"In The Heart of Town"

"Can stored corn or animated dust
Back to its mansion call the fleeing breath?
Can human voice provide the silent dust
Or flattery smooth the dull cold ear of death?"
The above immortal words of Gray can well depict the feeble attempt of a sympathetic world at your immediate instance of mortality.
Yet the greatest comfort at this dark hour comes from the knowledge that even the smallest detail has not been neglected in the tender ministrations to your beloved dead.
Our experience and training have fitted us to fill this responsible role.
