

FRANKLIN BREAD WINS PRAISE FROM CALIFORNIA FISHERMAN

It is the unsolicited letters of praise which make the biggest hit, and that, perhaps, accounts for the smile which diffused the face of O. F. Franklin today after he had finished reading the following unexpected letter from R. H. Platt, justice of the peace of Yreka, Yreka county, Calif., relative to the quality of the local baker's Superior brand bread:

to state herewith that I never tasted more delicious baking. It had that sought-for, wholesome flavor of new wheat. The texture was also extraordinarily fine.

Under the circumstances I thought that you might appreciate a token of appreciation, as an endorsement of your methods of manufacture, and I write this brief line with that intent.

Please continue the good work, and be assured that I shall ask for your brand, if I ever return to that locality.

Very Truly Yours,
R. H. PLATT.

Franklin's Baker, Ashland, Ore. Dear Sirs:

Although the idea may be overworked, and sometimes used for Vale of Booze and Bootleg finds that whenever a pilgrim in this ulterior purposes, it seems to me something worthy of commendation, that it is no more than proper that he should make a note of it, and, if possible, commend the originator.

Making an Angler's Pilgrimage to the Upper Sacramento and the Klamath a short time ago, it became necessary to secure provender, and among other necessities procured at Yreka, we obtained several loaves of white bread. Now I am not addicted to the use of the albino variety, as old age and depravity have affected my digestion, but this seemed so excellent that I made it part of my menu, and I wish

Missionary Society of Congregational Church Meets—
The Missionary Society of the Congregational church met at the home of Mrs. Sadie Stratton on Iowa street, Thursday, November fourth.

The subject, "Missionaries on the Frontier," was led by Mrs. H. B. Carter, who also had charge of the devotional part of the meeting. Others taking part in the program were Mrs. Charles Gray, Mrs. Anna Prescott and Mrs. Don Spencer. A splendid talk was also given by both Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Gaffney. Besides being a business meeting this affair was partly given as an informal reception in honor of Rev. and Mrs. Charles D. Gaffney, new minister and wife of the Congregational church.

Mrs. Stratton was assisted in serving delicious refreshments by Mrs. Agnes Herndon.

Berean Class Meets With Mrs. H. C. Hanson—
The Berean Class of the Baptist Sunday School, met Thursday afternoon at the pleasant home of Mrs. H. C. Hanson on Gresham street to enjoy a business and social time together.

A very pleasant afternoon was spent in sewing and conversation, and about half an hour was spent in a business session during which time Mrs. S. A. Peters was re-elected class president and Mrs. Alfred Segsworth vice president. Mrs. Segsworth was one of the fortunate parties to win a prize in the recent letter contest in the Tidings, and her friends were glad her ability was thus recognized.

Mrs. Hanson was assisted by her sister Mrs. Hatherne in serving very dainty refreshments at the close of the meeting.

Those present were the Mesdames Dunkeson, Hatherne, Lena Heard, C. N. Gilmour, O. F.

Carson, Jas Boyd, S. A. Peters, Alfred Segsworth, Curtis Lusk, H. O. Anderson, Robert Johnson, the Misses Sarah Sperry, May Benedict and the hostess Mrs. H. C. Hanson.

Trinity Guild Meets Thursday—
The Trinity Guild of the Trinity Episcopal church, held its regular meeting in the Parish House, Thursday afternoon November fourth.

The meeting, which is usually a business one, was turned into a social party the main feature being a handkerchief shower for Mrs. C. W. Winnie, president of the Guild. The members wished to show their appreciation and sincere friendship for their leader, who may be compelled to give up her office and move from Ashland, on account of the Southern Pacific Railroad terminal being moved to Klamath Falls.

The afternoon was spent in happy conversation, and at a late hour the committee in charge served delicious and dainty refreshments.

There was a large attendance, everyone having a jolly time.

Camp Fire Girls Enjoy a Banquet—
The High School Camp Fire girls enjoyed a delightful banquet on Wednesday evening November third, in the cafeteria room at the high school. The delicious meal was cooked and ideally served by the Misses Irwanda Bateman and Lucille Carson, who gave the affair as one of the requirements for the rank of Pine Maker.

The table was beautifully decorated with large bouquets of yellow chrysanthemums, artistically arranged, with dainty and unique place cards completing the pleasing effect.

After the banquet, a business meeting was held and plans for the annual Camp Fire stunt show were discussed. On Thursday evening, immediately after school the guardians met with the officers of the two groups to complete the plans, and committees were appointed to work out certain parts of the entertainment.

Social Circle Meets Wednesday—
The Social Circle of the Christian church will meet in the church parlors Wednesday, November tenth at 2:30 p. m. A large attendance is expected, and as time is flying, there is much work to be done.

Please come equipped with needles, thimble and scissors. All bring worsted blocks for comfort. There are many things to get ready for the bazaar and cooked food sale to be given December eleventh. Also the 4-act drama entitled "In The Shadow of The Cross" to be put on the evening of December first, at the Christian church by the Wright California Players.

Past Noble Grand Club Meets—
The Past Noble Grand Club of Hope Rebekah Lodge, No. 14, will meet at the home of Mrs. Louis Schwein at 171 Church street, Friday, November 12, from two to five.

Herenia Class of Christian Church Has Supper—
The Berean Sunday School Class of the First Christian church enjoyed a covered dish supper at the home of Mrs. Floyd Putnam on Beach street, Friday evening, November fifth.

A short business session was held, during which time Mrs. W. E. Moore was elected president; Mrs. J. Caldwell, vice-president and Mrs. Art Webber, secretary and treasurer.

Following a delightful program the guests were served a delicious covered dish supper.

Stringed Instrument Club Meets—
"Peggy and Her Pop Peddlers," the local stringed instrument club met Thursday evening, November fourth, at the home of Miss Lilian Olson, on Laurel Avenue.

The regular business session was held, at which time four members were admitted to the club. They also decided on committees of three who are to have charge of the meetings and entertainments of the club for the rest of the year. The committee which will entertain next time consists of Miss Laura Raguse, Eunice Hager and Milton Franklin.

Miss Raguse passed out copies of a new piece, "In the Garden," and the club spent most of the evening practicing this, as well as several other songs.

OLD HERMIT NOW BACK IN CABIN

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Nov. 8.—(United News)—Peter the Hermit is back after an absence of months.

Peter was one of the landmarks of the film colony until civilization began to overtake him and he announced that he was sick and tired of so much progress and that he was headed for the "big open spaces."

Two years ago, a certain movie corporation built a studio near Peter's camp—in Calhoun canyon. Peter was disgusted. And Peter left.

Now Peter is back. But he is an entirely different Peter.

According to an announcement from a dancing instructor the former hermit has decided to take up the art of larpachore. He will appear at a popular ball room with his own idea of the latest dance, the Valencia.

If "Uncle Eddie" Wales Never Has Kiddies

WALE'S NIECE.
Left: The Duchess of York and Her Little Daughter, Who Some Day May Be Queen of England.

Duke of York would succeed Wales, or, in the event of the deaths of both Wales and the Duke, the Duke's issue. So, when "Uncle Eddie" looks at the Duke's child—a baby daughter—he can say to her, "You may be Queen of England some day, my dear!" If the Duke should have a son, however, he would outrank his sister. The children of Princess Mary—little boys—haven't much chance, although they, too, are "in the royal line."

IF the Prince of Wales, still the world's prize "hold-out" royal bachelor, never has children, who will follow him to the English throne? Here's the answer as DeBrett's Peerage gives it: When the sovereign is without surviving issue, the nearest heir—male or female—is heir presumptive. That means, no matter how stupid: first, the
