DREAM:
In the garden of tomorrow,
Where the roses never bloom,
I had built a golden castle,
Bit by bit, and room by room;
I forgot tomorrow never
Changes into fair today;
I forgot that Time and sorrow
May unfit a soul for play.

Now I know today's dawn light
On my castle will not gleam;
But, blind ones who pity me,
Love and I, within our dream,
Forfeit not to Time our joy,
Ecstasy of hope, and fear—
Though realities will pall,
Dreams remain forever dear.

Important Books Reviewed—
"Congai," by Harry Hervey, (Cosmopolitan Book Corporation, New York.) Other books by this author are Ethan Quest, Caravans by Night, Black Parrott, and Where Strange Gods Call. This writer has almost placed himself in the class of Ibanex in his creation of the Madams in Panthere. The story of Thi Linh, the half-caste native of Indo-China, the Congai, a creature of fragile beauty and savage instinct, who born of Annamite mother, finds herself cast into sophisticated French Colonial life in the oriental tropics, where the life of France intermingles with Asia. It is a novel of "dark intensity," ironic and drunk with the sensuous beauty of the Far East. Harry Hervey is an American, born in Texas, travelled in Asia and Africa when quite young, and writes literature with a background of Oriental colors. The Congai means merely woman. These native women are taken in marriage by French army officers, who are rulers of these colonies. They are a type of patient devotion almost unknown to western civilization. Thi Linh is a heroine of this character. It is her unchanging ambition to serve, never to dominate, but to rise to the climax of social position in the world. She knows the French men and women despise the native races. She rises before she is thirty triumphantly over every obstacle and circumstance and the plain woman becomes the first lady of the land. There is undoubtedly something of the universal feminine, "the woman of all ages," in Thi Linh. "She stands silhouetted against the background of French gaiety and Asiatic sobriety like a symbol of the country itself." The author has mastered his own literary style and has an utter absence of conventional phrasing. He coils the force of expression in a new mintage. Listen: "What do birth and death matter? It is what lies between that counts." And: "It was a bright morning and the heat seemed to beat on the pavement with a silent clanging." Do not miss knowing Congai.—The Lariat.

Address Given by George Wilbur Reed—
The regular meeting of the Oregon Music Teacher's association, which was held Sunday, May 8, at the studio of Mrs. E. E. Gore in Medford, was well attended and highly successful.

A short interesting business session was conducted and a decision was made to try and have the 1928 convention in Medford. The state president, Mr. George Wilbur Reed, who is an opera singer of some note, gave an inspirational address in which he made a plea for harmonious relations among music teachers and protection of the high ideals of the profession. He also outlined the program for the 1927 convention, which is to be held in Eugene on the 26th and 27th of this month, and coached those present on the new convention song, written by Jean McKircher. Miss Ruth Warner beautifully sang "Amy's Song," from "She-wanis" by Cadman and "At Parting" by Rogers. A violin solo was given by P. E. Falkenberg, "Mazurka" by Musin, after which Miss Imogene Wallace played Chopin's "Fantasia Impromptu."

during which Mrs. George Andrews poured tea. The Southern Oregon branch of the Music Teacher's association was organized only a short time ago in Medford, but it has had a steady growth and progress and has become one of the leading clubs of its kind in the Rogue River valley.

Parent Teachers Final Program—
The final program of the High School Parent Teacher's association will be given Thursday, May twelfth at three o'clock, in the Senior high school.

An address by principal B. C. Forsythe, a number by Miss Lorraine Brookmiller, and a reading by Mrs. Wilmer Poley assures a fine program, after which tea will be served by Miss French's cooking class. This gathering will end the year's work of the High School P. T. A. and they are particularly anxious to have a large attendance.

Will Meet With Local Associations—
Mrs. Gabriel, state president of the Parent Teacher association, who is on her way to the National convention in Oakland, California, will meet with the local associations Wednesday, May 18th at the Lithia Springs hotel.

A no-hostess luncheon will be served at one o'clock, after which Mrs. Gabriel will speak in the ballroom. All who are interested in this work are invited and urged to attend this affair. Reservations for the luncheon may be phoned to Mrs. G. A. Briscoe before the evening of Monday, May 16th.

New Officers Elected—
The City Council of the Parent Teacher Association elected new officers for the coming year at their regular May meeting, which was held in the public library. Mrs. Clinton Baughman was chosen to be the new president, and Mrs. E. M. Berg vice-president.

All of the Parent Teacher circles of this city, namely the Senior high school, Junior high school, Lincoln and Washington, are having election of officers sometime in this month. The officers of the various circles comprise the City Council.

Entertained Medford Friends—
Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Tomlinson delightfully entertained Mr. and Mrs. Larry Schade of Medford with a delicious dinner at their home on Oak street Sunday, May 8.

NOT A SECRET—JUST COMMON SENSE

The neighbors of Mrs. Arthur De Mulle, Gramere, N. H., were curious to know what medicine she took that "acted like magic," in restoring her health. "No secret at all," she says, "just common sense. I saw Foley Pills advertised and began taking them. I feel fine now, after 15 years suffering from kidney trouble. I never have a tired feeling, and am active and happy." Men and women everywhere use and recommend Foley Pills diuretic. Satisfaction guaranteed. Ask for them. Sold everywhere—No. 1.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

The Friday afternoon program last week was an exceptionally good one in the students' opinion.

Foss Kramer played a piano solo "Sunday" and responded with "The World is Waiting for the Sunrise," for an encore. Mrs. Wilmer Poley gave a group of two readings "Mince Pies" depicted a tragically funny attempt of a young newlywed to show his bride how his mother used to make pies. The second, "Lovinski at the Wedding," read in dialect, was as well enjoyed as the first reading. Mrs. Poley gave an encore, a little negro sketch.

The programs get better every Friday afternoon, and the next one is awaited expectantly.

Pearl Wardle and Janet Ball returned Monday evening from Eugene, where they spent the last week-end.

Miss Hazard visited her home in Eugene last week-end.

The Senior were beat by the rest of the school last Friday afternoon, the score being 12-4.

The Sewing 11 classes started their last program today. This is a cotton dress for summer wear. The classes turned in for inspection their notebooks on "Home Decoration" Monday. Miss Poley's cafeteria class served seventeen members of the Schoolmaster's club Saturday at the Senior High school. From the high school the men went to the Normal school. Here they listened to a program and talks. The High School Trio, Mary Galey, Floy Young and Rose Alkon, played several numbers. Dean Sheldon of the U. of O., Mr. Henry Sheldon's father, was a speaker of the afternoon.

Our Ashland debaters, Dick and Dena Joy, won in Warrenton a 2-0 decision, and now stand one debate from the state championship. The Joy twins, and Mr. Allison, their debate coach, went to Warrenton Thursday. The debate took place Friday night. E. thusiam knew no bounds when the students knew that our debaters had won. They have worked hard, and deserve to be victorious.

The next debate will be with the champion team of Eastern Oregon, and this will decide the team who will carry the title of "Oregon Champs." Our faith is in our team and they are bound to win.

This Friday night is the big night for the Senior class. They present for public approval their

NORMAL ALUMNI NOTICE

All interested are asked to send in lists of names and addresses to Fred C. Homes, chairman of the committee on arrangements.

Equalization Rates Made

The present rates are too small for successful use of meters, he said. Hoeler said he received many complaints from business men in regard to excessive increases made in water rates.

Howard Rose, confectioner, was the first business man to complain to councilmen regarding an increase from $1.20 to $7.50 in his water rate. Rose said he had been in business here for 23 years, and the increased rates were the most unpopular of any legislation passed in that time. People would leave the city before they will pay them, he averred. Rose asked what had become of a petition asking for referendum for election in regard to the $450,000 bond issue. Councilman Woods who answered Rose's questions explained that the special election was called for May 31 and that election judges had already been named.

Speaks For Dentists
Earl Hoeler, speaking for the dentists, said that they had been almost unanimous in their complaint regarding the excessive increase in rates for water for office use, but no action in regard to this complaint was taken.

Councilman Thornton on behalf of the Hotel Ashland management presented a complaint regarding the increase from $19 flat rate to $47.35 for one month for the hotel with 40 rooms, contrasting this with the Lithia Springs Hotel water bill of $1.85 for one month, for the hotel with 100 rooms. The Lithia Springs hotel is on a meter, Thornton explained.

Councilmen agreed the rate for the Hotel Ashland was excessive and passed a motion made by Thornton, providing the continuing flat rate of $19 until a meter can be installed. Superintendent Hoeler was requested to install the meter as soon as possible.

Councilmen adjourned to meet next Tuesday evening, May 17, for further consideration and possible revision of the new ordinance.

Politely Refuse
substitutes if you seek the famous Quaker flavor

THE point to remember when buying breakfast cereals is that only Quaker Oats have the rich Quaker flavor that you want.

One package of oats without that flavor may spoil your breakfasts for a week.

The price you pay is the same. This "trying" is substituting is a folly. Quaker flavor is the result of some 50 years milling experience. No other oats has it. Quaker milling, too, retains much of the "bulk" of oats. And that makes laxatives less often needed.

Get Quick Quaker, which cooks in 2 1/2 to 5 minutes, or regular Quaker Oats as you have always known.

Your grocer has both kinds.

WEEK OF LONG AGO
COLLECTED 100 CURLS
FULTON, Mo., May 14.—(AP)—There was a time when girls shopped their escorts for Sunday buggy rides with a lock of hair, according to J. Roy Tucker, sometimes called "Fulton's original shik."

But that was when they had enough hair to spare a curl once a week and never miss it.

Once popular with the girls, Tucker has attracted renewed interest with the revelation of a collection of 100 curls from as many heads, buried in a trunk full of relics for 30 years, and treasured as priceless memories of his youth.

Tucker was a student in Westminster college 30 years ago, owned an English phaeton buggy and two horses and spent his Sundays buggy-riding and curl collecting.

He accumulated the 100 curls as the result of a bet with a fellow student that he could take 50 girls buggy riding on 50 successive days without having the same girl twice. He got so much fun out of the variety that he continued the sport until he acquired 100 curls.
