, that a person coming to the United States from some foreign country, should retain a certain degree of love for the land of his birth. All criticism of the United States descended from foreign lands, and there is no disrespect in this. We love to trace our ancestry back to the Pilgrim Fathers, and even beyond. But there is a limit to ancestral boastfulness.

"Marital vows remove a young man or a young woman from the parental home, and a new home is chosen. This does not mean that love and respect for the old home should be obliterated; but it does mean that a new altar has been erected—a new hearthstone built and dedicated to a new life, and this is the altar and this is the hearthstone that demands loyalty above all others.

"So it is with the country of one's adoption. No man ever came to the United States of America except of his own volition, urged by a desire to obtain greater temporal blessings. The highways of the seas are never closed against his return, if he finds himself unhappy under the laws and under the Constitution of this country.

"Loyalty to God, to country, to home and to one's self commands confidence of others and bespeaks good citizenship."

IF YOU ORDER THE MEAL, PAY YOUR CHECK

The Colorado Tax Commission recently made a thorough study of the taxation situation in that state. Following is an excerpt from its report:

"Eliminating educational and road funds, of every dollar raised by general property taxation, less than seven cents goes to the state. The other 93 cents is for home consumption, and is raised and spent by the local officials elected by the people for that purpose. And they in turn spend the money, as directed by the people who vote on themselves at last 93 per cent of the taxes which they pay.

"Communities, as a rule, vote freely; but when the bill is presented in the shape of an increased tax, it seems to be lost sight of that these things were ordered by themselves."

THE HAND OF POLITICS ON MUSCLE SHOALS

Politics has been played with Muscle Shoals for a long time while industry and Southern states suffered.

Now President Crosby, of the Mississippi Development Association, advises the business men of Mississippi to unite in a campaign to secure manufacturing expansion in the state, with a view of getting a sufficient number of industries established, to obtain the very best power rates that will be available.

Mr. Crosby favors the bid of the Consolidated Power Companies, because they already have the distributing systems to cover the Southern states affected.

If the hand of politics can ever be wrested from this great Southern resource, and private enterprise be given a chance to develop it, millions for new industries will flow into the states interested.

Mr. Crosby's program for industrial development will encourage electrical development.

The world's all right, after all. Another holiday will be due a week from today.

Don't forget to vote Wednesday. It means better streets for Ashland.

STEWART'S WASHINGTON LETTER

WASHINGTON—"Back home," they look at me and say, 'My! she has a government position at the so-called "popular price restaurant where this particular neighborhood eats most of its lunches, "I'm supposed to be a clerk in one of the government departments.

"I was originally. But mercy! I couldn't begin to live on the pay I got. Between my pay and my tips I make enough here to buy up two or three girl clerks for the government.

"Of course the disagreeable part of it is that a waitress isn't anybody socially. It would make my folks feel dreadfully bad if they knew I worked in a restaurant. So I let 'em go on thinking I'm still on Uncle Sam's payroll.

"Once a year I go home for a couple of weeks and swell around in clothes I couldn't even dream of on a government salary, and

GERMANS CELEBRATE ANCIENT VICTORIES

NUREMBERG, (UP)—Amidst a bus of patriotic enthusiasm the burghers of this quaint old city are making the last preparations for the great nationalist rally officially beginning tomorrow at dawn with the strains of the revellie, which will see the revival of military pomp within their walls.

"In commemoration of the days of Sedan, Tannenberg, and the Battle of Jutland—to mourn the loss of our colonies—in spite of our enemies within and without—a challenge to all hypocrites and cowards" these sentences from the official program will characterize the spirit of the two days' gathering—"under the patronage of His Royal Highness, the Crown Prince of Bavaria."

Thus, richly decked in flags from which the republican colors are conspicuously absent, with streets and squares clean-swept, the houses all profusely garlanded, the statues of Bavarian and Prussian kings adorned with a wealth of flowers, Nuremberg is awaiting the coming of its distinguished guests.

Besides the high patron of the reunion, there will be the German ex-crown prince and two or three of his younger brothers. A step-lower on the military hierarchy, General Von Ludendorff, Field-marshal von Mackensen and General von Klueck have promised to attend. And beyond them, forming a suitable setting for royalty and its entourage, the fatherland's factories and offices are sending tens of thousands of ardent young nationalists to this rally in a hundred special trains.

Most of the prominent guests are expected here early this afternoon. A guard of honor, resplendent in pre-war uniforms, is already drawn up in front of the station in anticipation of the arrival.

Women Governors Are Just Average

DENVER, Col., Aug. 30. — Women's efficiency in the gubernatorial chair was given a 50-50 rating by E. L. Sanders, San Antonio, secretary of the Texas Hotel Association, a visitor here.

"The administration of 'Ms.' Ferguson has not reflected any credit on women in public life but that of Gov. Nellie Ross of Wyoming has been eminently successful," is the way Sanders rated up women's gubernatorial capability.

A check-up of all men governors since the union came into existence would not show a higher percentage to their credit, Sanders thought.

Kentucky Mine Rescue First Pictures!

This shows the great crater surrounding the shaft of the American Zinc and Fluorapatite Company's mine at Selen, Ky., where five workmen were rescued after being imprisoned underground, without food or water, for a week by a slide of earth and water. The crater, shown here, was scooped out years ago by surface mining and was abandoned when underground shafts were sunk. Mud and water slid to the bottom of the crater and saved through into the mine below. Rescue workers are shown lowering a cable through to the shaft for the imprisoned men. It was through this old shaft that Freeman Cobb the rescue party crawled and led the imprisoned miners to safety.
