BELLVIEW NOTES

The next regular meeting of the Upper Valley Community Club will be held in the club rooms at the new community house next Tuesday, Feb. 8.

It had been hoped the new county demonstration agent would meet with us, but as she is out of the county until after the fifteenth, the club has decided to put the day in the "dolling up" of the new home. Windows will be washed, the auditorium will be redecorated, window drapes will be made and hung, chairs will be trimmed, upholstery recovered, and painting done. The club wish to thank especially Mr. and Mrs. Carl Gottsche, for donations to the club of four easy chairs, and the drapes for both the club room and kitchen windows. The meeting Tuesday, will be an all day session and a full attendance is hoped for. There is lots to be done! Plenty for all.

Mr. W. D. Jackson, of the palace Lunch, graciously offered the club an electric coffee urn, which he is not now using. So an electric plate will be purchased and this urn put into use at once, for our scheduled parties.

Keep your dates open for either the 17 or 18 of February. It will be worth your while to visit "Cyclone Sally," at the Community House on one of these nights.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Homes returned from Portland Wednesday where Fred had been in attendance at the annual meeting of the State Chamber of Commerce.

A modern dance will be given at the club house Tuesday, February 8. Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Robertson and Carl Loveland will furnish the music for this dance. The floor is still being worked and a better time than ever is promised for the eighth. We will serve pie and coffee that night, and so depart from our regular rule of either cake or doughnuts.

A committee of men from the chamber of commerce met with a few men from Bellview Tuesday night at the school house and had a very helpful session. A meeting en-masse will be held before long and a generally helpful time planned.

Don't forget that the Bellview women are holding a food sale at Hardy Bros. Saturday. You can get lots of good things to eat there and so help relieve baking for Sunday.

Henry Homes and Wilbur Tucker drove to Prospect Wednesday for the purpose of looking over the sight of the new Copco unit which is under construction this year.

The old time dance at the community house Tuesday night was a success. The weather was bad, but in spite of that we cleared a substantial sum.

Mr. and Mrs. Carston of Albany, who have been spending some weeks in California, are vis-

Railroad Head Issues Warning

PORTLAND, Feb. 4.—(UN)—Rather significant suggestion that Oregon should look a little to the matter of setting a brake on its rapidly increasing bonded indebtedness was made by Paul Shoup, executive vice-president of the Southern Pacific railway company at Monday's members' forum luncheon of the Portland chamber of Commerce, host to the Oregon state chamber delegates in session here.

"Statistics show that from an outstanding bonded indebtedness of $34,000,000 in 1915 Oregon's bonded debt had increased in 1925 to $173,000,000 and though it may be that the state and its people have seen fit to assume the burden as a matter of good investment, the rate of increase considering what other states have done, is somewhat alarming."

Mr. and Mrs. S. K. Barnes, as they are enroute home. They were very enthusiastic and enjoyable members of the old time dance at the club house Tuesday, as was also Mr. Carly of Medford, who is too, a house guest of the Barnes.

Shoup intimated further great activities for the Southern Pacific company in Oregon by saying that "if the powers that be are willing," the Southern Pacific hopes eventually to give Oregon another direct main line railroad east from southwestern Oregon through Klamath Falls and on by way of Alturas.
