

WOOD LOSES IN SKIRMISH

Trouble in Islands Reaches an Acute Stage, With Trouble Ahead

MANILA, Dec. 7. (UN)—The clash between Governor General Leonard Wood and Filipino leaders reached an acute stage today when Wood appointed two new directors of the national coal company, only to learn that Manuel Quezon and Manuel Roxas also had named two men for the post.

Quezon and Roxas were members of the board of control which Wood recently abolished, but they refused to heed the order and still are functioning. The board controls public utilities.

Wood lost today's skirmish for the president of the coal company recognized the Filipino appointments and if Wood's appointees are to be put in office his administration must appeal to the Philippine supreme court and possibly to the supreme court of the United States.

Wood, who is ill, gave Fred Fisher, former justice, his proxy and Fisher named the coal directors.

Quezon declared he would go to America and appear before the supreme court if permitted.

MAKES ROUNDS

BERLIN, Dec. 7. (UN)—A little anecdote narrating an adventure of Joseph Choate, erstwhile Ambassador of the United States to the court of St. James, is making the rounds in Germany. It has been revived by the liberal German press in connection with the recent reintroduction of uniforms for German diplomats and is meant to ridicule the German government's explanation that only by wearing uniforms could German diplomats be safe against being taken for servants.

Choate's story is related as follows: After a brilliant banquet at London, where the Ambassador of the United States had been one of the few guests in muffs, he was accosted in the hall by a be-medalled, uniformed diplomat who haughtily addressed Choate saying: "Call me a four-wheeler." America's ambassador bowed politely and with a smile retorted: "You are a four wheeler."

No "Bum Steer" to This

Here we have "Rupert B." world's champion beef steer, who was sold to an Atlantic City hotel for $3.50 per pound after winning first place in the International Livestock Exposition at Chicago. Since Rupert weighs 970 pounds, that runs into money. He's shown here with Neil Walker and Mildren Nugget (right) of Chicago.

ONE BUNGALOW ENOUGH

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 7. (UN)—"A bungalow built for two," carols the sentimental poet, singing the delights of young love.

But—"two bungalows built for one?" "Never" is the fervent reply of Eugene V. Webster and his bride, Corliss Palmer. "Not even when they're right next door to one another."

And the millionaire publisher and the former beauty contest winner should know—because after waiting six long years for a rose-covered bungalow of their very own, they are still living apart, each in one of the aforementioned bungalows.

They recently eloped and were married at Esenada, Mexico, but Brewster continues to live alone, with his wife in a bungalow next door. A private hedge is all that separates the two houses, but whether in this instance, love, which has been known to surmount insuperable obstacles, has learned to hurdle the hedge, Brewster does not say.

Anyhow, cruel fate in the guise of the former Mrs. Brewster, has inverted the sentimental fable in a most ironic and outrageous manner.

And not only has destiny decreed that the romantic pair live apart, in adjoining bungalows, but when the irate former wife declared her intention of contesting the divorce which Brewster had obtained only the day previous to his latest marriage, all plans for a honeymoon had to be indefinitely postponed.

"All our plans are still in abeyance," Brewster said. "Miss Palmer will continue to keep her maiden name until matters are settled."

Boxing Is Beseet By Many Dangers

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—Professional boxing, although it enjoyed the most lucrative period of its history during 1926, enters the new year, beseet by dangers.

For boxing, as conducted today, is its own worst enemy. The public likes it and has just paid an unprecedented sum to witness it during the past 12 months.

In the two largest cities of the United States, however, where boxing naturally would be expected to make the most money, those who depend upon the game for a livelihood are none too happy over the situation.

Tex Rickard isn't going to build a fight arena in Chicago and Humbert J. Fugazy, his rival, isn't going to build one in New York. The situation in Chicago is quite different from that in this city.

The latest "Chicago decision" which transferred the middleweight championship to Mickey Walker and Jack Keenan hasn't helped to stabilize boxing in Illinois.

In New York it is the war between Rickard and "Jack" Fugazy which makes the boxing situation precarious and uncertain. Inspired by his success in staging the Berlenbach-Delaney fight, the Italian-American promoter had ambitions to beat Tex at the latter's own game.

Brewster met Miss Palmer six years ago when she won a beauty contest conducted by one of his movie magazines.

Y. M. C. A. FORMS A PIONEER BOYS CLUB

Twenty Are Registered For Membership as Result of Round Up

Twenty boys of the Pioneer age, 12 to 15 years, have registered at Y. M. C. A. headquarters for Pioneer club work, as a result of the round-up staged in Junior High gym last Friday evening. Officials of the Y. M. C. A. have every reason to believe that this number will be more than doubled in the next few days. Every effort will be bent now to secure the proper leadership for these boys, and to get their clubs under way, following which a Pioneer Central Council composed of representatives from the various Pioneer clubs will be organized for the purpose of outlining plans for the months ahead. "The boys have a lot of things they are anxious to see put over, and we are just as anxious to help them put it over," Secretary Walter said this morning. Every effort possible will be made to get every boy in the city into some one of the Y. M. C. A. clubs this winter.

PORTLAND PASTORS ROMANCE SHATTERED

Federal Officers Arrest Minister on Serious Charge

PORTLAND, Dec. 8. (UN)—The existence of what is said to have been an extended romance between the Rev. W. G. Jones, former pastor of the Third Baptist church here and Mrs. Pearl Lee, a member of his congregation, together with details of a trip the two are alleged to have made from Portland to Fort Worth, Texas, was revealed by federal officials here Tuesday, with the arrest of the pastor in Los Angeles on white slave charges.

The Rev. Jones was secretly indicted here by the last federal grand jury. Removal papers are to be sent to Los Angeles and the pastor will be brought here to face prosecution. Assistant U. S. Attorney Stearns said.

While the minister is being held in Los Angeles Mrs. Lee is back in Portland with her husband and four children at their home on Haight Ave.

As Stearns described the case it apparently was the old story of the handsome and eloquent gospel preacher an attractive woman of his flock, their meetings at the church, the beginning of a love affair, its growth and then the fall.

"The fall," Stearns said, came after the Rev. Jones and Mrs. Lee, forgetting everything in the ecstasy of their infatuation, left Portland last August and traveled

MUST PAY DAMAGES

SALEM, Dec. 8.—The Oregon supreme court held today that the city of La Grande must pay A.A.S. Bloomquist $7,500 damages for the death of four year old Leroy Bloomquist, who was drowned when she fell through a defective sidewalk into a flume. Holding that inadequate funds does not excuse a municipality, the court affirmed the damage decree which was awarded to Mrs. Bloomquist by Judge J. W. Knowles of the Union county circuit court.

to Fort Worth. The government charges the pastor with having made the trip for immoral purposes, and it is to this allegation that the Rev. Jones must answer in federal court here.

Inside the Now

People didn't know about things in the Dark Ages. They didn't know what was in lightning, mines, trees, air, that with a little ingenuity would make an electric light, a watch, a high-grade soap, a radio. They didn't know how to go about to know things. They didn't have many things worth while to know.

Today you have countless conveniences. You have all the facts you need to get hold of these conveniences. You have advertisements. Advertisements tell you frankly of wonders you can buy, where to buy them, how to recognize them, how to use them, how much to pay. By reading advertisements you can know what they will do for you before you spend one cent. How that lubricant will act in your own car. How that electric stove will lighten work in your own kitchen. Advertisements spread things before you so conveniently that almost by reaching out — you have them! You find them in any better store. Their prices low, because advertisements urge their use by thousands. Their values honest, because they are advertised as they are. The best you can buy, because what is widely advertised is what has survived harsh public test.

Don't let the Dark Ages touch any portion of your life. Use the advertisements. They surround you with Now
