GOD'S GOLD
 God's gold is in the plums of yellow corn.
 And fields of ripening wheat at early morn;
 And in the autumn leaves, adrift in light,
 And banks of goldenrod, like sunshine bright.
 God's gold is in a baby's sunny curls,
 And in the tinkling laugh of boys and girls.
 And in the golden tones of kind and loving words.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Coggins Entertain—On Easter evening, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Coggins gave a delightful old-time party at their attractive new home on Granite street.
 The guests arrived in old-fashioned clothes of various styles. The ladies in long skirts, high choker collars and tight bodices, crowned with "bunnets" and old mode coiffures, together with the men dressed in tight, out of date suits, derbys and high hats, all contrived to create an amusing atmosphere of by-gone days.
 The evening passed pleasantly at old time games, and songs and dances of ancient make, added to the merriment.
 The refreshments were the crowning event of the party; chicken salad, no end of delicious home made cakes, candies and refreshing beverages.

 The guests took leave of their host and hostess, proclaiming that they had never had a better time than at this old fashioned party.
RED TAPE BINDS VIOLIN SCHOLAR
 MOSCOW, April 20—Russian "red tape" demanded and got nine certificates for such an innocent business as arranging a boy's music lessons here.
 Peter was musical so Peter's father thought it would be wise to give him music lessons. The father went to the State Musical School in Moscow.
 He had first to present a sworn application for his little son's admission to classes in piano playing. Then he was required to furnish a sworn certificate of his own salary and another official statement of the house committee where he lived to show the number of persons dependent on him for support.

My soul cries out for open fields and streams,
 And for the warmth of golden sunlight beams;
 God's gold is what I want: the flowers, the sun;
 To cleanse men's souls, such gold as this was spun.

If Rheumatic Eat No Sweets
 Says Glass of Salts Helps to Overcome Rheumatism Acid.
 Rheumatism is easier to avoid than cure, states a well-known authority. We are advised to dress warmly, keep feet dry, avoid exposure, and above all, drink plenty of good water and avoid eating sweets of all kind.
 Rheumatism is caused by body waste and acids resulting from food fermentation. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this poison from the blood and cast it out in the urine. The pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work; they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this waste and acids, which keep accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles, causing stiffness, soreness and pain, called rheumatism.
 At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is helpful to neutralize acidity, remove waste matter, also to stimulate the kidneys, thus often ridding the blood of rheumatic poisons.
 Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism.

Mississippi Levee Break Drives Thousands Out

Here is the first picture of the widespread destruction and suffering caused by a break in the Mississippi levee near Laconia, Ark. Large areas were inundated by the flood waters and thousands were driven from their homes. This picture shows a refugee camp near Laconia, tents being used as temporary homes. The flood waters are even menacing this camp. At the extreme right an arrow points to a house with the water up to the roof.

 Yesterday Dow brought a Buff Orpington Mantam Rooster. It had feathers growing over its feet. We decided that in its wild state it was in a cold climate and used its feet as snow shoes in the snow. Its color was a reddish brown.

LIFE
 I live by the sea
 Everybody loves me
 I am full of glee
 For I am so very free.
 I dance in the sun
 And have lots of fun
 I am happy and gay
 And I'm glad all day

SAVE THE WILD FLOWERS
 The wild flower are being pulled up by the roots. We should save the wild flowers. They make the fields beautiful for the tourists. If we pick all the wild flowers there will be fewer each year.

THE MARIONETTES
 After some of the boys saw the Marionettes we decided to make one of our own puppets. We are not sure what kind we will have for a scene, but we have some puppets ready.

THE ONE DAY
 The radiance of years
 Lies in one morning's light,
 And untold centuries
 Within a breathless night.
 A thousand mingled tones
 Hide in a bird's high call;
 A myriad flames unseen
 Flash where shadows fall.
 So swiftly must I live,
 So brief a time my stay,
 There is so much for me
 I must crowd it in a day.
