Frank Homes has grown to splendid young manhood in Bellview; attending its schools, and Ashland High, which he left to enlist in the Ashland contingent of the C. A. C. during the World War.

After his return from overseas service, he became associated with the Shell Oil company, making deserved advancement until at present he is salesman for the company, with headquarters in Grants Pass.

For the present, Mr. and Mrs. Homes will be at home to their friends in that city.

To these fine young people a host of friends offer sincere good wishes for all the happiness possible in a future of worth while endeavor, crowned with a large measure of success and material presperity.
