

Making Record of Every Language

PARIS, (UN)—Every living tongue from the classic language of the Bowerly to the speech of the wandering tribes of the Sahara and of Asia Minor is being recorded on discs for the first Museum of the Spoken Language, provisionally installed in the University of Paris.

There are already hundreds of records containing about all of the more common languages, and new evovs armed with recording phonographs and blank disks are being sent out into Africa and the interior of Asia to complete the museum.

Some of the discs have been obtained in Paris, foreign visitors to the museum being invited to recite the works of their national poets or to sing the folk songs of their native lands. M. Politis, former minister of foreign affairs of Greece, filled five records with songs in conversation in pure Greek and in the peculiar dialects of various Greek provinces.

All of the many dialects of the French provinces have been recorded and the University of Berlin also compiling a collection of German dialect records. There is but one English disc, but an effort will be made to obtain every nuance of English as spoken in America, including the speech of the American negroes, at the same time recording the best of the contemporary American poetry.

BRIDGE GRAND CANYON

SALT LAKE CITY, April 6.—(AP)—A bridge spanning the Grand Canyon, linking Arizona and Utah and providing a continuous highway from Canada to Mexico will be constructed as the result of an appropriation of $230,000.

The proposed bridge will be 600 feet long and will tower 400 feet above the swirling waters of the Colorado river.

When the project is completed Salt Lake City will be but a few days by fast automobile from Phoenix. Thousands of tourists, annually turned back by the Grand Canyon at El Tovar will be enabled to continue northward.

The new thoroughfare will furnish a better outlet to the yellow pine timber from the Kaibab national forest. The government is principally interested in the project because it believes that the development will materially increase the number of tourists to Grand Canyon National Park.

FORM BOYS BAND

SAN DIEGO, Cal., April 6.—(UN)—Formation of a juvenile band of 75 pieces, which is expected to rival that of a famous boys' band in Nebraska, has been undertaken here by B. W. Bonham.

Musical, military and citizenship training will be given by Bonham along with instruction in music.

"The purpose of the band," the organizer state, "shall be to create better citizenship among boys by moral, physical and spiritual training, and to promote civic interest."

The boys must agree to "abstain from the use of profane language and all habits that do not make the best of manhood, to be honest in all my dealings and all my thoughts, always telling the truth without fear; to keep my body physically, morally and spiritually clean, to work for better grades in my school, to support my Sunday school by regular attendance, to be polite and courteous at all times and strive for harmony not only in my playing but also in my organization by good deportment."

attacking Romeo by Capulet himself.

In the second act we have the familiar garden scene, the lovers breathing their sighs in sweetest music. In the third act the lovers are united by Friar Laurence, but Romeo, involved in combat with Tybalt, kills his adversary.

The fourth act reveals the parting of the lovers, for Romeo has been banished from the city; Juliette's father insists on her marriage to the Count of Paris, and the good friar contrives to aid her escape. In the last act, seeing Juliette apparently dead, Romeo takes poison. When Juliette, whose death has only been simulated, awakes to find her beloved dying, she resolves to join him, and with her death the opera ends.

THE SEEKER

If I should choose a lonely path,
And walk from all the world apart
Oh, do not say that I am queer,
I only follow my own heart.

For deep within some quiet glen
My soul's white flame burns free
and glad,
So taunt me not with bitter words,
Nor say to others, I am mad.

I know exquisiteness of rest—
Where velvet-footed walks the day,
So leave me free to seek the light,
And find My God in my own way.
