Two Planes In Air On Perilous Flights

FLIGHT AROUND THE WORLD IS PILOT'S HOPE

First Hop-Off on Long Journey Made From Washington This Morning in the "Pride of Detroit"—Flight is Not a "Non-Stop" Affair.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—(AP)—With only a scattered dozen persons to bid them goodbye, Wm. S. Brock and Edward P. Schlee, pilot and passenger in the Stinson monoplane, "Pride of Detroit," took off from New Foundland from the beach here this morning. The plane in which the pair hope to circle the world, rose gently from the hard sand and headed out over the water at 5:20 eastern daylight time.

HARBOR GRACE, N. F., Aug. 26.—(AP)—The round the world monoplane "Pride of Detroit," arrived here today at 4:15 p. m. from Old Orchard, Maine.

OLD ORCHARD, Maine, Aug. 26.—(AP)—Little danger, beyond that of ordinary flying hazards will accompany the round-the-world-fliers. Their plane working in perfect condition, their take-off made easily and gracefully, there was little of the thrill of danger felt by the few who watched the flight when the fliers early today started on their long journey. No estimate regarding the length of time they may be gone was given. Both are expert aviators.

PLAN DISPLAY OF FIREWORKS

Seventy-Five Novelties Will Climax Big Jubilee in Medford

One of the most elaborate fireworks displays ever made in Southern Oregon will climax the Visions Realized Jubilee in Medford, according to arrangements made with a Seattle fireworks company. A burning pageant of prosperity, with 75 different presentations will be presented. Among the novelties will be a fiery version of the mines of King Solomon, which will call attention to the mining industry of the country and an aerial Niagara which will display a mass of liquid silver fires, reminding spectators of the new water system.

Loafers In Medford To Get To Work

According to Chief of Police McCredie of Medford, a good example was set when "Chick" Kennedy was sentenced to serve six months at Kelley's Butte when he was convicted of a vagrancy charge.

"A number of other shirks who never work are being watched. We pick 'em up if they are out after midnight in gangs," he said. "If they fail to get to work the chief threatens them with Kelley's Butte."

VETS WILL GET STATE ASSISTANCE

Following investigation by J. P. Bergesch, irrigation engineer, the economic stability of the Tule Lake region in Klamath county is highly praised and state aid for veterans in that region is practically assured.

A RABBIT TALK
Rabbits were the bone of contention in an argument which Chief of Police Chas. Clause settled Thursday. A rabbit was sold—but the rabbit wasn't what it was said to be, so it was charged. It was a lady rabbit and its new owner soon was richer by several little bunnies. Then an argument started and the original owner gets the lady rabbit back—but her progeny remains with the second owner as does the mother until the babies are able to look out for themselves.

MOURNERS TO SEE REMAINS OF TWO REDS

Small, Bare Room, Receives Bodies of Two Anarchists And Thousands Will Pass Through and Visit Bier Before Public Funeral Sunday.

BOSTON, Aug. 26.—(AP)—All day long a throng of 1500 persons waited outside Joseph A. Langone's tiny undertaking parlors Thursday in hope of seeing the bodies of Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti. While they lined the curb and overflowed into the street, the removal of the bodies was being delayed by the work of making death masks. Not until Thursday evening was their long vigil rewarded by a glimpse of the bodies.

A small, bare room, hardly more than 12 feet wide by 15 long was made ready to receive the caaskets. There was only one door and it was planned to have the mourners file in and pass about the biers and then out again. Preparations were made for an all-night guard and the bodies will be constantly on view until Sunday, when the funeral will be held. Hundreds of persons will view the bodies in that time.

THREE BOYS TAKEN HOME

Bumming Rides, California Youths Do Distant Travelling

Bumming rides is an easy task according to three boys, aged 12 and 14 years, who were taken back to their home in Yreka, California by a deputy sheriff from that place, Friday morning after being held by local police over night.

The three boys bummed rides to Ashland to visit with a sister here—only the sister didn't care for their company and they were turned over to local officers and held for California police. The trio has a penchant for running away and seem to have no difficulty in making great distances, the officer said.

One boy attempted bumming with an eight-year-old brother, but motorists didn't care for the baby, he said.

LITHIANS WILL MEET

Lithians will meet this evening at the Plaza cafe for a regular session. Matters pertaining to the recent carnival sponsored by the organization, a report of the sign committee and other routine matters are to be discussed at this time.

THINGS THAT HAPPEN

Sometimes things that never happen get reversed and do happen. Only three automobiles left and possibly not more than 50 people of the near 1,000 walked away from the grounds Thursday evening when "The Star Spangled Banner" closing selection on the concert program was played. This was a great improvement. Bandmen were thankful for this. Some folks seem to think, from all appearances, that the playing of this number is the sounding of a retreat.

NATION-WIDE SEARCH WILL BE CONDUCTED

Matricide Sought in Every Section of County—Chicago Boy Charged With Murdering Mother and Burying Body in Shallow Cellar Grave.

CHICAGO, Aug. 26.—(AP)—Search for Harry D. Hill, 21 years old, formerly college student, wanted for matricide, has been extended to the entire country.

Young Hill is charged with the murder of his mother, Mrs. Ellen Hill, 55, whose body was found in a shallow grave in the basement of their home at Streator, Ill., Monday night. He was last seen here Tuesday in a railroad yard, seeking information on coast bound trains. That was two hours after the police missed him at the home of a friend.

Citizens of Streator Thursday recalled the circumstances surrounding the death of Mrs. Drucilla Walbron, 74, who died in December, 1925, from injuries received in a fall at the Hill home.

Mrs. Walbron, a friend of Mrs. Hill, was killed when she fell down the stairs from the kitchen to the basement. A coroner's jury returned a verdict of accidental death. Mrs. Hill, too, was killed on the same stairs, but a bullet felled her. Then her body was dragged to a remote corner of the cellar and buried in the soft earth, the brick flooring being torn up.

REDFERN WILL REACH JUNGLE FRIDAY NIGHT

Intrepid Aviator Flies Alone Over Trackless Waste—Apprehension Felt as to his Safety as Oil Supply was Said to be Insufficient.

OLD ORCHARD, Maine, Aug. 26.—(AP)—Paul Redfern, attempting his 4,000 mile non-stop flight to Rio De Janeiro, is over the Caribbean sea and will reach the mainland of South America late this afternoon if all goes well. Navy men estimated.

They calculated on a 92-mile an hour speed and considering the headwinds they said the lone flyer will enter the second night in the air, over the trackless wilderness of British and Dutch Guiana.

BRUNSWICK, Aug. 26.—The flight of Redfern is even more perilous than that of Lindbergh. Lindbergh's first stage was over land and his second over a fog-obscured sea.

Redfern at 1:46 Thursday headed southeastward over calm, sunny water.

But the second stage of his flight, after he hits the South American coast, presumably around the mouth of the Orinoco, will be largely over almost unknown territory, much of it jungle.

Redfern is carrying equipment to enable him to combat tropical fevers as well as poisonous snakes and wild animals in case he is forced to land in the jungle. A high-powered rifle, heavy, oiled boots for jungle tramping, mosquito netting for protection against venomous insects, fever serum and potassium permanganate for treating snake bites were part of his load.

There were also a parachute, collapsible boat, signal pistol, emergency valve to empty tanks in case a forced landing on water is necessary, and water distilling apparatus.
