

BYRD PARTY GREETED BY BIG THROG

Airmen Reach Destination on Train But Enthusiastic Frenchmen Give Them Wild Welcome—All Are Worn From Wearisome Atlantic Hop.

PARIS, July 2.—(AP)—Commander Richard E. Byrd and crew of three, Navigator George Noville, Pilot Bert Acosta and Lieutenant Bernt Balchen, reached Paris, their real destination today.

They were greeted with loud acclaim by huge crowds who did not hold against them the fact that they arrived by train rather than plane.

The huge and enthusiastic throng massed behind the French and American official reception. The committees were waiting to greet the fliers when they arrived in that city.

Story of the heart-breaking Atlantic flight was told by Commander Byrd after he had rested from the strenuous 50-hour journey.

The four daring airmen are safe and absolutely uninjured except for their jangled nerves.

Commander Byrd and Bert Acosta, pilot, were ordered to bed for the week-end, and will follow the advice of Commander Wm. S. Bainbridge, physician. They went to the American hospital.

Both were suffering from nerve shock and an examination made late today revealed Acosta suffered from a fractured right collar bone. Physicians said both were badly in need of rest.

Commander Byrd's next aerial adventure will be a flight across the south pole starting from the ice fields of southern New Zealand. It was definitely announced today. Lieut. Noville and Bernt Balchen will accompany him. He said he would probably take two machines, but circumstances will decide the date of the start.

Straight as a bullet on its course compelling valuable data for future trans-Atlantic flights, sending out radio call every half-minute to inform the world of its progress, talking to the world by radio, the giant Fokker flew to Paris only to be balked there by that most dangerous enemy of aerial navigation—fog.

"Four hours we circled the plane over Paris and the man-made inventions which guided and protected it, failed. Only the giant ship itself worked perfectly. Lights of the landing field we could not see. The compass went wrong. Signals giving us our position, we did not receive. To have attempted a landing there would have meant risking death with the odds highly in favor of the grim reaper," Byrd said in telling of the last few hours of the flight.

Then Byrd pointed his land-gear plane for the seacoast to land in water. He refused to abandon it in mid-air for the parachutes.

Commander Byrd's excited state of mind is said to be reflected in his statement that he knew nothing about the time he landed in the English channel. He said he had not looked at his watch for hours and had no idea of the time landing was made.

The big plane was so badly

"CHEVIE" HAS DOWNHILL RUN

Runaway Auto Cuts Zigzag Path Down Nursery Street

A run-away Chevrolet on Nursery street Friday afternoon performed some feats which might have mystified even Richards, the magician, and which threw terror into the hearts of those who watched the affair.

Occupants of the car when it started on its downhill "stroll" from in front of the S. C. Cluth residence, two blocks from Main street was eight year old Virginia Aylesworth, granddaughter of Mrs. Maggie Beagle, owner of the coupe.

In company with her three year old cousin, John Larkfin Grubb, Jr., little Virginia was playing about the car, which was in front of the home of their grandmother. Little John knocked a block from beneath the wheel of the car which started downhill before he could join his cousin—and which he appeared to regret.

The car rolled slowly downhill, gathering momentum as it followed a zig-zag course, passing between a sweet pea bed, and a telephone post, narrowly missing an old cow that strolled onto the road, striking a ladder which in turn struck a man knocking him to the ground, and finally ending its wild journey when it came in contact with a tree on the boulevard. The radiator of the car was crashed in and the body was badly dented.

As the car started on its downhill course Mrs. Emma Evenson of Berkeley, California, aunt of the two children, rushed toward the machine and snatched the little girl out of the car, tearing her clothing from her body as she did so.

OWNERSHIP IS SETTLED

Wm. Briggs Gets Bone of Contention in Auto Suit

A Ford automobile, grand prize awarded at the American Legion automobile show last spring, and bone of contention in a suit for ownership between Clifford Yarbrough and Thomas Grigby, both of Ashland, is now the property of Wm. Briggs, local attorney.

Yarbrough was given $100 for his interest in the car. Grigby then turned the car over to Wm. Briggs, who represented him in the case.

Yarbrough was suing Grigby for possession of the car alleging that he was owner of the ticket which was in the possession of Grigby when the car was awarded. The case was scheduled to be up at the fall term of circuit court, but was settled out of court.

Two Held-On Liquor Charge

Ray Mitts and Earl Nelson, of Weed, California, were arrested by Federal Prohibition Officer Terry Talent and Night policeman Chas. W. Clause early Thursday morning with one-half pint of moonshine liquor and three bottles of beer in their possession.

Mitts and Nelson were traveling south in a Hudson coach when arrested by the officers. Four men were occupants of the car. Each posted $50 cash bond with Municipal Judge Clint Baughman to assure his appearance on a charge of illegal possession.

BOAS AFTER YREKA SCALP

Local Regulars to Play California Sunday and Monday

Ashland baseball fans when they see the Boas clash with the Yreka team on Sunday and Monday will see a couple of former Boas players in action.

Mike Cassidy and Charles Kearns, who played with the Ashland team last year, are playing with Yreka and will accompany the Californians to this city.

Everything points toward some of the finest exhibition baseball of the season for these holiday games. The Yreka team playing the Boas on Memorial Day administered a good drubbing to the locals who at that time had not perfected their playing organization and lost the game through a flock of errors which were chalked up against them while the Californians had a smooth-playing, hard hitting machine which tallied up a good number of runs.

The July Fourth and Sunday games will show an entirely different brand of baseball. The Ashland regulars will be on the field and will play the same sort of errorless baseball which won for them the second place in the Southern Oregon League and saw them close the first season as the strongest team in the field.

The games are to be played at the Jackson Hot Springs diamond, and will be called promptly at 2:30 Sunday afternoon and Monday afternoon.

Great Magician Will Solve Tidings' Readers' Problems

Have you sent your question to Richards? Dozens of others have. Richards will be busy answering them for Tuesday's edition of the Tidings. He will be here then, days starting next Tuesday and unless your query reaches him promptly he may not have time to write his answer.

Richards will answer queries about business and love affairs, journeys, plans, changes, real estate, health, most anything in fact if the writer sends the inquiry addressed to "Richards, Magician, care of The Daily Tidings." All of his replies will be printed, provided you sign your name and address as an evidence of good faith. Only your initials will be published.

Questions are answered by the magician in the Tidings or during the regular performance at the Vining theatre. He does not give private interviews or readings. In addition to answering questions through The Tidings, Mr. Richards brings his big mystery show to the theatre for three days starting Tuesday, July 5, and during each performance will give a brief demonstration of the new science of psychometry, by which he derives answers from the innermost thoughts of all who see him. However, psychometry is only a small part of the big show as he carries two special carloads of scenic effects, and a large company.

Richards claims he is not a mind reader but a scientist and a magician. He is a famous magician because of the big show he carries, but it is gravely doubted that everything he does is based upon science for Richards was reared as a boy among the great Yogi and Brahma priests of North India and from childhood has baffled the leading scientists with amazing work. But regardless of how he does it, send in your questions to this paper now if you want to be sure of receiving an answer.

She minutely denied all allegations contained in the cross suit and then made additional charges against the world's greatest buffoon.

HARVEST OF BIG CHERRY CROP STARTS

Carload of Fruit Shipped to New York Markets Friday Evening and Another Today — Crop is Much Larger This Year Than Had Been Expected.

The cherry crop in this district is exceeding all expectations according to S. A. Taylor, manager of the Ashland Fruit and Produce company. One carload of cherries were packed at the company packing house this week and started for New York Friday evening, and another will be ready for shipments Saturday evening, according to Mr. Taylor.

It was thought that the crop this year would not exceed one car for shipment to eastern markets but there will probably be four carloads shipped from the local plant he said.

The Royal Ann and Bing varieties are said to be better this year than the Lamberts. Most of the cherry orchards, however, are well laden with fruit of the most choice variety.

There are approximately 50 people employed at the Ashland Fruit and Produce company assisting in caring for the crop this year, Mr. Taylor states.

The Tidings force, along with others of this city, will have a full holiday.

PARK DANCES MAY CONTINUE

Lithians Ask C. C. Assistance in Sponsoring Entertainment

Discussion of the advisability of sponsoring open air dances at the Lithia Park pavilion during the summer months occupied attention of Lithians who held their monthly session Friday evening at the Plaza cafe.

A committee authorized to investigate the situation reported on conditions as they had found them. Figuring a ten-dance program for the summer months the approximate cost would be $880, and this would barely cover expenses involved, it was found.

The Lithia park dances have been one of the most popular entertainments for summer months in this city and Lithians are considering every means of conducting them without involving heavy financial loss.

The Chamber of Commerce will be requested to cooperate with the Lithians in furnishing funds for starting the dances and assisting in sponsoring them with an understanding that any profits which might be made from the dances be divided equally between the two organizations.

This plan was considered advisable after much discussion. Much regret was expressed by many Ashland folks when it was feared that the popular out-door dances might be discontinued. Definite action on the matter will be taken at a later date.

PAUL KELLY OFF TO PEN

Handsome Young Actor Starts Serving at San Quentin

LOS ANGELES, June 2.—(AP)—In company with 14 criminals, and shackled between two of them, Paul Kelly, athletic young screen actor, left Friday night for San Quentin to begin serving the sentence of from one to 10 ears for manslaughter, given him in connection with the death of Ray Ramond, musical comedy star.

Handcuffed to Phillip Edwards, who stabbed to death an usher, at a prize fight, and John Spronc who shot and killed Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Ranes in a neighborhood feud, Kelly bid a tearful goodbye to a small group of friends. His sister Doris and May Ayers, motion picture actress, kissed him. He did not get to see his former sweetheart, Dorothy MacKaye, widow of Raymond, also sentenced to prison for connection with the death of her husband.

The Hyatt Dam is an ideal place for the celebration, and boats will be one of the attractions.

DEER PLAY ABOUT DAM

Curiosity of Animals Leads Them to Investigate

Curiosity of deer in the hills near the city is causing residents in the vicinity of the Crownson equalization dam much trouble, according to complaints which have been received by local police.

One complaint said the deer were tramping over and feeding in gardens near the dam.

Frequently the deer come to the edge of the dam, and when driven away by dogs become entangled in the fence about the place.

Arterial Signs Installed Soon

Traffic signals, which the American Legion Post of this city two months ago, agreed to purchase and place at main artery intersections have been ordered and will be installed within the next few weeks, according to Mil-

The Phillips-Carter signals, installed Grubb, post commander, vented by Mrs. Nick Carter, daughter of Mrs. L. A. Phillips, North Main street this city, will be installed.

Five hundred of these Phillips-Carter illuminated arterial signals have been recently purchased by the city of San Francisco.

HYATT DAM CELEBRATION PLANS MADE

Everything is in Readiness for Homecoming Picnic Monday With Plenty of Barbecued Meat and Ice Cream and Entertainment for All

Everything is in readiness for the Hyatt Dam July Fourth celebration.

A road crew is busy today putting the finishing touches on the Hyatt Dam road and the grounds will be inspected this afternoon by Olin R. Arnsperger, manager of the Talent Irrigation District and J. H. Fuller, preparatory for the July Fourth homecoming picnic.

The work of the road crew in the last week has been productive of fine results and the entrance to the dam will be easy.

"Barbecued meat, a tug of war, ice cream, whether there will be a crowd of 500 or 5,000" are the problems occupying the minds of those in charge of the celebration.

W. P. Walters is busy at his job of outlining a program of games for the entertainment of the crowd and plenty of fun for everyone attending is an assured thing.

There will be baseball, tug of war, potato race, and all sorts of real picnic games for the entertainment of both young and old. "We have a whole beef and everything is set for the barbecue," Mr. Arnsperger says speaking for the Talent District folks, while Mr. Fuller says his attention is occupied by a colder proposition—that of getting plenty of tea cream on the grounds for the merry-makers.

The committee in charge emphasize the fact that this is not to be a "blood and thunder" celebration but a real home picnic, get-together, old fashioned, everybody forgetting every-day worries and cares and abandoning themselves to the enjoyment of a picnic.

The Hyatt Dam is an ideal place for the celebration, and boats will be one of the attractions.
