Why the Yaquis Are Fighting

This ancient church and reclining plaster saint are the indirect causes of the rebellion of Mexico's Yaqui Indian tribes. Every fall the Yaquis make a pilgrimage to Magdalena, in Sonora, to the statue of San Francisco, shown above. This year the government refused to let them. So they're on the war path.

CATTLE TO FORAGE ON ASIATIC PLANT

BERKELEY, Cal., Sept. 29— California cattle may soon be grazing on the same variety of forage grass as that over which the shepherds of Palestine drove their flocks in biblical days.

Dr. Willis L. Jepson, University of California botanist, has returned from Asia Minor where he traced soil relationships between the Holy Land and California. With him he brought several species of forage plant, heretofore unknown to California, to be planted experimentally in this state.

The plant thrives in semi-desert country and is expected to adapt itself to the soil relationships between the Holy Land and California. With him he brought several species of forage plant, heretofore unknown to California, to be planted experimentally in this state.

The plant thrives in semi-desert country and is expected to adapt itself to the soil and climatic conditions of various arid sections of the state.

Postmaster at Portland Visits

John M. Jones, postmaster of Portland, and Mrs. Jones, were visitors in Ashland last evening and were guests of Postmaster and Mrs. Fred D. Wagner. This was the first visit to Ashland in several years for the Portland postmaster and he expressed himself as being much surprised at the many improvements throughout the city.

"I think Ashland is one of the prettiest little cities on the coast, and my opinion is shared by all who come here," he said.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones left by auto this morning for Klamath Falls and Eastern Oregon. They are on their annual vacation trip.

so many kittens, and that he has mused over hundreds of miles of trackless Arctic wastes.

"An expert hunter and trapper," they said as they pointed to a bundle of furs that had been grizzly bears and wolves until they met Mickey.

The Charles Brower brought half a million dollars worth of furs and walrus ivories to this port.

NOTICE

Sept. 29, 1926
To the Voters:
While I fully realize the motive and the friendliness of spirit of the citizens committee in claiming me as their candidate for mayor and while I am proud of this indorsement, I feel I must make immediate denial of the suggestion that I am the candidate of any party or faction, my purpose is to run strictly independent and without obligation to any special interest.

All of the eleven or twelve men are likely to file for councilmen are my personal friends, and it would be an honor and a pleasure to serve with any one of them.

Very truly,
CHARLES H. PIERCE
