GUN EXPERT TESTIFIES IN TRIAL OF HUGH

had written the name "E. B. James" on the repair slip and said this was customary. H. D. McNair, owner of the Park garage, was next called, and told of the defendant bringing the car for repairs and testified he paid for the work in cash.

J. E. McCracken, now of Klamath Falls, said he was working at the garage in September 1923, testified he recognized Hugh as the man who brought the Nash car to the garage for repairs, but said his conversation with him was devoted entirely to business concerning the car. He was not cross-examined.

George Steffis, track foreman for the S. P. company at White Point, Oregon, a few miles from Tunnel 13, was the fourth witness called. His testimony regarding positive identification of Hugh and the purchase of three packages of cigarettes and matches, is considered an important bit of state evidence. He said he worked with the S. P. for about seven months previous to the holdup.

Steffis testified two Mexicans were in the store when Hugh purchased the cigarettes on October 10, 1923. He was positive in his identification of Hugh, describing his clothing, the color of his hair, eyes. He said Hugh was in the store possibly three minutes. Neuner demanded if Hugh was the youth who made the purchase and Steffis, with positiveness said, "Yes."

Grace Deter, postmistress at Deter, Oregon in 1923, said she sold the defendant, early in October of that year, sandwich meat and bread. Under cross examination she said her store was south of White Point, south of the railroad tracks.

Mrs. Puri Clause, said she saw the defendant in the Deter store two or three days before the holdup, and said he wore a "pretty red and green mackinaw." She insisted the coat was red and green and not dark. She said she noticed him because strangers were unusual in that section.

Puri Clause of Ashland, seven-the witness called Tuesday afternoon, said in September and October of 1923 he was at Colestein on the Siskiyou mountains, one mile from Deter's store, cutting wood. He was unable to identify the defendant but told of seeing three men walking down the tracks, one carrying a rifle, one a deer and the other nothing. This occurred seven or eight days before the holdup. He admitted there was no distinction between him and the other men.

Pretty Interpreter
Interest in the case peaked up when the next witness was called, Carlos Gonzales, a Mexican unable to speak English, and for whom Mary Denjin, of Dunsmuir, a pretty Spanish girl, well educated, interpreted. Hugh exhibited much interest in this testimony.

Gonzales said he had not seen the defendant, but testified he saw a strange man at the community store on the ninth of October, 1923. He said the man wore a cap and glasses and overalls, that he saw him between 4 and 5 p. m. He asked for cigars in Spanish, the witness testified.

Gonzales said after he finished talking to the man who spoke Spanish, he saw him leave and saw two other men accompany him. Gonzales was not cross-examined. Hugh watched the pretty interpreter with evident interest.

Roland Jones, now of Ashland, who lived in the Siskiyou in 1923, testified that he with his brother saw smoke in the hills and went up there thinking it was a fire, but saw three men around a camp fire, one of them cleaning a gun. A touring car was nearby he testified. He was not cross-examined.

Two Bachelors, Very Eligible

Here are two royal young men, representing England and America, and the most eligible bachelors it would be possible to name just now—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, King of the Air, and His Royal Highness, the Prince of Wales. Lindbergh (left) appears a little different from the haggard boy who crawled from his historic plane in Paris. The picture was taken at the royal reception given Lindbergh in London.

Expert Testifies
Testimony of Robert Craddock, Ballistic expert from the Portland police force saw an increased attention on the part of spectators. "What experience have you had along lines of investigating firearms?" he was asked and explained that since 1906 he was in this work with the Portland force. He said he was able to detect whether certain cartridges were fired from the same gun. He said he was called to Medford when the body of Orin Johnson was exhumed, and that bullets from the body were delivered to him. These bullets were then produced and offered as state exhibits.

The shot gun shells which were picked up at Silverton, Oregon and on the Siskiyou and the two picked up at the mouth of the tunnel, were produced and Craddock identified them as the same shells which were handed to him to examine.

He also said that all were fired from the same gun, including the two picked up at the mouth of the tunnel. The defense objected to this questioning, saying that it had no connection with the case as the defendant had nothing to do with a shot gun. The bullets taken from the body of Johnson and those from the trees on the Siskiyou were the same except for shape. Under cross examination, Attorney Collier made lengthy examinations asking the witness the difference in weights, of different shells and whether the shells entering a tree and those entering a body would lessen the weight of the shells and other technical questions.

PISTOL FOUND NEAR TUNNEL EXHIBITED

"Did you examine any articles in connection with the holdup?" "Yes."
He said characteristics of writing by Wm. Elliott was the same as that of Roy D'Autremont. Sale slip for automatic revolver had borne the name of Wm. Elliott. He said writing on Roy D'Autremont's application for insurance and express receipt for shipment of handgun was the same, that of R. A. D'Autremont.

He said the signatures of E. E. James on check at lumbercamp and on application for motor license were the same, both written in a free and easy manner. He identified the grip, revolver, three packages which were brought to his laboratory in Oct. 1923. They were not marked, but he marked one of the articles.

ROSE CITY IN GALA ATTIRE
Floral Parade Featured Annual Show Today—Roses Most Beautiful
Thursday brought the annual Floral parade of the Portland Rose Festival, now in progress in "The Rose City."

Portland's annual Rose Festival is now in full swing with the pageant "Rosaria" and its cast of 30,000 singers, actors and dancers taking the city by storm for it is pronounced the greatest and most colorful spectacle of the kind ever produced in the West.

Thousands crowded the civic stadium Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings to witness capacity crowds at the pageant. The festival center in the park blocks in the heart of the city is a veritable fairyland for electric and floral decorations predominate and the festival center with its music and decorations is the great rest center between parades and other events for the crowds in Portland for the annual festival.

Portland is beautifully decorated for the Nineteenth annual Rose Festival. Millions of roses are in bloom and the parks are a riot of color.

MOVIE PUBLIC LIKES THRILLS
Western Blood And Thunder Pictures Are Best Money Makers
HOLLYWOOD, June 16. — All reports to the contrary, western thrillers are not on the decline. Time and again the call has gone out that the day of the "two-gun" movie man is over. The call was echoed some two months ago but in answer comes an increasing number of western production programs.

A producer may run a chance of making money on an epic of the screen but westerns are always box office attractions. If the big town won't tolerate the "two-gun" man he'll make money playing the smaller towns in one night stands.

The recently announced production program of Fox studios includes Buck Jones in "The Broken Dollar" and Tom Mix in "The Scourge of The Little C". Paramount thought so much of having a western money maker that they induced Fred Thompson and his noted horse, Silver King, to enroll under their banner. Thompson's first picture will deal with the life of Jesse James.
