

OTTINGERS TO RUN JACKSON SPRINGS

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Dongus to Leave Soon for Los Angeles

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Dongus, who have managed the Jackson Hot Springs for the past several months, are leaving within a short time for Los Angeles where they will spend the winter. Mr. and Mrs. Jason Ottinger have taken back their lease and will again operate this popular health resort north of the city. Mr. Dongus has been trustee for the resort for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. Dongus expect to return here in the early spring, however, as they are quite interested in a poultry proposition, believing this the most wonderful country on the coast for poultry raising.

Mr. Dongus was drawn to Ashland because of his own shattered health, and he now declares he believes Ashland to have the finest and most healthful climate he has ever seen.

Mr. Dongus lost his health in chemical works during the war. He was general superintendent of one of the largest chemical companies of its kind in the world. He worked largely on new formulas which were made with a process of chlorine gas, and it was the fumes from the gas which finally broke down his system and compelled him to seek outside work.

"I am regaining my health here in Ashland and expect to come back here to live," he said. Complimentary to Mr. and Mrs. Dongus, a farewell dance will be given at Jackson Hot Springs with in the next few days, further announcements of which will be made shortly.

BELLVIEW NOTES

Mrs. W. G. Tucker Phone 2F14

Elmer Morrison, who has a fine poultry plant in Ashland and is also an electrician, told one of our members that when we were ready he would wire our building. Homer Moore of our own district, offered the same, so that work is assured.

Frank Jordan of Jordan's Sash and Cabinet Works, will give us a large front door, or two smaller French doors for our double swings. Is it any wonder we wear perpetual grins out here, when we think of the kindness of our friends.

A tag day—to quote the president of our P. T. A.—"nothing under 10c, nothing over $20" will be put on Saturday of this week, October 23.

Ten cents for tags won't be missed, and we mean to work long and hard, start early and quit late. And we hope everybody will be ready with ten cents. And it will be alright with us if you insist on giving more!

Free Lime Booklet

The State Lime Board has compiled an 8-page booklet containing much valuable information for farmers in the use of agricultural lime in maintenance of soil fertility, which may be had on request at the office of the State Market Agent, 712 Court House, Portland, or of the State Lime Board, Salem. Practically all of the soils in the Willamette Valley and the coast counties are in acid condition and the matter of bringing them back to high fertility is of outstanding importance.

Fined for Short Weighing

The state potato law provides that in the sale or shipment of potatoes in lots of 50 pounds or more the stock must be graded and the grade and seller's name stenciled on the sacks. A large Portland fruit and produce company put out potatoes in sacks of slightly less than the 50 pounds in weight, thus evading the grading and stenciling provisions, and put them on sale, but the sacks were marked 50 pounds. The State Weights and Measures Department promptly arrested them for short-weighting, when they were fined $15 and the court costs.

Canada Leads in Cooperation

Canada is making more advancement in the way of co-operative marketing of agricultural products than any other country of the world. Approximately 430,000 farmers out of a total of 700,000 in the Dominion are selling their products through such organizations, to the value of $300,000,000. Canadians respond readily and loyally to the movement and many powerful co-operatives are being built up. When more than 50 per cent of the farmers of a country of the size of Canada combine for mutual protection, there is a significance in the cooperative movement.

You and the world

You can sit in your room and turn through advertising pages — Demand any portion of the world before you to come to you, and it will come! You can summon an ounce of French garden in a perfume vial; intricate pieces of Switzerland in a tiny wrist watch; a corner of California packed in an orange; a handful of Virginia to stuff in your pipe; sunny Seville in olives; a taste of Ceylon in tea.

Advertisements tell you the desirable portions of the world you can buy. How most quickly to call them to you. How much you'll like them when yours. Grown on a far island—dug from a mine if it's advertised and you ask for it, it's yours. If you ask it to do what it's advertised to do, it will. If you ask others who have used it what they found out about it, they will repeat facts advertised about that product. Advertisements are your surest, quickest means of enjoying the world. They help you obtain the best the world offers, at a price which wide use has made low.
