Flyer is Honored
By San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO, April 13.—(UP)—The Italian flag waved from the highest point in San Francisco yesterday as the city honored commander Francesco de Pinedo, famous fascist aviator.

The man whose four continent flight was halted when his plane was destroyed by fire in Arizona was formally welcomed at the city hall, during the afternoon, where Mayor Rolph and other officials participated in laudatory exercises by a crowd that choked all passages leading to the structure's ornate rotunda. In the evening de Pinedo was the guest at a banquet in the Italian quarters where hundreds of the flyer's countrymen turned out to honor him.

De Pinedo will remain here until Friday evening, when the plans to start by train in order to take up his flight in a new plane being forwarded from Italy.

The aviator arrived in San Francisco from Los Angeles on the crack Southern Pacific passenger train the Lake which was held up 15 minutes on the outskirts of the city, after it had struck and killed Juan Baustima, section foreman.

Epworth League to Have Special Meet

The meeting is called for 5:45 a. m. at the First Methodist church from whence they will go to the hilltop known as Carter Heights. Transportation will be provided for those attending. If the weather be severe, the meeting will be held in the church.

WHEN IT'S LILY BLOSSOM TIME

They know their onions in Bermuda, but they know their lilies, too. Easter lilies grow as thickly and wildly in these isles as dandelions at home. It looks more like Christmas time than springtime, for the fields are as white as though covered with snow. But by Easter Sunday Christmas will be past in Bermuda, for most of the lilies will have been shipped to decorate our altars and homes on Easter Day.

POLICE FAIL TO FIND BODY IN GUNNY SACK

Hours Are Spent in Dredging the Columbia River Slough

PORTLAND, April 13.—(UP)—After dredging Columbia slough for hours in a fruitless effort to locate a gunny sack believed to contain the body of a murdered man, Portland police tonight turned the case to Washington county authorities.

This decision was reached after police had spent most of Tuesday attempting to verify or destroy the weird story of the sack, which was told them by Fred Holstrum, local contractor. Holstrum told police that he had been accosted on the Beaverton highway by four armed men and compelled to use a light delivery truck to transport what he believed to be a body to the slough, where it was thrown in the water.

Driving on to Salmon Creek, the bandits ordered him to stop and bound his legs. Then then got into a high powered automobile, he said, and drove away.

Later Holstrum managed to hobble to the home of Fred Gibbs, Salmon Creek rancher, where he related his story.
