

HEAVY GLOOM HANGS OVER MONTMARIRE AS FRANK GOES UPWARD

By JOHN O'BRIEN
United Press Staff Correspondent

PARIS, (UP)—There is gloom in Montmarire. The proprietors of all-night resorts are aghast and are considering putting up an immense sign stretching from the rue Fontaine across the rue Pigalle and right up to the Church of the Sacred Heart with the legend: "Closed on account of bankruptcy." It's all because of the franc.

As the national currency goes up and up in value the patriotic owners of the pleasure palaces feel their hearts dropping lower and lower. The foreign element, without which the cafes couldn't exist, is going off to other climes where a pound sterling or a dollar can still purchase what their possessors have been accustomed to for more than a year.

"I don't care whether you believe it or not, a place like mine costs as much as a circus. One cafe owner told me, 'I have to pay author's right on the songs and music. I have higher taxes than a movie show. I pay 5,000 francs a night to a girl who gets only 1,000 francs at the theatre where she plays before midnight. Why, all that costs me more than my lights and my linen bill—without talking of the other overhead.'"

The Americans and English who didn't care at all when they had to pay 20 francs a drink at the bar when that meant only 40 cents or two shillings think twice about it when a round of drinks cost more than in a night club in New York or London. Two hundred francs for champagne two or three months ago represented an expenditure of four dollars or less than a pound. Today it represents almost double that figure. No wonder the night resorts are empty and their owners dismal.

Baptist Missionary Society Meets Wednesday

The Baptist Missionary Society held their regular meeting in the church parlors Wednesday afternoon, January nineteenth.

Mrs. R. A. Segsworth, president of the Society, called the meeting to order in her usual capable manner. The minutes of the previous meeting were read, and several important business matters concerning the Society were taken care of.

A program committee was appointed to meet with the officers and arrange the program for the year's work. Those on the program committee were appointed to meet with the officers and arrange the program for the year's work. Those on this committee were Miss Clarabell Morehouse, Mrs. C. W. Hanson and Mrs. H. O. Anderson.

Mrs. Payton Ward was leader of the meeting. Mrs. S. A. Peters, Sr., had charge of the devotional period, reading the thirteenth chapter of 1 Co., and Mrs. James Tomney led in prayer. Mrs. G. F. Carson related an interesting story of a Jewish Missionary, whom she knew personally, and Mrs. Ward told of her experiences with Jewish families in San Francisco. Mrs. Segsworth read an article on the "Columbia River Indians," and Miss Morehouse read a personal letter from a Missionary friend.

Addresses were given so that the other ladies might write to these Missionaries.

Hostesses to a Number of Friends—Mrs. Will Dodge, Mrs. Louis Dodge and Mrs. H. C. Galey were the gracious hostesses to a number of their friends at the Lithia Springs hotel, Thursday afternoon, January twentieth.

The ballroom of the hotel was arranged to represent a huge living room, and the massive plush davenport, beautiful oriental rugs, silk cushions, ferns, softly lighted floor lamps and the piano were arranged as only expert interior decorators could have arranged them.

Mrs. W. M. Boley gave a very clever monologue, "Lavinia at the Wedding," the high school trio, composed of Miss Mary Galey, Miss Rose Atkins and Miss Floy Young, played several selections and Miss Eunice Hager sang two beautiful solos, accompanied by Miss Mary Galey at the piano and Miss Rose Atkins on the cello.

The conversation during the afternoon ran from new spring fashions to golf, and indications point to the probability of the golf links being the most popular spot around Ashland when the weather clears, so that in-door parties are no longer in vogue.

Delicious refreshments of sherbert and waters and coffee were served, late in the afternoon. There were seventy-five guests present.

Official Visit of Queen Held at Grants Pass

The official visit of the Supreme Queen of the Daughters of the Nile, will be held at Grants Pass Tuesday, January twenty-fifth at two-thirty p. m. There will be initiation and installation of officers.

Sunday School Class Entertained—The girls of the Helping Hand Sunday school class of the Methodist Episcopal church were entertained with a delicious dinner at the home of their teacher, Miss Beulah Hussey, Friday evening, January fourteenth.

The evening was spent listening to music and playing games. Those who enjoyed this delightful affair were Helen Hartley, Mildred Barber, Agnes Harvey, Ruth Parsons, Wilma Nutter, Eleanor Coombs, Frances Hardy, Miss Hussey and her mother, Mrs. Hussey.

STANFORD WINS LOS ANGELES, Jan. 22 (UN)—Stanford's basketball team defeated the University of Southern California 23 to 27 here last night in a game which went an extra five minute period.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Mr. Walters of the Ashland Y. M. C. A. introduced to the A. H. S. student body Dr. David G. Lathaw, National Secretary of the Y. M. C. A. who gave a very interesting talk. Dr. Lathaw told of his trip that he took last summer. He went to a meeting of all the nations of the world in Finland. Here, he said, men and boys of every creed, race and language gathered to talk over problems of their own young people. Dr. Lathaw said that the peace and good will instilled into the hearts of these young men by the meetings will be the eventual eradication of war.

Mr. Warren Doremus of the S. O. N. S. made an announcement to the student body of the Maroon play which is to be given Saturday evening in the Normal auditorium.

The Junior class is giving a cooked food sale Saturday in the Plaza Grocery. The sale will begin at 10:30 and continue all afternoon. The juniors are trying hard to swell their treasury, so that the Junior-senior prom can be given.

Mr. Forgytha has made out a new schedule for the second semester. Two new classes may be offered; one in free hand drawing and one in History. Several students have requested that a course in psychology be given, but this is not certain.

The question "Resolved that the State of Oregon should adopt a system of old age pensions," was debated on by four A. H. S. debaters yesterday afternoon before the assembled student body.

The affirmative was upheld by Dick Joy and Adena Joy, while Eileen Galey and Nedra Bartlett spoke for the negative. The judges were Mr. Byers, Mr. Sheldon and Miss Calmenson. The judges turned in two votes for the negative and one for the affirmative. Jack Baldwin acted as the chairman of the debate, introducing the speakers and announcing the results of the vote.

The arguments of both sides were put forth with clearness and force by each debater, rebuttals being given by Miss Galey and Mr. Joy.

The debate was for practice for further inter-scholastic debates.

All the varsity basketball girls were examined by Dr. Gregg yesterday afternoon so that certificates of physical examination can be filled out for them.

Mr. Sheldon took his class in Physics to the Ashland ice plant Tuesday morning, and his chemistry class in the afternoon to observe the process of ice making.

Playing Safe

If you know the baker of the bread you buy, or depend on the name on the wrapper—you know the bread is wholesome, with the fresh flavor you like. If you don't know the baker or name on the wrapper, you buy the bread, you take a chance. Bread costs only a few cents. You can afford that chance.

Yet suppose instead of bread, it's an expensive watch. Or suppose instead of something that must taste good to be good, it's a medicine that must be pure in a way you can't taste—or else do actual harm. You'd want to be sure about that watch. You'd have to be sure about that medicine.

There's one way to be sure. Buy only the widely advertised. Whatever is thrown open to unlimited public test is safe for you to use the way it is recommended for you to use. Names you can depend upon stand behind it. Thousands are finding those names dependable and their products strictly true. That's how they continue to be put on printed pages before you. That's why you should read those printed pages. Names on advertised canned fruits—records—kitchen utensils—whatever you need—stand as friends to you. Their products don't betray your faith.

PAY BILLS DAY

SATURDAY

"ALL THINGS WHATSOEVER YE WOULD THAT MEN SHOULD DO TO YOU, DO YE EVEN SO TO THEM"

No one realizes more fully the importance of prompt payment of obligations than the professional man or the merchant, for his own livelihood depends upon that factor. And if the man or woman living upon salary or income will stop and think, "What should I do if my weekly or monthly check were held up a month—even a week?"—he too will realize the fair-mindedness of discharging one's debts as they become due.

There are very few valid excuses for inability to do so. The man who budgets his income and lives within his means knows how much he will owe at a given date and has the money to pay it. If he is thrifty, he has a surplus laid aside for emergencies and will not have to touch the money which really belongs to the grocer, the butcher, the doctor, the clothier, if sudden need arises.

Think of your obligations in that light. You have enjoyed the use of the merchandise or the services of the professional man, and the money in your pocket is rightfully his. If you are careless, resolve to mend your ways now. If on the other hand, your tardiness is the result of improper management, make Thrift Week the beginning of a new, orderly scheme of living and budgeting.
