

Starvation Is Coming Shortly

BERKELEY, Cal., Nov. 4. — (United News) — Dr. David P. Barrows, former president of the University of California and a noted political economist, believes that the world is approaching a stage of wholesale starvation.

Dr. Barrows' views were brought out when he commented on a machine article in a magazine on a magazine article which declared that Mexico would save the world from ultimate starvation. Dr. Barrows recently returned from that country after conducting an economic investigation.

"No sane person can dodge the conclusion that this world is due to face wholesale starvation some day," he said the rate population is increasing more acres of land are needed. At present the acreage is decreasing and to avert disaster the world must find new lands.

Dr. Barrows said that Mexico needs capital to develop her agriculture.

"Before her revolutionary wars an intelligent, hard working group of Spanish immigrants invested money in agriculture there and have lost their entire fortunes," he said. "Such an example will not encourage similar action on the part of the others."

GIRLS BOBBED HAIR IS CAUSE OF DEATH

VIENNA — (United Press) — Because the neighbors teased her on the day she bobbed her hair, fifteen year-old Marie Kriz of this city committed suicide by jumping from the third story flat of her parents.

With the permission of her parents Marie had her hair bobbed. When she returned home her parents were away. A neighbor saw her an began to tease her for having "baby hair". Other neighbors joined in, telling her that she was a fool. Marie was so upset that she rushed upstairs, opened the window and jumped out. She was killed instantly on the pavement below.

STUDENT STEAMER DUE IN YOKOHAMA TODAY

TOKYO — (United Press) — The steamer Ryndam, chartered for the American College Cruise and carrying 530 United States university students around the world, is scheduled to arrive in Yokohama today from Honolulu. A preparatory committee in Tokyo has completed plans for the activities of the students while they are in Japan.

The Government is cooperating with various organizations in an effort to see that the students get a thorough idea of life and conditions in the Empire.

The students will visit points of interest in Tokyo, Nikko, Nara, Kyoto and other points and will be accompanied by volunteer Japanese guides.

During 1926, 222,755 visitors enjoyed Stuslaw National Forest privileges.

Penalized

The University of Cincinnati has a rule against students parking their cars on the campus. But Betty Bru man, a freshman, did it anyway—so the Woman's Vigilance Committee sentenced her to wash her car, then and there. This shows her doing it.

WAITERS TAUGHT FRENCH FOR COMPOSING MENUS

STOCKHOLM—(United Press) — Polite manners, everyday English sight seeing geography, foreign money, the liquor laws of Sweden, and menu card French are to be the things to be taught at the new school for waiters turned into a training school and opened in Stockholm.

A former restaurant has been cooks as well as waiters, are drilled in the art of properly serving the public, especially foreign visitors.

The special course in French is limited to the writing of menus but conversational English is being taught, first, because a tolerable use of it can be learned by Swedes more quickly than any other tongue, and, second, because the managers feel that English is to be the world language of the future.

COOL CAVE UTILIZED FOR STORAGE PLANT

ZACK, Ark., Nov. 5.—(UP)— Orchardists for miles around the vicinity of Zacks, in Searcy county, heart of the Ozarks, practice economy by utilizing a "blowing" cave near here for a mammoth storage plant. There is only a slight range of temperature in the cave in summer and winter, the thermometers hovering around 40 degrees most of the time.

Apples, strawberries and other fruits and meat are hauled to the cave, which is located near a railroad, in large consignments for storage until such time as the farmers wish to market their products.

Florida's Fate Arouses International Sympathy For Disaster Sufferers

Emergency Red Cross Hospital scene in Florida hurricane zone. Oval—Ambassador Matsudaira of Japan who offered Japanese aid to America in the relief of Florida victims.

THE greatest disaster relief problem since the San Francisco earthquake—that is the estimate of the Florida hurricane problem by Chairman John Barton Payne of the American Red Cross. Upwards of 50,000 individuals in dire need constitute the elements of this problem, Red Cross authorities on the scene reported to National Headquarters following a survey.

Few disasters in American history have aroused such world-wide interest and sympathy in behalf of people of this country as did the Florida hurricane it is indicated by the telegrams and cables of sympathy from abroad. Of outstanding interest is the fact that the Japanese Ambassador, in the name of the Japanese people, insisted that the United States accept assistance from them. Chairman Payne has disclosed that just after the disaster Japan, through the American State Department, offered to make a popular appeal to her people for subscriptions to aid the Florida sufferers. The American Red Cross, it was stated, had not thought this step necessary. Subsequently the Japanese Ambassador, in addition to a substantial personal contribution to the relief fund, forwarded 10,000 yen, the equivalent of $5,000, from the Japanese people.

The Cuban Red Cross gave aid, and the Hungarian Red Cross, among others, offered assistance. The American Red Cross, in calling attention to its Tenth Annual Roll Call for membership, from November 11 to 25, points out that its services abroad as well as those at home are an important factor in international friendship.

Army Chief

General Heye the German staff officer who first advised the Kaiser to abdicate his throne is the new chief of the Reichswehr or German national army. He replaces General Von Seeckt who was forced out because he admitted a son of the former crown prince to the army.

Forerunner of Death Ray

An assistant is shown holding the tube, perfected by Dr. W. D. Coolidge (inset), of New York, used to generate the cathode ray, the newest marvel of science. The ray, believed to be the forerunner of a military death ray, kills insects, changes colors of minerals, and disintegrates flesh. (International Newsreel)
