

Cabaret To Be Outstanding Social Event

One Hundred Medford People Will Attend Lithian Affair June 16

Rehearsals for the glittering and fun producing Society Cabaret to be held in the Ashland Armory one week from today are progressing rapidly.

The bathing beauties are already going through their steps, and their acts, and the numerous other vaudeville performers are having their part of the program polished into a finished act.

Bubbles Malone and Smith are in charge of the committee on electrical effects and electrical wiring, and are bending every effort to have the "property" for the big show and dance in readiness when the doors open next Thursday night. Medford people have called for one hundred seats, and table reservations are going fast. Two thirds of the table reservations are already sold.

The Lithians state that this is going to be the "event" socially of the season. They are staking their reputations for putting on a live party on this affair, and Ashland people as well as all southern Oregon should get a table reservation at the earliest opportunity.

Seven acts of vaudeville have been scheduled. One of the main attractions is the orchestra which has been obtained for this gathering after a great deal of negotiations, involving the sending of a representative to Eugene, the well-known Merrymac Orchestra was obtained. This orchestra, composed largely of accomplished collegians, will furnish the music, as well as the putting on of many novelty numbers, at which they excel. There are nine pieces, and the musicians are famed for their jazz and the pep that they put into their numbers.

The Lithians state that there are tables for four, eight, ten, twelve, fourteen and sixteen. People should get busy on the telephone and make up their parties, in order to fill an entire table. No one will be permitted on the floor unless they have a table reservation.

The unique lighting effects, and novelty dances planned will be something never before seen in Ashland.

Don't fail to get your reservations for this merry event tonight for in two more days it is expected all seats will be sold.

BIG DANCE ORCHESTRA PLAYS AT PAVILLION

Arrangements have been completed by the Jackson County Amusement Company, for bringing Bob Fockler and his dance band at the Fair Grounds Pavilion Wednesday night, June 15. This is a musical organization said to be one of the best in the west and is already widely known through its many radio broadcast programs. Monte La Fliche, vocal soloist is with the band this season, and is to be featured in several specialty numbers during the dance program. There will be no dance at the pavilion this Friday night as the hall is being put in shape for the major attraction which is scheduled for Wednesday.

Boas Contest Pass Sunday

Ashland Boas expect to trounce the Grants Pass Cavemen next Sunday and retain their position of second place in the League.

Last Sunday showed the Boas to have a perfectly working machine—little polishing needed on any of the corner. The boys worked together with speed and teamwork, which was quite lacking at the beginning of the season.

The Cavemen started out well this season, tying at first with the Klamath Falls outfit for first place in the League but in the last few weeks, have dropped three games. Medford won their first victory from the Grants Pass aggregation which has since been strengthened.

The local have shown some reserve stuff in their workouts this week.

Traffic Cop Has New Motorcycle

State Traffic Officer, C. P. Talbot is riding a new motorcycle this week.

Each year the state provides for the old machines to be turned in and new broken-in cycles are given to the traffic men.

The new motorcycle is guaranteed to do 85 miles an hour and with the vigilant traffic cop on duty, it pays speeders to let up on the gas when passing over his territory.

President Coolidge today formally appointed Seymour Layman, New York, assistant secretary of Treasury in charge of prohibition departments, replacing Lincoln Andrews. The appointment is effective August 1.

MAINTENANCE WORK IS DONE

Road Crew Widens Highway At Bear Canyon Traffic Continues Heavy

A maintenance crew of the state highway department is engaged in widening the Pacific highway through Bear Canyon, according to W. G. Drummond, crew superintendent.

Frequent slides during the winter month which at time hampered traffic over the highway, makes the improvement of the highway imperative. Sufficient funds were appropriated this year to make the work possible, Mr. Drummond said.

A crew of 36 men are employed in maintenance work this spring under the direction of Mr. Drummond.

Traffic over the highway is not heavy but continuous and increases noticeably each warm day, Mr. Drummond states. The maintenance crew, who also act as traffic officers, find there are few violations of the traffic laws through the Siskiyou.

Pretty Costumes For Normal Play

Elaborate and colorful costumes, representative of the period of 1860 will be worn by the cast in "Smilin' Through." Swallow tailed coats with ruffled waistcoats and lace cuffs for the men and quaint dresses of rainbow hues with hoop skirts and large lace collars will be worn by the women.

Mooney's old-fashioned wedding gown of white silk with its voluminous skirt and long train will be just one of the many delightful dresses worn.

According to Miss Ruth Aitken, chairman of the costuming committee, the costumes have been ordered from Seattle.

"Smilin' Through" will be presented by the members of Alpha Tau, the dramatic club at the Southern Oregon Normal School, in the college auditorium, Monday evening, June 13, at 8:15.

Tourist Kiddies Mingle With Ashland Children On Play Ground

"If Ashland folks could realize the splendid advertising value of the city playground, they would be surprised," says Miss Fay Casper, playground supervisor.

Scarcely a day passes that children from California or Washington or Idaho, or Utah, or probably some far eastern state do not mingle with the Ashland boys and girls on the playground in the city park.

Frequently tourists passing will stop for a short time and watch the boys and girls at play, and ask questions concerning the town which affords such a beautiful site for playground purposes. And if there are children in the car, sometimes travelworn and weary the playground facilities have a away to cache of a toll full of pearl shells and a small shipload of pearls. It is a combination of romance and adventure rarely encountered in modern sea stories. Parallel fiction is found in "Black Pearls," by R. W. Alexander. The Appletons have an attractive list of new sea stories, that will catch the fancy of all lovers of life in the salt water world. Needless to say after three hundred forty-six pages of thrills, by land and sea, some almost too gruesome, the cargo of sea treasure is happily landed.

"The Wind of Complication," by Susan Ertz; the author of "Madame Claire, Nina and Afternoon." A most perfect volume of short stories. In reading stories by Susan Ertz, one feels that the author is at every moment richly in contact with life, and that she is a person of unusual understanding. "The Wind of Complication" abounds in distinction and color, including stories told with a humorous, original and whimsical spirit; gay, amusing stories of young married life; stories of young girls, face to face with romantic crises; and stories of a more serious cast, with a hint of psychic themes. In these stories the author shows balance of ob-

Training School Session Planned

There will be summer school days for some Ashland boys and girls during the summer months, as a training course, maintained by the Southern Oregon Normal school is to be conducted at the Lincoln Public school, the same as was done last summer.

Critique teachers will supervise the work of the teacher-students this summer, and the school will be open to any boy or girl who wishes to attend, according to Arthur Taylor, of the college faculty.

Last summer more than 50 children attended the school. No credit is given for the work, but the training is valuable in advancing the children in coming school work.

One family, with a cottage rented at the City Auto park, let their children attend the summer school for several weeks last year. Equal enthusiasm is expected this year.

We had begun to wonder what became of the old-fashioned high school graduate who had his picture taken with diploma in hand until the other day. We saw him with a banjo.
