

CAMPAIGN ATTRACTS BEARS OF CRATER LAKE DISTRICT

They Evidence so Much Interest That They Refuse to "Hole In"

The bears in the Crater Lake National Park are taking an unusual amount of interest in the approaching election, according to R. W. Price of the Crater Lake Lodge.

In truth, so interested have they become in the campaign that they positively refuse to "hole in" before the day after election and every night the entire bear family in the park assembles outside the house of John Mabon, caretaker at Crater Lake Lodge and listen to the speeches of the various candidates and their friends, as broadcasted over the radio.

"Harry Hosler and I received a hurry-up call from Mabon the other night to come up to the lodge. He said that a heavy storm was raging and he wanted help to get up the shutters and make the place snug for the winter," Mr. Price said yesterday.

"There was some storm, believe me, and we had all sorts of hard work getting up there. It was after a good supper when we had our pipes going that Harry and I heard a great noise at the back door.

"Turning to John we asked what it was all about.

"Oh, nothing," John nonchalantly replied, "only the bears arriving to listen to the political speeches over the radio."

"When Harry and I looked out, there they were. Old Brownie was on hand, as were Fritz, Abe, Big Boy, Peet, Hitchcock, Daddy Long Legs and all the rest of the bear family who inhabit the park.

"And don't think for a moment that those bears did not take an active interest in what they heard over the radio. They would growl or rub noses to express accord or displeasure with what they were told by the various speakers.

"It was quite evident that old Fritz was pleased whenever Standfield or Stewler was mentioned. This was due, of course, to the fact that those boys are from the sheep country, and you know how it is with a bear when sheep are mentioned.

"Big Boy evidenced unholy glee whenever he heard that Walter was against the housewives' power bill; and Abe was for Ike because he raises fine peaches.

"Peet's interest seems to be centered in Bert Haney. John told us that old Peet has not missed a day or an evening listening to what Senator Walsh has had to say over the radio about Bert. Of course, we could see that he considered some of it was appeasement, but I am sure that if there is an opportunity for old Peet to vote, Bert will be one vote to the good.

"Oh, don't fool yourself for a minute about those bears. They are good politicians, and are learning still more about the game from their daily lessons over the radio."

BANDITS TAKE $30 FROM INSURANCE MAN

ned by two confederates was awaiting him. He jumped in the car, and as they drove away, poked his gun out of the back curtain and fired another shot.

Bannister made his way to a nearby farm house where he phoned to Chief of Police McNabb who rushed to the scene of the attempted robbery. The chief was able to locate one of the empty shells, and from this came the decision that the gun used was a .25 Automatic. The officers were also able to get a good description of the men, the one who did the shooting being twenty-five or thirty years of age, and was very dark, closely resembling a foreigner. His two companions were said to be young fellows not more than seventeen or eighteen years old.

Chief of Police McNabb has some definite information which he is working on, and which may result in the early apprehension of the bandits.

Tillamook — Addition to city water system will soon be ready for use.

Klamath Falls — Construction begun on $30,000 Link River bridge.

Riddle — Silver Peak mines have shipped $20,000 worth of copper ore since July 1.

HOMEMAKERS INSTITUTE TO HAVE INTERESTING PROGRAM

Much interest is being displayed in the Jackson County Homemakers' Institute which will be held in Guild hall of the Medford Episcopal church on Oct. 20 to 23, inclusive. The Ashland Civic club will be hostess on Oct. 21, and will have charge of the program that day. The institute is being conducted under the direction of the extension service of Oregon Agricultural college, and the following prepared summary of events has been sent out:

Dr. Estella Ford Warner, Medical Director of the Marion county health demonstration and former medical director of the Bureau of Child Hygiene of the State Board of Health, who is very well known to all Oregon audiences, will talk on "Health," Thursday, Friday and Saturday afternoons at 2:15.

Miss Ava B. Milam, dean of our school of Home Economics, spent two years in China establishing the first Home Economic work in an Oriental college. For several months, when she first went to China, she traveled over the country studying home life, in order to establish a home economics course that would be adapted to their needs. Miss Milam has talked on this subject in a good many of the Willamette Valley towns, and has been very much in demand in this state and neighboring states since her return. We are very glad that we can secure her on this program.

Mrs. Kate W. Jameson, Dean of Women at O. A. C., needs no introduction to Oregon audiences. Her subject, "The Great Partnership," is a plea for a better understanding between parents and children in solving young people's problems today.

And what will be of special interest to the floral societies, is that Mr. A. L. Peck, Professor of Landscape Gardening and Floriculture, is going to be at the institute on Friday and will speak on the subjects relating to floriculture that afternoon.

Miss Esther B. Cooley, clothing specialist, extension service of the Oregon Agricultural College will speak on the following:

Hinges and Seams
Fitting points, effect of straight and bias thread arrangements and the relation of seam

QUICK QUAKER, hot and enticing, is faster than plain toast. For scores of thousands it is solving the breakfast problem.

The most delicious of breakfasts, it provides an excellent food "balance" of protein, carbohydrates and vitamins—plus the "bulk" to make laxatives less often needed—that authorities have made the dietetic urge of the world.

Less nourishing foods, less delicious foods, simply to save time are a folly. Start now every day with food that "stands by" you through the morning.

placing to body hinges will be discussed Thursday morning October 21, from 10 to 11. Pattern selections and interpretation, cutting and fitting to both normal and abnormal figures will be discussed and demonstrations of the principles given.

Problems in selecting the most flattering type of and in tailoring the various dress plackets of the present mode will be discussed and demonstration of the simplified forms of construction given, Friday, 11 to 12. Hence, their relation to and effect on the design of the garment and various methods of construction will be stressed.

Neck Lines and Faces
Choosing the most becoming neck line, or adapting dress neck lines to various types of faces and neck lines will be featured Saturday morning from 10 to 11. Drafting of patterns for collars, altering commercial patterns and points in construction of collars will be given.

Miss Lucy A. Case, Nutrition Specialist, Extension Service, Oregon Agricultural College will cover the following subjects:

The relation between our "three squares daily" and our health and physical well being will be discussed at Jackson County Homemakers' Institute at Medford, October 21, 22 and 23. "You and Your Food" is the subject of the October talk, "Diet and the Scales" is the subject on October 22, and the subject for October 23rd is "Alice in Hungerland" or training of children to good food habits.

Are you eating foods that make good red blood, vigor, "punch" and happiness? How can false teeth be avoided? How can strong bones, straight backs and good lung capacity be developed? Are you correcting any overweight or underweight? Are you able to get the family to eat what they ought to eat? These questions and others

After the Meal

After the evening meal—Drag up the arm chair, grab the daily paper, stick a "perfecto" in your face, and you're "all set." "All set," because the meat you ate was from The Eagle Market; therefore, tender and juicy. Say friend, tell the wife to get a steak from us for tomorrow night's dinner, and experience that "After Dinner Delight."

that come close to our daily welfare will be frankly discussed at the institute, and everyone is invited to come and listen or take part. The foods for health topics will be discussed by Miss Lucy A. Case and there will be an opportunity for individual conferences with Miss Case. Some interesting nutrition exhibits are planned.

There will be accommodations at the meeting place for those who wish to bring their lunch.

WANTS TO BROADCAST THANKS FOR HEALTH RECOVERY

"You know," says Arthur O'Malley, Carson Hill, Cal., "I would like you to broadcast this. I suffered from kidney and rheumatic trouble, but less than two bottles of Foley Pills, diuretic, relieved me entirely, and I want other sick people to know about them." Foley Pills, a diuretic stimulant for the kidneys, are a reliable, valuable medicine, constantly in use over 25 years. Try them for backaches, rheumatic pains and swellings; for dull headaches, nervousness, "tired-out" feeling and disturbed sleep. Satisfaction guaranteed. Sold everywhere.—No. 3.

ASHLAND TIDINGS LETTER CONTEST

Following are the rules for the letter writing contest. It closes Oct. 23. Any person over 15 years of age is eligible. Letters are limited to 250 words.

Cash prizes totaling $30 will be given the three winners. Write a letter to some friend in another city telling what you think of Ashland. Write on one side of the paper only and if possible use a typewriter.

Send a copy of your letter to the Contest Editor of The Tidings.

The letters will be judged by five disinterested judges and the winners announced a few days after the close of the contest.

"HAVE A CAMEL IS MUSIC TO YOUR EARS"

Camel is totally different from any other smoke. . . . It is more than a cigarette. . . . A lighted Camel is smoking enjoyment realized—the closest thing to the perfection of taste this old earth ever knew.

Camel's popularity has no equal. Camel demand exceeds any other cigarette preference ever known. To say "Camel" is to ask for the world's most popular cigarette. And to light a Camel is to taste the best.

For there's a solid reason back of the fame and the enjoyment of Camels. Quality. Camels are rolled of the choicest Turkish and Domestic tobaccos money can buy . . . blended for matchless taste and fragrance.

If you would know how mild and mellow a smoke can really be, just treat yourself to a pack of Camels. Once you know what those words mean, they're music . . . "Have a Camel!"
