

ASHLAND DAILY TIDINGS

Published Every Evening Except Sunday by THE ASHLAND PRINTING CO.
C. J. Reed, Managing Editor
W. H. Perkins, News Editor

| | |
|---------------------------------------|--------|
| Subscription Price, Delivered in City | $ 35 |
| Three Months | 1.05 |
| Six Months | 2.10 |
| One Year | 7.50 |
| By Mail and Rural Routes | |
| One Month | $.65 |
| Three Months | 1.95 |
| Six Months | 3.90 |
| One Year | 12.00 |

| DISPLAY ADVERTISING RATES | |
|---|--------|
| Single Insertion, per inch | $.50 |
| Political, Display, per inch | 1.12 |
| Yearly Contracts | |
| One insertion a week | 27 1/2 |
| Two insertions a week | 35 |
| Daily insertion | 30 |
| Rates for Legal and Miscellaneous Advertising | |
| Short insertion, per 5 point line | $.10 |
| Each subsequent insertion, 5 point line | .05 |
| Card of Thanks | 1.00 |
| Obituary, per line | 1.00 |

WHAT CONSTITUTES ADVERTISING
"All future events, where an admission charge is made or a collection taken is Advertising."
No discount will be allowed Religious or Benevolent Orders.

DONATIONS
No donations to charities or otherwise will be made in advertising or job printing — our contributions will be in cash.

BUY THE HATCHET

Rubbing out all traces of factionalism, hundreds of Ashland people yesterday journeyed to Medford and enjoyed the greatest fair in Jackson county history. Ashland business houses joined in the movement by closing their doors at noon. The Ashland band furnished the music, and while it is not known to be fact it is presumed due to the fine appearance of the exhibits that the territory surrounding Ashland must have been a heavy contributor to the displays that were seen there.

Ashland people mingled with Medford people, old acquaintances were renewed, and in so far as could be seen, the residents of the neighboring city did not wear horns nor could there be seen any flames or smoke pouring from their nostrils.

Neither was their any halos noticed above the heads of the people from Ashland, in fact a stranger would have had a difficult time distinguishing between the residents of the two communities.

They were there for one common purpose, to view the products of Jackson county. Ashland day at the fair could well mark the starting point, of a new era in the relations that exist between the two cities. Petty bickerings, fostered undoubtedly by the minority in both places should be buried beneath an avalanche of boosting for Jackson county as a whole.

If the slight animosities are allowed to continue, both will lose. If they are ended now, there is much to be gained.

THE NEW TIDINGS

With the recent announcement of the greatly augmented news service in The Tidings, which is to be effective in a very few days, one of the longest upward steps in a steady march of progress by this publication has been taken. The contract closed recently in Los Angeles calls for the complete United News report, the same that is used exclusively by some of the largest metropolitan dailies in the United States. With the special United Press service, already being received this will give Ashland's daily newspaper, a news service second to none. It must be remembered, however, that with the installation of this service, it will be a physical impossibility at the present time to reproduce every word that is carried in the report. The service alone consists of five thousand words and when it is known that the average book does not contain any more, it can readily be seen the tremendous daily volume of news the paper will have at its command.

This is but one of the many projects contemplated for The Tidings. Others which will tend to widen the paper's scope from a news standpoint will be instituted as rapidly as possible. No definite announcement of these will be made however until actual arrangements have been completed, as it shall not be the policy of the paper to make idle promises as to what will be done in the future. No statements of any kind concerning the progress of The Tidings will be publicity made until such time as definite and complete arrangements have been consummated.

However the guiding spirit of The Tidings shall always be to give as well as to receive. The ultimate goal will be reached only when the city of Ashland shall have a paper that truly reflects the splendid spirit of aggressiveness and cooperation that makes this the outstanding city of the Pacific Coast.

THE ROAD GOING OUT

Ashland, endowed with a natural heritage, in the scenic wonders that form a frame for this beautiful city, is in some ways its own worst enemy. A stranger coming into the city runs a very strong chance of receiving the false impression that Ashland is the last end of creation, conception of which probably took place in the mind of the devil, while its propagation has been left entirely to those who had but selfish interests at heart.

There are those in Ashland who have little right to enjoy the many privileges that exist here. There are those who through the loose rambling of an irresponsible tongue, are daily doing as much damage as can be overcome by the group of forward looking, energetic business men that form the real backbone of the city.

It takes all kinds of people to make a community, but the city of Ashland can do very well without those whose powers of perception seem to be so poor that they cannot see the many advantages that abound here.

The Tidings knows of several places where these gloom purveyors would be right at home and over which they could cast their mantle of darkness without being opposed in the least.

Ashland is a beautiful city. It has the reputation all over the entire northwest of being an ideal home city. The exceptional schools, the beautiful park, the fine religious atmosphere, the splendid business houses, and the general cooperative spirit that exists among the men who conduct these houses, are a few of the things that should greet the stranger. Then you are dealing in facts. New people will find these things out eventually, if they have not been frightened away before the opportunity is given them to secure first hand information. It is just as easy to tell the truth about your home town, especially when there are so many things that can be told which will attract new people to it. Why not deal in facts instead of fiction, and if there are those who are sincere in their belief that Ashland is not a good place to live, there is a wonderful train service out of here, and a good highway going north and south, and the roads are not particularly crowded this time of the year.

SAP AND SALT
BY BERT MOSES

By doing your work better you become a better man.

Why call them "grass widows" when they are no longer green?

A good pair of legs is sometimes more protection than a good pair of fists.

In six thousand years the world has not yet found a single thing it can agree upon.

How mean for a girl to get a box of candy from one admirer and then share it with another!

A man should be careful not to let his ambition cover more distance than his legs will carry him.

Has Heck says: "When Congress ain't holdin' people up, it's holdin' 'em down."

TOM SIMS SAYS

An old-timer is one who can look at the sun and tell the hour.

Yawning is fine training for eating corn on the cob.

You can hop back into bed with a clear conscience if you go answer the phone when the alarm clock rings.

The fellow who has been afraid to take off his long underwear might as well keep it on now.

Ethanol and contentment are great sleep producers.

Don't worry about tomorrow. You'll do better. Or you'll do worse. It all depends upon what you do today.

Mike Wants All Earwigs Killed

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 13. — (UP)—There is one more reason supporting Portland's contention, now, that earwigs should be exterminated, according to Mike Sokol.

Mike's complaint is that a pesky little earwig came close to shattering his reputation "as a good husband and peace loving man."

Mrs. Sokol is very nervous and afraid of bugs, and one day when an earwig scooted across the front room floor she leaped atop a chair and screamed. In the meantime Mike started in pursuit of the bug.

Neighbors heard the screams and called police, thinking a domestic row was in progress.

Mike didn't even have the satisfaction of killing the earwig, which got away and so far as is known, he is now doing nicely.

READ TIDINGS CLASS ADS

Too Deeply Rooted

CENTURIES OF BACKWARDNESS

Stewart's WASHINGTON LETTER

BY CHARLES F. STEWART

NRA Service Writer
WASHINGTON — Senator George H. Moses, who will be coming back to Washington as a member of the 70th Congress, because the New Hampshire Republicans have renominated him and a New Hampshire nomination is as good as an election, is as much of an insurgent as Senator Norris or Senator La Follette or anybody when he feels like it.

But oh, what a different kind of an insurgent!

Norris, La Follette et al., are insurgents of the liberal pattern. Moses' insurgency is conservative, not to say reactionary. Even President Coolidge is too radical for him at times, and when you've said that you've gone the limit.

Ex-Gov. Robert F. Bass of New Hampshire, who opposed Moses in the Republican primary, based his whole fight on the ground that the latter hasn't always supported the administration in the upper house of Congress.

It's true, too—on the world court issue, for instance.

So, in a sense, Moses' victory was another rebuke for President Coolidge. Still, it wasn't the same sort of emphatic rebuke that he received in Wisconsin, in the nomination of Gov. John J. Blaine for the Senate over the present Republican incumbent, Senator Irvine L. Lenroot.

Lenroot is strictly an "administration man." Blaine is completely off the "regular" Republican reservation.

Moses doesn't always see eye to eye with the administration, but he's a "regular" Republican in good standing.

From the administration standpoint, the only thing that takes the curse off the Wisconsin result is that it wasn't unexpected.

Mrs. Sokol is very nervous and afraid of bugs, and one day when an earwig scooted across the front room floor she leaped atop a chair and screamed. In the meantime Mike started in pursuit of the bug.

Neighbors heard the screams and called police, thinking a domestic row was in progress.

Mike didn't even have the satisfaction of killing the earwig, which got away and so far as is known, he is now doing nicely.

Neighbors heard the screams and called police, thinking a domestic row was in progress.

Mike didn't even have the satisfaction of killing the earwig, which got away and so far as is known, he is now doing nicely.

READ TIDINGS CLASS ADS

Mom and Pop

By Taylor

OUT/OUR WAY

By Williams

