CARDS DEFEAT YANKEES WITH VET PITCHING

Grover Alexander Has the American Leaguers Helpless Sunday

MAKES HALL OF FAME

Southworth Hits Home Run With Two On; Hornsby Also Stars

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—(UP)—Holding the Yankees to four hits and striking out every man except Coombs, Grover Alexander, the veteran pitcher, rose to heights of greatness here Sunday when he paved the way for a 6 to 2 Cardinal victory over the Yankees in the second game of the world series.

The two teams are traveling westward to St. Louis today, where the series will be renewed tomorrow in the home town of the Cardinals.

The score yesterday was tied, 2 to 2, in the seventh inning when Southworth, Cardinal outfield star, hoisted one into the stands for a home run, bringing two runners in ahead of him. They now contributed the final score in the ninth inning with a home run.

Alexander carved his name in the baseball hall of fame when he struck out 10 Yankee batsmen. After the third inning not a Yankee batter reached first base. Hornsby distinguished himself with a sensational catch, robbing Ruth of a hit when he speared a high line drive.

The summary:
St. Louis 6 12 1
New York 2 4 0
Runs Hits Errors

GOOD WEATHER PROMISED

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 4.—(UP)—Weather forecasters predicted fair and cooler weather here tomorrow when the St. Louis Cardinals meet the Yankees in the third game of the world series. Rain fell throughout this morning.

That The People May Know

THE LITHIA WATER SUPPLY

Due to the fact that the complete written reports of the engineers are not yet available, The Tidings is of necessity compelled to alter its original plan in the presentation of the water problem to the people of Ashland and discuss features for the next few days which were to have been considered later after the most important projects from a financial standpoint, were thoroughly considered.

Today we will take up the proposal to spend $15,000 for the construction of a new pipe line which will bring the Lithia water and other mineral waters from their original springs into Lithia Park, Ashland's magnificent and cherished public park.

This proposed expenditure will not be included in the general water bond issue. The mayor and council, after a thorough discussion of the various projects, thought it best to eliminate the Lithia water pipe line from the remainder of the proposed bond budget, and instead, issue special obligation warrants of the city if the voters should sanction the construction of this new pipe line.

So the Lithia water pipe line improvement will be placed before the voters as a separate measure in this fashion:

"Shall the mayor and council be authorized to spend not to exceed $15,000 for the construction of the Lithia water pipe line?"

So far as this newspaper is concerned it has not hesitancy in recommending to the voters their approval of this project. Nor has it any fear as to the verdict of the people at the general election next month.

Go where you will, up and down the Pacific coast, and when you hear the name of Ashland mentioned so, too, will you hear of this city's Lithia water. The names Ashland and Lithia Water are synonymous.

The people of Ashland have spent hundreds of thousands of dollars in the construction and improvement of Lithia Park. The park was named after the Lithia water which has brought Ashland its fame as a summer resort city. The proposal to harness the Lithia water and pipe it down into the public park was the most important part of the original park program. Men with vision saw the value of this park and mineral water project. And their dreams have more than been fulfilled.

At the present time the Lithia water pipe line is in a deplorable state. There are innumerable leaks. The flow of this health-giving mineral water in the several public fountains in the park is at best uncertain.

Unless the present pipe line is replaced, next summer it will be Lithia park in name only, just as it was for several weeks during this past summer. When hundreds of tourists come into Ashland daily next summer inquiring about our Lithia water we will have nothing to offer them except lame excuses unless this pipe line is replaced early this spring.

This is not propaganda. It is the simple truth. All of you remember just a few months ago when the flow of mineral water was stopped within Lithia park. Many of you will recall the complaints of disgusted and disappointed tourists and visitors. Complaints were lodged with the Chamber of Commerce. Complaints were lodged with the city officials. Yes, and even The Tidings received a number of caustic letters from departing visitors who wanted to know what was the matter with Ashland.

The water department, under Superintendent Hosler, did everything within its power to save Ashland's reputation. Temporary repairs were made, but they were in no wise satisfactory.

Next summer, under the same conditions, it will be a repetition of the same unfavorable story unless a new pipe line is constructed.

The people of Ashland are rightfully jealous of the reputation of their Lithia park. They are proud of the Lithia water after which the park is named. The sum of $15,000 is small, indeed, compared to the reputation of Ashland and its most cherished attraction.

It would be an act of mercy, so far as Ashland's reputation is concerned to eliminate the name Lithia from the public park rather than permit the same situation to prevail next summer as prevailed during the past few months.

But this condition is not going to continue. We have the word of our city engineering staff and our water superintendent, Earl Hosler, that the pipe line must be replaced. We have our unfortunate experience of the past summer as concrete proof that something must be done.

That is why the people of Ashland are going to register an overwhelming vote in favor of this proposed expenditure. The sum of $15,000 is a trifling sum compared to Ashland's future as a tourist city.

DEATH TOTAL OVER SUNDAY AT LOW MARK

Tragedy Reaches Low Ebb of Present Season This Past Week-End

11 PERSONS KILLED

Portland Baby Dies as the Result of Swallowing Open Safety Pin

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Oct. 4.—(U.P.)—Tragic deaths in Oregon, Washington and California slumped to the low mark of the season over the week-end just passed, with only 11 fatalities reported from the three coast states according to tabulations made here by United Press.

Only three of these deaths were due to auto accidents. This low rate is believed to have been due to the world's series baseball game which kept thousands at home listening to the broadcasting of radio reports of the game. Oregon and Washington fatalities were:

Washougal, Wash.—Hans Nelson, 55, killed when he threw dynamite on a pile where he was burning brush.

Portland, Oregon.—Betty Jean Bradshaw, aged 8 months, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Bradshaw, died as the result of swallowing an open safety pin.

THIS COUNTY WINS AT BIG FAIR

Jackson County Carries Off Many Blue Ribbons at Salem Exhibit

ATTRACTIVE DISPLAYS

Farm Products From All Sections of Jackson Win Highest Honors

Jackson county, through its various representatives at the state fair this year, has again carried off its share of the honors in the open competition in agricultural products, having made practically a clean sweep in three big entries, peaches, pears and apples, the only exception being the second prize in peaches.

As was the case last year, this county had two well arranged and attractive booths. The excellent fruit exhibit, which was in charge of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Oatman and Howard Warner, attracted much favorable comment.

Talent Display

The Talent Irrigation district display, which was representative of the diversified crops which can be grown on the project, was artistically arranged and was conceded to be one of the outstanding exhibits of the state fair. This booth was arranged by D. M. Lowe, assisted by Mrs. Lowe, R. E. Newberry and O. Arnsperger, secretary-manager of the district.

The fair was declared to be bigger and better in every respect, so far as agricultural, club work, stock and poultry exhibits were concerned. A Jackson county man, "Pop" Gates of Medford was chief judge of the racing program and conducted these events in a snappy manner.

PEAR PICKERS WIN LEAGUE HONORS IN LAST GAME SUNDAY

Medford Defeats Grants Pass, 6 to 3, at County Fair Grounds

With the aid of players from Ashland and Klamath Falls, Medford defeated Grants Pass, 6 to 3, at the county fair grounds yesterday, winning the championship of the Southern Oregon Baseball League.

Up until the sixth inning it was a pretty pitchers' battle between Michaels of Grants Pass and Harrison for Medford, with Michaels having a little the edge until the fatal inning. Then, with the sun blinding him, Michaels was forced to pitch under adverse conditions and the Medford batters walloped him frightfully. By the time the slaughter was over, the sun had receded sufficiently to permit Harrison to pitch without being handicapped in this manner. Hanley and Hofford were the batting stars for the Pear Pickers and clubbed in most of the runs for the Bear Creek Players.

From the standpoint of interest, attendance and friendly rivalry, the first season of the newly organized Southern Oregon Baseball League has been a success. The season was started on May 29, last, with Ashland a rank outsider for several weeks until until its team was strengthened. During the season every team in the league at one time or other held first place position and interest was kept right up until the close of the season.

The success of the league this year is assurance that it will be even better next year. Some of the faults of the present season will be corrected and the league probably will become a permanent baseball institution in Southern Oregon.

Aside from the interesting program that will be given, the opportunity for the chamber of commerce to meet and become acquainted with this group of men and women who have become a vital part of the community will be afforded.

MOTORISTS PULLED OUT OF WRECK CAR

Triple Tragedy Narrowly Averted Last Night by Passing Autoists

ENTERPRISE, Ore., Oct. 4.—(U.P.)—A triple tragedy was averted Sunday night near here when the arrival of motorists prevented the drowning of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Vaught and Mrs. John Gobel of Ullowa. A heavy sedan driven by Vaught plunged from the road into the Willowa river after a collision, landing upside down.

The three were pulled out through the doors. Mrs. Vaught sustained a broken leg and the others were badly bruised.

The proposed coal mining measure indicates someone has been doing some deep thinking.

Candidates straddle issues to keep their knees from knocking.

COOLIDGE TO HALT RAIDERS ON TREASURY

President Serves Notice That Economy Will Continue to Rule

WARNING IS ISSUED

Army and Navy Cliques Not to Get More Funds Than Are Needed

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—President Coolidge understands that certain influences in Washington are planning a raid on the treasury at the coming session of congress. He has issued public warning through the White House spokesman that this effort will be thwarted and that the same policy of economy in public expenditures will be insisted upon as in the past.

The spokesman left the strong inference without flattery saying so that Coolidge had the army and navy cliques in mind in this warning.

They were the only two groups mentioned by the spokesman in this connection.

Constant Economy

What the spokesman said was substantially as follows: "There will be constant emphasis on economy in government expenditures in the future as in the past. There has been evidence lately that in the coming congress an effort is going to be put forth for larger expenditures. We already have the public buildings bill which will cost about $25,000,000 a year and we are enlarging the rivers and harbors bill to $50,000,000 which is more than it has ever carried since the war. We have detected in the air the formation of plans for a raid on the treasury. The president learned this afternoon that a story is to be printed that the budget is going to require a large reduction in the army. We have the word of the war department that there is to be no reduction in the army.

"It is always necessary to look at the expenditures of the army and navy very carefully because they are so large; but no reduction is contemplated.

Country Is Safe

"We have this sort of thing every year about this time. Some times the activity goes to the extent of initiating rumors that this country is about to be attacked. This country is perfectly secure. Our army and navy are able to take all necessary defensive measures. We expect to go on about as we are. Sometimes the size of the army goes down a little and sometimes it goes up slightly, but we aim to keep it at about 115,000."

It is understood that the immediate provocation for this White House warning, was the information reaching President Coolidge Friday that an article was about to be published warning that the budget planned for the coming year would cut the army by 8,000 men. A short time ago an officer of the general staff made a speech at the army war college in which the intimation was strong that the administration was not giving the army adequate financial support and such support as was offered was so favorable to aviation that the other branches of the army were suffering.
