Birthplace Will Honor Inventor

BY GERALD D. McCLEAN
United Press Staff Correspondent
MILAN, Ohio, Feb. 18.—(UP)—Where the Huron river winds its way through the rolling hills of this little town—the birthplace of Thomas A. Edison—the citizens are planning to erect a monument to Milan's most famous son.

The scriptural truth that "a prophet is without honor in his own country" cannot be applied to the inventor here. Milan plans to build a technical college as a permanent tribute to Edison.

The Civic Club is back of the project to make Milan the seat of a college that would have a curriculum of usefulness as demonstrated by the life of Edison. It plans to raise $10,000,000. Half of this will go for building and the remainder for endowment.

The campus will comprise 200 acres of land. Three or four sites are under option now and the probable selection is a space along the Huron where Edison gazed across the bluffs from his boyhood home on the opposite side of the river. If the plan to choose this site is successful, a boulevard will be laid out. Beside this there will be the campus and building sites, baseball and football fields and tourist camps furnished with modern conveniences. There will be tennis courts and a golf course, a large swimming pool and an airplane landing field.

The village wants to keep alive the traditions and ideals that made Thomas Edison the outstanding figure in the world of invention. Milan is a little town that the finger of prosperity touched and then passed by. Lake Erie is eight miles away, and in the early part of the last century boats made their way up the Huron from the inland seas. At that time, Milan was next to Odessa, Russia, the largest grain port in the world.

Each day say hundreds of wagon loads of grain come to Milan. It was loaded on to grain vessels, towed out to the lakes and shipped to all parts of the world. Ships were sent to Buffalo, down the old Erie canal and thence to New York by way of the Hudson river. Milan was a thriving metropolis.

Then the railroad came. The canal shippers refused to give the railroad ground and it swung through a neighboring town. When it was built and placed in operation, Milan began to go backward.

Now it is planned for Milan to "come back." Milan plans as its second phase, the preservation of the Old Edison birthplace. The old place will not stand the ravages of many more years and so that it may be saved for posterity it is proposed to build a beautiful museum over the humble dwelling.

BERNARD SHAW HAS HAPPY HOME LIFE

Reputation of Famous Writer Far Overshadows That of His Wife

LONDON—(UP)—When asked recently to contribute to a symposium on marriage, George Bernard Shaw replied, "No man dare write the truth about marriage while his wife lives. Unless, that is, he hates her, like Strindberg—and I don't."

Since Mrs. Shaw's appearance and personality are little known to the general public, only a few chosen of their inner circle of friends realized the true significance of Shaw's reply. Admirers, who have, from a distance followed Shaw for almost a lifetime, are sometimes more than a little shocked on finding Mrs. Shaw, the former Miss Charlotte Payne-Townsend, a woman of decided views of her own of many subjects. In some of them, no doubt, she comes in serious controversy with her famous husband.

Despite her devotion for her husband, she has never given way to his vegetarian views and is consequently able to sit at the table across from her husband eating a large juicy steak while he nibbles at his boiled potatoes, brussels sprouts and carrots. Their maid can frequently see a look of envy in Shaw's eyes and one of amusement in his wife's as Mrs. Shaw jibes him against his "rabbit food."

Moodful and eccentric to the utmost while dealing with great or small public men, George Bernard Shaw's home life is noteworthy for its calm and peace, and he and Mrs. Shaw settle points of policy in running a home with a severity which only nearly 30 years of married life can bring.

Although honored several times by the Royal Society of Arts, Shaw has never joined that organization, apparently considering too "highbrow" for an avowed socialist. Now a fluent linguist and before her marriage an extensive traveller, Mrs. Shaw holds the membership in the Royal Society of Arts which is felt necessary for the family.

At the Ashland Hotel—F. B. Emmons of Portland, Ore., W. A. Snaak of Los Angeles, Cal., and Mr. and Mrs. Julius Thompson of Tacoma, Wash., are among those who stopped at the Ashland hotel yesterday.

Attending Meeting—

J. R. McCracken and L. H. Gallatin of the Valley View district were in Medford recently to attend a meeting of the Southern Oregon Poultry Producers' Association.

Ill With Flu—

Miss Eugenia Carson, who teaches the primary grade in the Washington school, has been confined to her home for the past few days with the flu and was unable to attend her classes.

With all that publicity Charlie Chaplin ought to be a success in the movies.

Visitor from Klamath Falls—Lee Passenger of Klamath Falls spent yesterday in this city looking after business affairs.

Former Resident in Medford—

Mrs. Katherine Carter, formerly of Ashland, but now a teacher in the Gold Hill schools, is in Medford, called there by the illness of her daughter, Mrs. Charles Bluett, who is a patient in the Medford hospital.

Left for Salem—

Mr. E. D. Briggs and Mrs. E. M. Briggs left yesterday for Salem to get Wm. M. Briggs, who has been attending the legislature. They are expected home some time tomorrow.

Returned Home—

Mrs. Elwood Hedberg and small son, who have spent the past few weeks visiting with Mrs. Hedberg's sister, Mrs. A.

H. Stroud in Tenant, Cal., and with a Medford orchestra at a big auction. returned last evening to her home in this city.

Called on Members—

Rev. H. F. Pemberton of the Methodist Episcopal church called on several members of that institution in the Valley View district yesterday.

Playing in Medford—

Carl Loveland and Domingo Provost of this city were in Medford today, where they played
