

NEWS of the MARKETS

First Presbyterian Church
"The Church with Illuminated Bulletin."
"Physical perfection is still the most illusive thing in the world," says Dr. Plak, who in 14 years has examined 500,000 men. "We have found not one Grade A man. Even the Grade B's are far too rare. It is even impossible to find a perfect specimen at birth." The same is true of all of us in our spiritual nature. The whole world is imperfect and needs a Savior, just like the one we have. Go to church next Sunday and hear more of this Savior.

Our young people will each hand in a written answer to the question: "What am I here for?" Do you know why you are a church member? Some folks do. Some don't seem to. Maybe some really don't know. Anyway, let's see what the young folks say.

Preaching, 7:30.
Note: Save February the sixth for the Sunday morning service. Dr. Eubanks, one of the noted missionaries in the world will tell us of affairs in China. We know of no one better fitted to tell the story of China, and no one who captures and holds the interest of his hearers better than Dr. Eubanks. Yours is the loss if you fail to hear him.

ROSES
Red as the wine of forgotten ages. Yellow as gold of the sunbeams spun.

Pink as the gowns of Aurora's pages, White as the robes of a sinless one, Sweeter than Araby's winds that blow.

Roses, roses I love you so. Crowning the altar where vows are spoken, Cradling the form that is still and cold.

Symbol of joy—of love's last token, Telling the story that never grows old.

Cluster of beauty whom none can dispar, Know ye, I wonder, how fair ye are?

Blooming for monarch in palaces royal, Queenliest charmers in all the place,

Blooming for yeomen, tender and royal, Stooping to kiss his toil-stained face.

Roses, roses, born but to bless, Yield me your secret of loveliness. J. C. R. DORR.
