

THE DAILY TIDINGS EDITORIAL and FEATURE PAGE

ESTABLISHED IN 1876

GEORGE MADISON GREEN, Manager

PUBLISHED BY THE ASHLAND PRINTING CO.

ASHLAND DAILY TIDINGS

Published at the Ashland, Oregon Postoffice as Second Class Mail Matter.
Subscription Price — Ashland Daily Tidings
By Carrier — 1 mo. 40c; 3 mo. $1.10; 6 mo. $2.00; 1 yr. $3.50
By Mail — 1 mo. 40c; 3 mo. $1.10; 6 mo. $2.00; 1 yr. $3.50

Club's Anniversary

The first anniversary of the Ashland Golf Club will be celebrated this afternoon and evening at the course near this city with playing by members and their friends and a basket picnic afterwards.

While the work on the course was started a year ago, the development of the large number of fair amateurs who go to the course frequently dates back only a few months or weeks in many cases.

This morning a man was heard to say: "I am not old enough to play golf." This is the attitude of many people, who have a false idea of what golf is. They think it is an old man's game; whereas to pilot and follow your ball around the nine holes is a physical feat which they do not want to wait too long to attempt. They consider it a game similar to Old Maid or something equally as unexciting and requiring an equal amount of mental exercise; but if these same men were to play the game, play it with as much enthusiasm, skill and effort as they might apply in any other game they would find it productive of both excitement and mental exercise.

A small number of local men and women have entered into the sport with enthusiasm and in only a short time several fair amateurs have developed. Within another year, it will have attracted and developed a much larger number of enthusiasts. Many are today staying away because of a false attitude, but persons of any pride or sporting blood are never willing to admit that the next man or woman is better at any game, and if these doubters will test the game, it would be safe to predict they would form a new opinion of the pastime.

Visitors Like Our Town

There is something about Ashland, and the beauties of Ashland which makes folks talk right out loud and become immediate boosters of the community. Scarcely ever is there a visitor comes to the city who does not comment on the beauties of the place.

However, there are some home folks who have so grown up with these beauties that they fail to appreciate their real value.

Visitors, however, are an asset to the community. Every visitor who becomes a booster of Ashland and Ashland beauties, and Ashland resources, is just so much of an advertisement for the town. We like to have them talk and we are glad that our community is the sort of a community that makes them talk.

They want to come back they say, these visitors in our midst, and it is up to every home booster to bring those visitors back again and again. We should cultivate a friendly attitude toward them in order that they may not be strangers in our midst.

No Fair This Year

While The Daily Tidings regrets that no Jackson county fair will be held this year, unless some unexpected development makes this possible, it is far better to cancel the engagement this year than to recklessly dive in and incur a deficiency of several thousand dollars, which seemed a certainty under present conditions.

However, the fair association should preserve the grounds and buildings in good condition, and should plan and devise methods if possible to insure the resumption of the fair next year, for Jackson county does not want to drop this beneficial attraction permanently.

It would be splendid if the association could in some way raise sufficient funds to hold the regular fair this fall, for this is undoubtedly of deep educational and publicity value to our county.

Value of Water

Medford, where the new water supply was tapped this week, has overcome one of her greatest difficulties and handicaps in her growth into a real city.

Ashland, which has always had maximum quality, but sometimes minimum quantity of water, celebrates her sister city in the accomplishment of that dream of all cities—water in quantity as well as of the highest quality.

Ashland in the not distant future will also accomplish this when the new canyon dam is constructed and more water is impounded—giving us quantity, as well as quality, in all emergencies.

It is well that both cities have recognized the value of a water supply sufficient for all needs and for many years to come.

OUT OUR WAY

By WILSON

Try This One

EUROPEAN GEOGRAPHY

1. Is Naples north or south of Rome?
2. Name the capital of Latvia.
3. Name the countries bordering on Switzerland.
4. Is the capital of Turkey in Europe?
5. What body of water would be crossed on a direct voyage from London to Amsterdam?
6. In what country is the city of Lublin?
7. On what island is Mt. Aetna?
8. What great peninsula extends into the Black Sea?
9. What two groups of island cluster closely about northern Scotland?
10. To what country is Salonika?

ANSWERS

1. Rhode Island.
2. Nevada.
3. Between hundred and two-hundred.
4. Virginia, West; Pennsylvania, Missouri; and North Carolina, third.
5. Pennsylvania.
6. Mississippi.
7. Indiana.
8. Urban.
9. Rhode Island.
10. The 10,000 to 25,000 class.

Where there is so much smoke there must be a fire.

Ignorance has longer roots than intelligence.

The length of the ear determines the reach of the intellect.

Too much of some things and too little of others—that's what kills us.

One tailor can ruin a man, and yet they say it takes nine tailors to make him.

When the brain space is small, most of it is devoted to complaining about small wages.

The rubbernecks are waiting for styles to get worse before they resume observations at the windy corners.

Hos Heck says: "When you sprinkle your lawn, it's a sign that a heavy shower will set in before mornin'."

SCISSORED SENTIMENTS

"Death reunites couple," says Portland headline, revealing that not even the family life of the hereafter is screened from the piercing eye of the omniscient copy desk man.—Bend Bulletin.

The farmer gets his extra hour of daylight in the summer not by moving the clock forward but by setting his alarm for an hour earlier.—Canton Globe-Times.

Take the tax off those whom it is driving into bankruptcy and collect it from those who can pay and suffer no privation.—Halsey Rural Enterprise.

Lindbergh is going to tour the country. Sort of a flivver tourist who has taken the air.—Silver Lake Leader.

Some day there's going to be a tidal wave. Then some of those ladies on the beach are going to get wet.—Roseburg News-Review.

The June bride tells us that she showed better judgment in matrimonial affairs than she did.—Silverton Tribune.

The early Eugeneans who brought the University of Oregon to this city when it was a village did not belong to the "Kant's."—Eugene Guard.

TURNING THE PAGES BACK

ASHLAND 12 Years Ago

During the month of June there were 30 blushing brides who made happy twenty lucky Jackson county men.

E. Finley returned the last of the week from San Francisco, where he took in the exposition and visited his son, Irving Finley.

Charles L. Wimer has returned from a business trip to Bend. He reports it very dry and a shortage of water in central Oregon.

Miss Mabel Putnam of Webb City, Mo., and Miss Maude Morris of Spokane, Ws., are visiting Mrs. Wm. Anderson at the McClure home on Morton street.

ASHLAND 20 Years Ago

Dr. C. F. Tilton and family left Tuesday for Johnson prairie for an outing season.

Mrs. W. A. Wilschire and family have joined Mr. Wilschire in Lake county for the summer, to return to their home in Ashland in the fall.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Gard and family will spend the summer at Harbor, Curry county, where Mr. Gard has extensive timber interests.

C. W. Evans, the mining operator, has returned from his tour of the gold and copper mining districts in Curry and Josephine counties.

ASHLAND 30 Years Ago

Ray Parker, one of the Ashland public school teachers for the ensuing year, is among the Chautauque visitors.

Mrs. R. R. Dunn, nee Emma Pope, who is visiting Jacksonville relatives, was among the visitors in Ashland Saturday.

Fred Hansen is up from his California home, arriving Thursday evening. He may return with his family to reside in this valley again.

Regular meeting of city council held on July 6, 1897. Present: J. P. Dodge, mayor; F. H. Carter, G. W. Crowson, W. A. Patrick, W. J. Schmidt. Absent: C. B. Crisler and W. B. Millon.

SOCIETY NOTES

DOROTHY REID, Editor, Phone 39 or 224L

Friday, July 8.—Women's Home Missionary society of the M. E. church will meet at 3:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. J. G. Andrews, 522 Fairview street.

Monday, July 11.—Royal Neighbors of America will meet in Wimer hall for their regular session.

Monday, July 11.—Ladies Art Club will hold a picnic in Lithia park at 9 o'clock p. m.

Monday, July 11.—W. B. C. will hold a social in Lithia park between the hours of 3 and 4 o'clock p. m.

Wednesday, July 13.—The Women's Benefit Association of this city will hold their next meeting at the entrance of Lithia park. A large attendance is desired.

MEMORIES

My room is hung with memories, Some silver and some gold, I take each one and try again Their secrets to unfold.

Deep as a hidden spring they hide To come at memory's call; The ever present is the past, By it we rise or fall.

Dear days of youth, dear loves a'gone To age you're keen delight; You lift the curtains of the past To let in cheering light.

The bitter rue has golden flowers Enticing to the bee, As bitter mingle with the sweets In perfect life to be.

Margaret Bradshaw, Seaside, Ore.

Child Welfare Clinic Held

The Jackson County Health Unit conducted their regular monthly child welfare clinic for infants and children under six years of age this afternoon, Friday, July 8, from 1:30 to 5 p. m., in the First Baptist church, Medford. Dr. L. D. Inskeep, county health officer, examined the children, assisted by Miss Janet Moffat and Miss Leah Jennings, county nurses. Women of the Jackson County Public Health association were in charge of the records.

Hostesses At Bridge Party

Misses Jessie Guthrie and Vella Ackley were the charming hostesses last evening, Thursday, July 7, when they entertained with a bridge party at their home on Gresham street, in honor of their house guests, Miss Emmeline Wentner of Berkeley, California, and Miss Vella Erie of Wood, California, who have spent the past week in this city. Three tables were in play. Miss Erie won the ladies' first prize, Barton Prulau was awarded the gentlemen's first prize and Otis Johnson and Miss Wentner received the ladies' and gentlemen's consolation prizes. During the evening Mr. Johnson was kept quite busy changing the records on the Victrola, his favorite piece seeming to be "Two Black Crows." Elaborate refreshments were daintily served at a late hour, after which a pleasant hour was spent in conversation. Those present included the following named: Messrs: Mable Mabel, Billings, Schuurman, Hugh Bates, Barton Prulau, Otis Johnson, the Misses Gertrude Carlson, Dorothy Reid, Emmeline Wentner, Vella Erie, Vella Ackley and Jessie Guthrie. Messrs: Yonnes McGee and Earl Snyder received invitations to the affair, but were unable to attend.

Japanese Meeting Held

A meeting of the Women's Missionary society, featuring a Japanese motif, was held at the Nazarene church and at the parsonage last night, Thursday, July 7. The members lavished their husbands and about 30 attended. During the summer the meetings

As usual, the men are carried away, old and young, and the women are left at home, devoid of the excitement and the glory, standing up under the work on the farms, each group isolated on their domestic islands, their lives empty and unsatisfying tragedies. Bravest and most self-reliant of all is Ellen Dacey, the mainstay of several generations, saving the farm, making it profitable and finally turned out of it upon the return of her father, who in his old age, asserts his title. He has lived a hard life, acquired some gold and his character has been hardened. Devoid of all sense of gratitude or the slightest refinements and courtesies which a man should have towards a woman who has made super-sacrifices, he turns the daughter out. The book is packed with heart and soul matter, and will carry you to the end on its great white-caps of emotion.—The Lariat.

SLEEPING BEAUTY PASSES 95th DAY

LOS ANGELES, July 8.—(AP)—Mrs. Clara Drummond, 21, slept through her 95th day of unconsciousness here today while a legal and medical war continued over her case.

The girl, according to Dr. W. J. Pascock, chiropractor, showed definite signs of a return to health and consciousness, both of which deserted here in her home at Fresno last April, when she suffered carbon monoxide poisoning.

PASS THE CHAIR!

Now a car is proposed for the taxicab industry. About the only unregulated industries remaining are the "100-cup-coffee drinkers and the marathon dancers.—No wonder this is a revolutionary country—with so many cars.—A traffic car is one of the boneking needs of the country. He would be named "Car of all the Rushers."—Then some reformer probably would want stop-lights on the Statue of Liberty.—The one industry that needs an iron hand more than any other is gold hunters, the generation that was agitated and swept to the Pacific Coast in the mad days of 1849, the California Gold Rush, trans-oceanic flights.

what satisfies best an outdoor appetite?

An outdoor appetite demands substantial, nourishing food—but it's keenly appreciative, too, of unusual quality flavor, Frye's "Delicious" Brand Bacon, mild cured, sweet flavored, and UNUSUALLY GOOD. Frye's "Delicious" is the "main" of a score of camp meals that make the strongest appeal of all to the appetite whetted by Nature's sun.

Write to Frye & Co., Portland, for "Frye's Meat Guide," including many Outing Menus. Send 2c to cover postage.

Frye's Delicious Bacon Fresh for you