

THE DAILY TIDINGS EDITORIAL and FEATURE PAGE

ESTABLISHED IN 1876

GEORGE MADDEN GREEN, Managing Editor

PUBLISHED BY THE ASHLAND PRINTING CO.

ASHLAND DAILY TIDINGS

Published at the Ashland, Oregon Postoffice as Second Class Mail Matter.
Subscription Price — Ashland Daily Tidings
By Carrier—1 mo. 65c; 1 yr. $7.50. By Mail—1 mo. 65c, 1 yr. $6.50

"Intelligent Youth!"

In its report to the 139th general assembly of the Presbyterian Church meeting in San Francisco, the board of Christian education said: "With the rising tide of intelligent youth there is no doubt that the safety of Prohibition is assured."

We are truly glad that somebody has faith in the young generation. While the statement of the board will be taken with a grain of salt by many people, there is good sense in believing that the boys and girls of today—endowed as they are with all modern advantages, with the discoveries of science at their finger-tips, with health and longevity improved, and with an outlook on life never more prosperous—will grow up to be intelligent men and women who will carry on to greater things than we now know.

We hold no brief for the flapperish, sheikish carousals of the night-clubs. But we do believe this: that whatever mischief the youth gets into today some older person either made it possible or contributed to it in some way yesterday. In other words, one generation always rests on the foundation laid for it by the previous one.

We believe with the Presbyterian board that youth is intelligent. Why shouldn't we, since we are all more or less responsible for their welfare?

Our Distant Visitors

Ashland is already known in the Shenandoah Valley, Virginia, for when the visiting delegation arranged their plans for their trip to the coast country, they arranged for a five-hour visit in this city.

However, Ashland will be more widely advertised in the Shenandoah valley after Sunday, if Ashland shows the proper spirit of hospitality toward the visitors who will arrive here Sunday at noon and remain in our city for five hours.

So situated and so endowed with natural wonders, Ashland has attracted many visiting delegations. Our duty to entertain these delegations should be a pleasure to us and The Tidings bespeaks cooperation with the chamber of commerce Sunday in providing sufficient automobiles and Ashland boosters to take the visitors on a short tour about our locality.

On-With The Warrants!

Oregon finds itself in practically the same position it occupied before the famous election of Tuesday—emergencies unmet and problems unsolved.

The Tidings frankly feels that the emergency was not so urgent nor the problem so great as some pictured them. However, the fact remains that already state officials are talking of issuing warrants to pay for the regular operation of the state's activities and for the completion of projects which the state had approved and for which the legislature made appropriations.

As before the election, there are many statements that the situation is deplorable, but no suggestions to actually relieve the stress.

On with the warrants, seems to be the refrain which the state officials are chanting.

Meet Your Neighbors

The Fourth of July picnic at Hyatt dam is going to be one of the pleasant occasions of the year, for it will bring together neighbors who, it is regretted, do not meet frequently enough.

Inter-neighborhood meetings have become fewer and fewer during the last few years, due to changing conditions, and it really takes such a gathering as is proposed for July Fourth to bring two adjacent neighborhoods together.

It is to be hoped that many Ashland citizens can so arrange their plans for Independence Day so that they can journey to Hyatt dam for the picnic and celebration.

Lady Astor was recently told she was guilty of "terminological inexactitude" or in other words a plain "you're another."

Women had a lot of runs for their money last year when they spent more than one million dollars for silk hoisery.

The Tidings helps to advertise Ashland, but it's up to all of us to help make a bigger and better Ashland to advertise.

The butcher can't butcher, the baker, the candlestick maker can't make, unless they receive patronage from the people in whose territory it was of mutual advantage for them to locate.

OUT OUR WAY

By Williams

Try This One

- CURRENT EVENTS
1. Relations between what two nations were recently strained by the assassination of the minister of one in the capital of the other?
 2. Did the government win a majority in the recent Irish general election?
 3. What noted novelist and playwright died last month?
 4. Approximately what treasury surplus at the end of the fiscal year yesterday was predicted by President Coolidge?
 5. What important national industry recently cut employees' salaries 10 per cent?
 6. The passage of what important bill by the British House of Commons was bitterly fought by the Labor Party?
 7. What well-known film actress is being sued for $5,000,000?
 8. What national sports tournament was held at Atlantic City this week?
 9. Who hold the world's non-stop airplane distance record?
 10. What extraordinary astronomical event occurred yesterday?

ANSWERS

1. John Milton.
2. The Jew of Malta.
3. Like it. Of Verona. Wives of Windsor.
4. Robert Burton.
5. Samuel Pepys.
6. Alexander Pope.
7. They are contemporary writers of detective fiction.

Nearly everything we do seems wrong to our neighbors.

At least two thirds of our troubles are caused by carelessness.

I know of nothing more pathetic than a pious man trying to be funny.

Now and then a woman lives up to her indiscretions, but a man never does.

What poor judges of distance people are who have had breath and microby teeth!

Not to advertise is a confession that you have nothing of real value to sell.

Hex Hock says: "When I come across a fellow who leaks at the mouth, I alius feel like sendin' fer a plumber."

9. Vanity Fair.
10. His verse.

SCISSORED SENTIMENTS

Special elections and holidays are what made Mexico famous. But, really, Oregon is having a few of each herself, and she is also getting famous. — Klamath News.

We noticed that the young minister who preached for Cal on Sunday cut his sermon to ten minutes. This youth deserves a diplomatic career. — Eugene Guard.

These are the longest days of the year, glorious days, when one can spend every daylight hour enjoying the beauties of the mid-Columbia Cascades. — Hood River Glacier.

It is impossible to be an angel on Sunday and a devil on week days. — Cottage Grove Sentinel.

Putting the horse before the cart has now been changed to "quart before the horse" by obliging bootleggers. — Canby Herald.

Clothed in ermine or clothed in rags, it makes no difference; they wear 'em out just below the knees, anyway. — Athens Press.

In religion lies the hope of the world, but most of our public schools seem to be afraid of it. — McMinnville Times-Register.

THE FORUM

Articles of timely interest are welcomed under this head. Communications must bear the signature of the author.

Editor Tidings:

Would like to say a few words in connection with the mail order houses and some of our merchants. Their plea is to disregard the mail order houses and keep the money at home and patronize the merchants which is the proper thing to do.

Now let us reverse the program and see how loyal some of our business men are toward patronizing home industries. You have a railroad that helped build up the town, and keep the depot grounds attractive so as to appeal to the tourists, pay a large amount of taxes, giving exceptionally good daily service both from the north and south.

You have several good dry lines in Ashland who deliver your freight promptly every morning. They employ quite a number of men who have families living here and patronize your stores and don't think there is a single family that sends their money to the mail order houses which shows a very patriotic spirit. Let us see what some of you are doing to be patriotic. You are giving your business mostly to the Portland dry lines who do not pay taxes in Ashland and perhaps leave enough money in the town to pay for some cheese and crackers for a lunch. In what way does that help the town?

Don't you think it would be more patriotic for you to give your patronage to the railroad that advertises and helps build up the town and also to the truck lines in Ashland who have families to support and who give you the best possible service and by so doing you will set a good example for your customers who would then discontinue patronizing the mail order houses.

W. H. WENNER.

HEDDA HOYT TELLS

ABOUT SUMMER ATTIRE

NEW YORK, July 1. — (AP) — Now that the cold weather has about reached its conclusion and warm summer is at hand let us consider the question of sane summer dressing.

Summer is the one season of the year when one should be comfortably dressed. This year we can be fashionable as well as comfortable due to the return of cotton fabrics for street and sports wear. Nothing is cooler than washable frocks of organdy, voile, linen, gingham, cretonne or sheerer cottons. Frocks of these materials in both one and two-piece styles are being shown in all the shops. Coats of hand-blocked linen or cretonne are also to be worn extensively this year. So, one need not wear sticky silk frocks to be fashionable.

We have already seen several smart women wearing short-sleeved frocks on Fifth Avenue which means that these will be generally popular later on. We all know how much more comfortable the short sleeved frock is than the one with long sleeves.

At present many shops are showing sweaters and skirts for sportswear. Anyone who has toddled about a golf course under the summer sun knows that a wool sweater is a torture on a warm day. Little hand-blocked linen jumpers and white linen skirts are just as appropriate for the links and far more comfortable.

When it comes to the question of comfortable summer shoes one must be especially careful to avoid models that are too small or high heeled. While the strictly sports type of shoe is inappropriate for wear with summery frocks, one can choose a happy medium heel in a dress or semi-dress model and, if necessary, wear a half size larger shoe in summer than in winter months. By so doing one conforms with fashion and has comfort too. Everyone should have at least one pair of shoes of a type which can be worn either with sports or a semi-dress frocks for wear on days when the feet are extremely tired.

MISS DOROTHY REID, Editor

Friday, July 1.—Pythian Sisters dance in the I. O. O. F. hall.

Friday, July 1.—The Foreign Missionary society of the M. E. church will meet at the home of Mrs. G. H. Way, 488 North Main street.

Wednesday, July 6.—Who Do class meets at the home of Mrs. Watkins on Laurel street. Covered dish luncheon at noon. Members are urged to be present as this meeting is a farewell party for Mrs. J. E. Angwin.

Monday, July 11.—Royal Neighbors of America will meet in Wimer hall for their regular session.

SONG OF A DRY-LAND SAILOR

Silver sails on swells of sea Sweep furthest depths of blue, And the black junc's bat-wings fan the breeze

Like a fevered dream come true, The restless tradeships roam afar,

Seeking strange trove in some quaint bazaar—

But I must stay in the sheltered way—I cruise near home and you.

An high-prowed haughty caravel That sailed for far Cathay,

My grandsires rode the tide that swells

Through Indian seas today, The memory comes in perfumed dreams,

Magnificent, barbaric gleams—

But I pay to ride through the traffic tide

One streetcar fare each way.

Lucy Robinson,

Spokane.

Wedding Solomized—

An attractive wedding was solemnized Tuesday evening, June 28, at seven o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Turner on Sixth street when their daughter Miss Eria Turner became the bride of Mr. Charley S. Edwards.

The rooms of the Turner home were beautifully decorated with flowers and ferns and the bride looked charming in a white georgette dress trimmed with silver lace and rhinestones. The ceremony was performed under a bower of St. Joseph lilies and hawthorn, with Reverend Myron S. Woodworth of the local Baptist church officiating. The ring ceremony was used. Guests at the wedding included only the immediate relatives and friends of the bride and groom. Mr. and Mrs. Edwards are well known in this city and vicinity having grown to manhood and womanhood in the Rogue River valley. After a brief wedding trip they will return to Ashland to make their home.

Important Books Reviewed—

"The Moults House Mystery," by Charles Barry. Creator of detective stories, thickly spotted with mysterious disappearances, in one of which "he saw a man being throttled by another with a pointed beard. Then the light in the murder room went out." The solution of this baffling mystery takes the reader through a labyrinth of the crimes of desperate men. The horror of the tale is relieved by a pleasant love theme which runs through it.

"Joyce," by Louise Pratt Hauck. This it what gushing young matrons would call an awfully peachy perfect love of a darling light opera style story. The heroine has not only dreamy good taste but is constantly showing signs of brains and intelligence. The author has a jingling variety of light-hearted nonsense and situations both intriguing and absorbing enough to make the volume a continuous, romantic comedy.

Medford Legion Dance at Eagle Point—

The Medford American Legion drum corps are marking time until the signal sends them off on their way through the Medford streets tonight, inspiring young and old with a spirit of gaiety. Werd, rhythmic melodies, such as only the famous "corps" are capable of producing with the instruments at hand will lure tired feet and those not so tired to Eagle Point tomorrow night. Once there, the strains of the Metropole orchestra will go the rest to make the American Legion dance, sponsored by the drum corps, an outstanding and enjoyable affair. At midnight a buffet supper will be served by the ladies of the auxiliary. Proceeds will go toward the expenses of the American Legion state convention to be held at La Grande on July 21.

Public Invited to Installation—

A public installation of officers of the Medford chapter, Order of Demolay, was held in the Medford Masonic temple last night at 8 o'clock. The public was cordially invited to attend the ceremonies, which were held on the second floor of the building. Two candidates received the majority degree, which is conferred on past members. Officers were installed for the new year.

Word Received of Marriage—

Word has been received here that Mr. Lyle Ashcraft and Miss Leta Kent, both residents of Portland, Oregon, were united in marriage recently in that city. Mr. Ashcraft is well known in Ashland having been a student at the Southern Oregon Normal school for the past year. Miss Kent, who is a niece of Mrs. Anna Kent of the Columbia Hotel in this city, was a freshman last year at the Oregon Agricultural College, located at Corvallis, Oregon. The couple will make their home in Portland, where Mr. Ashcraft has a position on the Eastmoreland golf course.

K. F. Delegation To Ashland—

A large delegation of Medford Knights of Pythias and Pythian Sisters will motor to Ashland this evening, Friday, July 1, to attend the first social event of the Ashland Pythian Sisters Temple. Dancing, cards and refreshments will be the diversions of the evening. The Ashland temple was recently organized by the Medford temple with nearly fifty charter members. Dickey's dance band will furnish the music. A delegation is also expected to be in attendance from Grants Pass.

Wedding Solomized—

An attractive wedding was solemnized Tuesday evening, June 28, at seven o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Turner on Sixth street when their daughter Miss Eria Turner became the bride of Mr. Charley S. Edwards.

The rooms of the Turner home were beautifully decorated with flowers and ferns and the bride looked charming in a white georgette dress trimmed with silver lace and rhinestones. The ceremony was performed under a bower of St. Joseph lilies and hawthorn, with Reverend Myron S. Woodworth of the local Baptist church officiating. The ring ceremony was used. Guests at the wedding included only the immediate relatives and friends of the bride and groom. Mr. and Mrs. Edwards are well known in this city and vicinity having grown to manhood and womanhood in the Rogue River valley. After a brief wedding trip they will return to Ashland to make their home.

Important Books Reviewed—

"The Moults House Mystery," by Charles Barry. Creator of detective stories, thickly spotted with mysterious disappearances, in one of which "he saw a man being throttled by another with a pointed beard. Then the light in the murder room went out." The solution of this baffling mystery takes the reader through a labyrinth of the crimes of desperate men. The horror of the tale is relieved by a pleasant love theme which runs through it.

"Joyce," by Louise Pratt Hauck. This it what gushing young matrons would call an awfully peachy perfect love of a darling light opera style story. The heroine has not only dreamy good taste but is constantly showing signs of brains and intelligence. The author has a jingling variety of light-hearted nonsense and situations both intriguing and absorbing enough to make the volume a continuous, romantic comedy.

Medford Legion Dance at Eagle Point—

The Medford American Legion drum corps are marking time until the signal sends them off on their way through the Medford streets tonight, inspiring young and old with a spirit of gaiety. Werd, rhythmic melodies, such as only the famous "corps" are capable of producing with the instruments at hand will lure tired feet and those not so tired to Eagle Point tomorrow night. Once there, the strains of the Metropole orchestra will go the rest to make the American Legion dance, sponsored by the drum corps, an outstanding and enjoyable affair. At midnight a buffet supper will be served by the ladies of the auxiliary. Proceeds will go toward the expenses of the American Legion state convention to be held at La Grande on July 21.

Public Invited to Installation—

A public installation of officers of the Medford chapter, Order of Demolay, was held in the Medford Masonic temple last night at 8 o'clock. The public was cordially invited to attend the ceremonies, which were held on the second

TURNING THE PAGES BACK

ASHLAND 12 Years Ago

Carey Edmunds, a former Ashland boy who has been in Portland for the past two years and is now located in Gold Hill, was up over Sunday.

Miss Angie Neil left Saturday for Hilt, where she will visit for a few days with her sister, Mrs. Gerald Torrence.

Miss Grace Davis returned to her home here Thursday after a visit with Mrs. E. L. Moore in Medford.

Kale Shepherd and Sam Jordan spent a couple of days last week fishing on the Applegate river in the neighborhood of Steamboat.

Mr. and Mrs. John L. King of Greensboro, N. C., visited over Sunday at the W. M. Barber home.

ASHLAND 20 Years Ago

Miss Irma Patrick has returned from a visit to the Rose Carnival at Portland.

Mrs. M. N. Long returned Saturday from Weed, California.

J. W. Opp, the mining man, who has recently disposed of his extensive mining interests in the northern part of the county, has taken the Blekeman home on Church street and will reside in Ashland. Mrs. Opp and the children and Miss Cronin came up Saturday and Mr. Opp will be here this week.

A private letter from Fort Klamath says that G. W. Loosley has just completed boring a two-inch hole for artesian water on his place and has been highly successful in obtaining a flow that raises 18 feet in a stand pipe and can be carried to any portion of his ranch.

ASHLAND 30 Years Ago

W. J. Virgin visited lower valley points yesterday looking up grain crop prospects, etc. The millers place the yield of grain in the valley at probably half a crop or about 150,000 bushels, based on the present outlook.

E. C. Sherman, the blacksmith, has purchased of J. B. Kendall, the latter's house and lot near Spring street, and has moved in to it with his family. The consideration was $550.

Warmer weather prevailed yesterday and today, the thermometer yesterday reaching the 90 degree mark. The weather bureau predictions for today and tomorrow are for "occasional showers, cooler."

Mrs. H. Fox and Mrs. Ed Fox went to Yreka this week to spend the Fourth of July with friends there.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE TIDINGS