Learning things

Children aren't taught words by syllables any more, but by their meanings. They learn it's the use of a word that counts — not merely its pleasing sound.

When you buy, you know it's the use of a product that counts, not merely its pleasing sound. You can learn its uses and all it means — before you buy. If you read the advertisements, you know definitely how a certain refrigerator will act in your own kitchen; how that furniture polish will improve your own chairs. What is advertised has to do what it's advertised to do. Advertisements are honest. They invite too many thousands of testers not to be honest. Their continued advertising proves them honest! You take advertised facts on faith — as you take the dictionary on faith. You know that the perfume, hosiery, canned goods they describe are the perfumes, hosiery, canned goods widely enjoyed. You read advertisements to know the true meaning of things before you invest in their use.

Country Participates in Navy Celebration

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—(U. P.)—Up and down the coasts and in inland cities, naval officials today are driving home to the American people the need for adequate sea defense.

From Secretary of the Navy Curtis D. Wilbur, who will speak from Washington over a long radio hookup, to the humblest of welcoming guests aboard ship, the service is concentrating on "selling this Navy Day to the country."

Assistant Secretary of the Navy Robinson is to speak at the Navy Day celebration of the Philadelphia Sesqui-centennial, and Assistant Secretary Warner will make an address at Little Rock, Ark. General A. C. Dalton, president of the U. S. Emergency Fleet Corporation, will participate in the radio program here with Wilbur.

Under special orders, warship commanders are holding "open-house" for townsfolk in various ports, explaining the mysteries of fighting craft to the visitors.

Even President Coolidge's private yacht, the Mayflower, has been opened for public inspection here today.
