VOTE THE REPUBLICAN TICKET

ELECT Frederick Steiwer U. S. SENATOR
ELECT I. L. Patterson GOVERNOR
RE-ELECT W. C. Hawley CONGRESSMAN

The election of Steiwer as U. S. Senator from Oregon is of national importance. By virtue of republican control of the senate Senator McNary holds the chairmanship of the important irrigation and agriculture committees. If the voters of this state should go so far as to elect a democrat it might mean a loss of republican control of the senate and a consequent surrender of Senator McNary's vital committee chairmanships.

Patterson is familiar with the problems that would confront him as Governor of Oregon. A farmer, he understands the problems of the farmer. A business man he knows the needs of business. He promises fair and just treatment for all. He will seek to lower taxes through a reduction of the cost of state government. He will not follow established precedent and spend most of his time away from the state capital.

Few men who have entered congress have more faithfully served their district and their state than has W. C. Hawley during the many years that he has been a member of the lower national legislative body. He is on the job throughout each session of congress ably representing the people of the First Congressional District. He now holds an important position on the ways and means committee.

You have used good judgment in the past; you will use good judgment again, by sending W. C. Hawley back to congress.

A vote for Steiwer, the regular republican primary nominee is a vote for republican control of national affairs.

Patterson will be your Governor, on the job, attending to business of the state as it accrues.
