Where the road swings around the hill above the pump house I made three switchbacks and was at the edge of the flat, and from the shelter of a tree. I looked toward the Lodge, a faint outline of it would appear for an instant and then disappear. A half a mile of Hell! Could I stand up? I took the heel straps off my skis and started. I hadn't underestimated it a bit. It was Hell Baker Lauds and then some. It was a lucky thing that I had removed the heelstraps for I was no sooner down than I was up again. One moment I was blinded by the snow whipped in my eyes by the wind and the next I was piled in the ditch. The frozen particles of crust cut like a knife and my face was bleeding in several places. blowing me toward the rim. Payroll Holdup

CHICAGO, Feb. 12.-(UN)-Scores of co-eds and men students of the University of Chicago saw bandits kidnap two men in front glad you tried it.—Lithia Springs of the new medical building, and rob them of a $5,000 payroll Friday.

The victims, Edward McCullin, superintendent, and Carl Tucker. messenger for the Harold I. Sutton Construction company, were taken by the bandits in an automobile for three miles.

The bandits escaped. McCullin and Tucker had just arrived at the college with pay for 85 plasterers employed on the new building. As they started to enter, two men, one armed with a shotgun, leaped from a parked automobile and forced them to enter. They drove away with McCullin and Tucker, and, after taking their bag of money, pushed them out of the machine.
