Budget Day (National Thrift Week) Marshall Dana, editor of the Portland Journal and president of the Pacific Coast Advertising Clubs Association, calls attention to the fact that 50 per cent of the wages and salaries to be earned in this country during 1927 have been pledged three months to a year ahead for purchases made last year. Rather startling figures these—figures which surely indicate the advisability of making a budget to include not only amounts to be spent, but amounts to be saved. If you make it a practice to save the price before you buy, you will discover that the difference in price due to interest alone will build a sizable surplus. Let this be your Thrift Week resolution!
