

ASHLAND DAILY TIDINGS OUT OUR WAY

By Williams

THE REDWOOD HIGHWAY

Members of the Redwood Empire Hotel and Resort Keepers Association of California, extended their trip into Grants Pass, where they held a business meeting, and mingled with members of the Hotel Mens Association of Oregon.

The Redwood Highway means something to the hotel men, but it does not mean any more to them than it does, every business institution that may be basking in the sunlight of additional business through this highway.

THE POULTRY INDUSTRY

Yesterday we received a communication from the Petaluma, California Chamber of Commerce, in response to a question we had asked them as to what steps had been taken to make their community the recognized poultry center of the west.

Petaluma is a poultry center because we have the climate, the soil, the water, and every natural resource for making it what it is.

Petaluma has nothing that Ashland does not have, we have the soil, better many say, than that of California, we have the climate, we have the water, and above all we have the people, who have demonstrated in the past that they have vision sufficient to take advantage of the natural opportunities.

AS HE SEES OREGON

Oregon, in the opinion of Sam B. Trissel, internationally known newspaper correspondent and former member of the American diplomatic corps, is the premier state of the Union.

BACK TO THE MEDIEVAL

They served a medieval banquet in Paris a few days ago. The price per plate ran about $50. A multi-millionaire Peruvian magnate gave the banquet to twenty South Americans in honor of Ecuador's minister to France.

Medieval meats, breads, pastes and pastries were prepared from the famous recipes of Taillevent, famous cook to old Charles VII of France, who was known as somewhat of an epicure and gourmand.

One dainty phase of the feast was the serving of the wine. According to old custom, the waiters stuck their thumbs in the wine when serving.

The banquet room was covered with sweet-smelling herbs into which the guests threw their gnawed bones, and where the waiters dumped the general food refuse. There were no forks, and the table was laid with a voluminous cloth serving as napkins as well and used by each guest to wipe the face and hands.

Kiddies' Evening Story

By MARY GRAHAM BONNER

Mother Polar

"It does amuse me," said Mother Polar, "as I watch the people shiver with the cold."

"No, I don't care about them in the least."

"But how it does amuse me and make me laugh when I see them shiver with the cold."

"For they seem so weak and silly to me!"

"I have the sense to love the cold. And the children are the same way."

"If I were wild, way up North now, I would have some fine plans."

"I would be thinking of a time a little later on when the children would arrive, yes, when it would be time for the nice polar bear babies to come."

"And when they got a little bigger, but while they were still babies."

"And when they got a little bigger, but while they were still babies."

"And when they got a little bigger, but while they were still babies."

"And when they got a little bigger, but while they were still babies."

"And when they got a little bigger, but while they were still babies."

"And when they got a little bigger, but while they were still babies."

"And when they got a little bigger, but while they were still babies."

"And when they got a little bigger, but while they were still babies."

"And when they got a little bigger, but while they were still babies."

"And when they got a little bigger, but while they were still babies."

"And when they got a little bigger, but while they were still babies."

"And when they got a little bigger, but while they were still babies."

"And when they got a little bigger, but while they were still babies."

"And when they got a little bigger, but while they were still babies."

(Continued From Yesterday)

THE STORY

CHAPTER I.—With her baby sister, Patience, Lydia returns to play to the untidy home of her impoverished father, Amos Dudley, at Lake City.

CHAPTER II.—Lydia, Patience and a companion, sent Moulton playing by the lake, are accosted by an old squaw from the nearby reservation.

CHAPTER III.—Lydia, Patience and a companion, sent Moulton playing by the lake, are accosted by an old squaw from the nearby reservation.

CHAPTER IV.—Lydia, Patience and a companion, sent Moulton playing by the lake, are accosted by an old squaw from the nearby reservation.

CHAPTER V.—Lydia, Patience and a companion, sent Moulton playing by the lake, are accosted by an old squaw from the nearby reservation.

CHAPTER VI.—Lydia, Patience and a companion, sent Moulton playing by the lake, are accosted by an old squaw from the nearby reservation.

CHAPTER VII.—Lydia, Patience and a companion, sent Moulton playing by the lake, are accosted by an old squaw from the nearby reservation.

CHAPTER VIII.—Lydia, Patience and a companion, sent Moulton playing by the lake, are accosted by an old squaw from the nearby reservation.

CHAPTER IX.—Lydia, Patience and a companion, sent Moulton playing by the lake, are accosted by an old squaw from the nearby reservation.

CHAPTER X.—Lydia, Patience and a companion, sent Moulton playing by the lake, are accosted by an old squaw from the nearby reservation.

CHAPTER XI.—Lydia, Patience and a companion, sent Moulton playing by the lake, are accosted by an old squaw from the nearby reservation.

CHAPTER XII.—Lydia, Patience and a companion, sent Moulton playing by the lake, are accosted by an old squaw from the nearby reservation.

CHAPTER XIII.—Lydia, Patience and a companion, sent Moulton playing by the lake, are accosted by an old squaw from the nearby reservation.

CHAPTER XIV.—Lydia, Patience and a companion, sent Moulton playing by the lake, are accosted by an old squaw from the nearby reservation.

CHAPTER XV.—Lydia, Patience and a companion, sent Moulton playing by the lake, are accosted by an old squaw from the nearby reservation.

CHAPTER XVI.—Lydia, Patience and a companion, sent Moulton playing by the lake, are accosted by an old squaw from the nearby reservation.

CHAPTER XVII.—Lydia, Patience and a companion, sent Moulton playing by the lake, are accosted by an old squaw from the nearby reservation.

CHAPTER XVIII.—Lydia, Patience and a companion, sent Moulton playing by the lake, are accosted by an old squaw from the nearby reservation.

CHAPTER XIX.—Lydia, Patience and a companion, sent Moulton playing by the lake, are accosted by an old squaw from the nearby reservation.

CHAPTER XX.—Lydia, Patience and a companion, sent Moulton playing by the lake, are accosted by an old squaw from the nearby reservation.

CHAPTER XXI.—Lydia, Patience and a companion, sent Moulton playing by the lake, are accosted by an old squaw from the nearby reservation.

CHAPTER XXII.—Lydia, Patience and a companion, sent Moulton playing by the lake, are accosted by an old squaw from the nearby reservation.

Isn't It Odd?

PORTVILLE, Pa.—The hillside grave prepared for Joella McCarthy is empty and the infant is kicking gently in the hospital where she was born two weeks ago.

ELIZABETH, N. J.—When Andrew Esposito awoke Wednesday he was the father of four children and the stepfather of five more.

PARIS — In marked contrast to the flood of books which come off the American presses in autumn, only 11 new volumes have been published in France during the past two months.

MILWAUKEE—The 30 pound Alredale, is convalescing after being operated on at the Columbia hospital by Dr. John L. Yates, whose surgical work previously had been confined to humans.

SAP AND SALT advertisement by Bert Moses.

A clean novel rarely runs into a second edition. Modesty does no advertising, while immodesty does nothing else.

An ounce of sympathy is usually relished more than a pound of truth.

Why should a woman resort to logic when she can accomplish so much more with tears?

Nothing makes us quite so smart as a man as the discovery that he is smarter than we are.

What Others Say

(Grants Pass Courier) It was somewhat of a surprise to local people to find that a move had originated in Medford to pay W. H. Gore, "father of the U. S. C. tax refund bill" some $120,000 for his services at Washington this spring.

That notorious sneak Ormiston of Los Angeles is making himself as hard to catch as the De Autremont outlaws. If ever they do catch him they should poke him in a barrel—he could not bite and scratch—and spank him with a red-hot skillet until he can see stars as big as Mt. Shasta.

Wives who run the lawn-mower and tend the furnace are not prominent characters in modcin fiction.

Hez Heck says: "The only thing I ever knew to keep a mother-in-law where she belongs was plenty of flattery."

TURNING THE PAGES BACK

ASHLAND 10 Years Ago

The Ashland delegates who attended the Christian Endeavor state convention in Grants Pass were: Madge Glover, Aida Heer, Precilla Carnahan, L.H.H. M. Hall, Nellie Peachey, Marie S. Caldwell, Robert Evans, Malie E. Russell and M. W. Hayes.

ASHLAND 20 Years Ago

Geo. Watson, the painter, who has been at work on Medford's new school house, has completed his contract, and returned home today.

ASHLAND 30 Years Ago

Dr. J. S. Parson, who accompanied John S. Sibley to Sacramento yesterday, will continue his journey to San Francisco and seek a few days rest from his extensive practice.

ASHLAND 10 Years Ago

Percy Brown, a young Englishman, recently from the old country, is visiting with his friend, Wm. Taverner of Ashland, and may locate in this section.

ASHLAND 20 Years Ago

Messrs. E. D. Briggs, J. E. Crowson, Isaac Moore and F. M. Calkins of Ashland and Attorney W. E. Phipps of Medford, are in Jacksonville today on business connected with the settlement of the Moore estate.

ASHLAND 30 Years Ago

Marco Polo, the TIDINGS regular correspondent, will now write "breezes" till the blue bells bloom. Misses Hovener and Burton wrote the last two issues and did splendidly.

ASHLAND 10 Years Ago

A Portland bootlegger who went into the business on the wholesale plan cleaned up $1,320 since the first of the year, and was finally detected. The maximum fine is $500. Profit $870. Good business.

ASHLAND 20 Years Ago

Hon. E. V. Carter and Prof. B. F. Mulkey went up to Salem yesterday to be in evidence on the Normal question.

ASHLAND 30 Years Ago

Clyde Payne, Archie and Roy Christman, with Sidney Carter as chaperone, are out in Klamsch Lake section on a fishing trip.

DAILY BIBLE PASSAGE

"For we brought nothing into this world, and it is certain we can carry nothing out." II. Timothy 6:7.

Someone said, at the time of Andrew Carnegie's death, "Andrew Carnegie left $35,000,000, because he could not take it with him."

Salem Woman Is Killed In Crash

ALBANY, Oct. 16.—(United News)—One person was killed and two others injured Friday in an automobile accident between Salem and Jefferson.

Public Rally for School Postponed

The public rally for the week day bible school, which was to have been held at the Methodist church last night, has been postponed until a week from tomorrow night, at which time it is expected that a large gathering will be present.

READ TIDINGS CLASS ADS