SOCIETY

Miss Lorraine Brookmiller played Godard's Second Waltz spiritedly, which number was especially well received.

Humorous readings, which delighted the listeners were given by Mrs. W. M. Poley, who gives graciously of her unusual talent for the pleasure of her friends.

Mrs. H. T. Mitchelmore, a gifted musician, played Chopin's "Fantasia Impromptu," followed by MacDowell's "To A Wild Rose." Her interpretation and technique was a joy to those who listened.

Tea was served at this time. A little later a "ring" game made for spirited contest. At this game of skill, Mrs. W. H. Graham was the fortunate player and received a dainty reward for her prowess.

All were glad to greet Mrs. L. J. Ott and Miss Frances E. Johnson, who are guests in the Robertson home. They are from St. Louis and are on tour of the coast country.

Music Study Club Meets—
Mrs. J. H. Fuller is hostess, at her home at 150 North Main, for Monday evening's meeting of the Ashland Music Study Club, which convenes for its initial session.

Since this is the opening meeting and many important matters to be considered, a full attendance of the membership is requested. Among the things discussed will be the year's program, to aid the committee in planning the year book.

Art Club Meets—
The Art Club will meet at the home of Mrs. S. B. McNair, on Seaside Drive, tonight.

Mrs. McNair will be assisted in entertaining by Mrs. J. Edward Thornton.

All members are asked to attend the meeting. There is always the pleasant social hour, aside from the business meeting.

Missionary Meeting in Phoenix—
Mrs. H. W. Frame was hostess at her beautiful country home for the regular meeting of the Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church of Phoenix, Thursday afternoon at two o'clock.

Mrs. Morgan is president, and was in charge of the business meeting and the program hour, which opened with devotions, led by the president.

Interesting reports were read by Mrs. Parsons, the secretary. This organization is one of the strongest in the Presbytery and measures up particularly well in its achievements.

Since the general "Outlook" and the church's program for "The Younger Generation" were to be considered during the afternoon, it had been decided to ask Mrs. Walter Fraser Brown to discuss particularly, the work being done among the college young people in a comprehensive way; not only giving a resume of that done elsewhere, but stressing particularly the plans in operation in our own state among the college young people. This was done in a splendid talk and was of much interest, for many of those present had relatives or friends away at college.

In closing Mrs. Brown was asked to give an account of the Conference held at Jacksonville, which she did very entertainingly.

"The Younger Generation" had been assigned to Mrs. Grace E. Andrews of Ashland, with the thought of the Week-day and the Daily Vacation Bible schools the central theme.

In a pre-word, a general stock-taking was suggested; holding the thought, in the survey, of what is being done, successfully—to keep that, and discard anything that does not make for interest or bring results. Then, too, that survey would also be for leadership; to determine those whose qualifications fit them for certain responsibilities. And that suggested the training for leadership for which the "Young People's Conferences" are so well planned.

Discussing in a general way, the possibilities of the Conferences in accomplishing this, the speaker passed to the Daily Vacation Bible school, which has been conducted for the past year in Ashland and which will be continued during the coming school year.

Much interest was manifest in the school and many questions asked. The question of one in Phoenix is being considered just as soon as feasible.

Its organizations, the cooperation received, the interest, the attendance, and some of the reactions were noted in the talk given.

Through the courtesy of Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Parsons, Mrs. Andrews was present at the meeting.

Mrs. Frame, her hostess, served delicious macaroons and tea during the social hour which followed the close of the meeting.

Birthday Dinner—
Friday evening, the pleasant Brookmiller home was the scene of a birthday celebration, marking the natal day of Miss Lorraine Brookmiller.

A number of guests had been invited for the delightful six o'clock dinner with covers, laid for eleven, including the young hostess.

A dainty centerpiece, unusual and attractive, with the requisite number of candles, was a pretty decorative feature.

At the conclusion of the delicious repast, others came for the evening and the time was spent in very happy fashion, with music, and merry games.

Those present to wish Miss Lorraine many happy returns of the anniversary were:

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Robertson, Mrs. L. J. Ott, and Miss F. E. Johnson, the Misses Mary Galey, Ellen Galey, Elizabeth Stearns, Ruth Olson, Lucille Bewick, Mrs. Montgomery, Mrs. W. M. Wright, Mrs. Olsen, Mrs. George Brookmiller, Betty and Edith Brookmiller.

Pageant, Very Successful—
The pageant, "The Ring of Rama Ramehiah," presented at the Methodist Church, Sunday evening, by the Dramatic Club of the Epworth League, was a decided success.

Time and effort had been spent and the splendid entertainment given by the young people was the result. Nothing but praise was heard on all sides at the close of the program and those in charge may feel well repaid for time spent in preparation.

Below is given the program in full, with names of director, stage manager, and the personnel of the play.

Delay in receiving the study books has occasioned the postponement of date formerly set for the meeting.

Members are asked to keep the date in mind.

Jolly Hike of a Camp Fire Group
Saturday morning a group of the Tula hilus group of Camp Fire Girls of Junior High, led by Mrs. Emile Flankus and Miss Nora Ward, assistant Guardian, started quite early for a hike with Horse Shoe Rock the objective.

At this point they expected to cook their breakfast, with appetites which had been whetted to the proper degree of sharpness by the bracing air.

However, they did not wait to reach the latter point, but built their campfire at Rabbit Rock.

where bacon, eggs, with sundry other delicacies appeased their hunger before they went on to their destination.

At both places, the geological formation proved very interesting and the young girls feel well repaid for the strenuous work incident to the trip.

Other trips are planned by this group of campfire girls. Those who enjoyed Saturday morning together were: Jean Cadzow, Carol Clark, Mae Clary, Maxine Gearhart, Maxine Elmer, Elaine Plackus, Venita Hoagland, Gladys Hanson and Anes Hervey, with the chaperons, Mrs. Emille Flankus and Miss Nora Ward.
