Why The Unit System?

Voters of Jackson County are being asked to support a measure of the pending election which would completely revolutionize our existing rural school system. This measure, known as the Unit System, would not apply to the schools of either Medford or Ashland since they are both first class districts and are therefore legally immune.

Promoters of the proposed law claim that it will result in greater economy and efficiency in the maintenance of our rural and smaller town schools. An analysis of the law itself reveals the following facts:

1. All school districts of the county, outside of Medford and Ashland, would be merged into one district to be known as the Jackson County School District.
2. The Unit System would take money which is now the lawful property of many of our present districts and throw it into the common County School District fund.
3. This money represents actual sacrifices in the form of taxes paid in good faith by persons of our present school districts in order that they might secure good teachers and build and equip modern schools. This money has been liberally given in order that children of these districts might attend good schools without leaving home.
4. Apparently there are school districts less well managed which are now custodians of their neighbors' property and which might profit by the proposed Unit System. It is to voters of these districts in particular that an appeal is being made to support this measure.
5. Under the Unit System, the money so gained would be at the disposal of a county school board of five unpaid (?) members. It would be the duty of this board to see that each of our numerous rural schools is supplied with teachers, janitors, fuel, lights, water, stoves, paper, desks, maps, charts, globes, blackboards, chalk, erasers, outbuildings, pens, ink, sidewalk, flagpoles, flag, and scrapers, door mats, floor oil, clocks, thermometers, wash basins, mirrors, and above all liquid soap and paper towels, in order that children will no longer have to "wash and dry their faces in the same old way." A survey of the county has shown that same of our rural schools have not yet adopted liquid soap and paper towels, and this is being used as one of the main arguments in favor of the Unit System experiment. (It would seem to us that other methods less revolutionary and radical might be employed to remedy this oversight.)
6. It would be necessary for this board to select the hundreds of teachers needed to supply our rural districts from among the many more hundreds of applicants with their thousands of recommendations. It would of course also be necessary for them to consider carefully all of these also they might make a mistake and not secure the best teacher for each position, thus defeating the avowed purpose of the Unit System, that is efficient management of the rural schools. This is not all for all appointments would be expected to meet with the approval of the local school boards which are still to function in some mysterious and unexplained capacity, apparently without a clerk, and with authority to do nothing but make suggestions and find fault with the County School District board. By the way, who are to be the candidates for positions on this County Board? How much time can each one promise gratis to his "doubtful" board members? It does not give what will be the cost to Jackson County for salaries and traveling expenses.
7. Voters of Ashland and Medford, think well before you vote to impose this system, which does not apply to your schools, upon the less populous districts of the county. You are being asked to do this, and your numbers will be decisive. A high authority in the schools of one of these cities has declared that he considers it very unfortunate that Medford and Ashland are to vote upon this question, and he would consider at a calamity should they by their superior numbers, vote this Unit System upon the other districts of the County against their will. We depend upon your sense of fairness to avoid this calamity.
8. Patrons and voters of rural districts, do you prefer to leave the management of your school to a school board of untested membership, which would reside in some remote part of the county? Do you wish to have your boys and girls under your own roof at night? The answer is evident. Vote NO on the Unit System!—Adv.
