ARMY MUTINY

Military May Have Command
 President Calles, in a statement, declared that the military was reporting back for duty today.

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 4.—(UP)—Generalissimo Calles, chief of the state, declared today that the military was reporting back for duty today.

Admitting the extent of the revolt of the troops today in the Mexico City garrison, but claiming the revolt was a failure, President Calles declared officers of the revolting troops are reporting back for duty today.

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 4.—(UP)—The Mexican capital was filled with rumors, rumors and an uneasy, popular today, as the city awaited developments following the mutiny of 500 soldiers in the Mexico City garrison.

The castle of the Mexican president was a scene extraordinary, with activity, numerous conferences with military leaders.

President Calles, at Chapultepec Castle, refused to make any statements.

There is great activity at the castle. Automobile loads of staff officers are arriving and departing almost incessantly, special wires have been placed in the castle yard.

General Obregón, close friend of the president, visited the castle today in the afternoon. His War Minister Amaro was there also.

A body of troops moved toward the castle soon after Obregón arrived, presumably to strengthen the garrison.

What connection the mutiny has with the forthcoming presidential campaign, whether it is a mutiny favor the cause of a candidate, has not been disclosed.

CHEMICALS EXTINGUISH BAD BLAZE
 Siren Sounded Early Today When Chemicals Used to Extinguish

Ashland residents were awakened from their slumber at 1:15 o'clock Tuesday morning by the sounding of the fire alarm when a basement blaze threatened to destroy the Walker Herndon home on Beach street.

Chemicals were used in extinguishing the blaze and damage done was of a minor nature, although only quick response of the department prevented the same from spreading to the second floor.

The Herndon family, who were in the basement, were awakened by the family in his frantic effort to escape the smoke and heat coming from the blue blocks which were set ablaze when a wooden trap door at the base of the fire—used in cleaning the fire—escaped ignited.

NO NEW DATE FOR FESTIVAL

Committee Makes Postponement of O. O. Program Indefinite

A meeting of the committee which was handling the Fall Festival which was postponed due to the minor quarantine which was established in Ashland yesterday afternoon.

It was decided to hold the festival later if conditions warranted, but nothing definite toward naming a new date for the celebration, which all of the members of the committee said were in favor of holding later.

A regular "Who's Who in Medford" fell into the hands of police officers of that city when they arrested Carl Winstead and James Vanhook on Monday afternoon.

The correspondence of the prisoners was found by them, and a list of names, telephone numbers and addresses, and their equipment for finding their customers included a map which showed how to reach the house of a well known Medford resident.

The list, according to Sergeant C. P. Talent, who assisted in the raid, was not so large, but it was extensive—very exclusive. It consisted almost entirely of business and professional men.

Today Policeman Bill Peck of Medford is telling how he always gets his man too—he climbed under the house and dragged the two villains to daylight after the officers found plenty of alleged liquor and the two dispensers had sought to burrow deep into the ground.

TRANSCRIPT IS RECORDED
 Kelley Case Transcripts Appear Before Supreme Court

SALEM, Oct. 4.—(UP)—Transcripts on appeal in the habeas corpus proceedings brought by Ellsworth Kelley, condemned convict in an effort to secure release from prison were filed with the supreme court today. Kelley contends he was illegally detained in prison at the time of the break in which two guards were killed and that he had a right to try and escape.

Circuit Judge McWhan denied a writ recently, although admitting Kelley had a right to kill if necessary in his attempt to escape.

Fish Screens Will Be Made

New revolving screens for the protection of small fish are to be installed by the state game commission at the Savage Rapids dam. Work of raising the flood gates necessary for the installation of this screen is to be started tomorrow, according to W. R. Coleman, state employee in charge of the work. The condition of the river will govern the time of installation of the screen, he stated.

LILJEQUIST IS CHOSEN FOR PROSECUTOR

Grand Jury Investigation of Shooting of Fugitive Who Sought to Escape Capture by Prohibition Officers, Will Be Started Thursday Morning.

Appointment of Assistant General Liljequist to take charge of the grand jury investigation of the Harford Zimmerman case, was made late Monday afternoon by Attorney General Van Winkle under direction of Governor I. L. Patterson.

Liljequist is at the present time in Marshfield and will reach Medford Thursday morning to take charge of the case. The grand jurors will not assemble before that time. District Attorney Newton C. Chaney will present other matters to the jury after the Zimmerman case is considered.

Terry Talent, federal officer, and Claude Hickman, state prohibition agent, both of whom were fired in the general direction of Zimmerman as he fled, attempting to escape after he was placed under arrest by Talent to whom he delivered two gallons of alleged moonshine liquor, were at a conference in Governor Patterson's office, when the request of Chaney for a special prosecutor was considered.

The witnesses who testified at the coroner's inquest at which the officers were cleared of blame, will be called to testify before the grand jury and their testimony will be augmented by testimony from all others who have any knowledge regarding the incident and circumstances which led up to the fatal shooting.

Lindsey Cleared By Bar Members

DENVER, Colo., Oct. 4.—(UP)—Ben E. Lindsey, former juvenile court judge has been vindicated by the Denver bar association for burning the "shame records" which he removed from out his office when he was ousted recently. The records involved a series of cases which Judge Lindsey had handled. He maintained they were private papers. Before action could be taken against them he burned them in public.

WOULD STOP BOOZE SALA

Prohibition Authorities Would Suppress School Bootlegging

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—(UP)—Prohibition authorities have instituted a nation-wide campaign to suppress bootlegging in the vicinity of schools and colleges.

Assistant Secretary of Treasury Lowman today instructed all administrators to aid educational heads in preventing drinking on or near school grounds.

Several university heads have appealed to the treasury for assistance in ending liquor nuisances and the federal dry machine is to answer their call.

Events of Interest

Plans for Start of Bible School Work Discussed by Ministers

Plans for the week-day Bible school will be started next Monday, October 10, under the direction of Mrs. Grace Andrews, who has been in charge of the work since it was instituted in this city.

The annual mass meeting at which the budget for the support of the work is raised, is to be held October 23 at the Methodist church.

The success of the Ashland Bible School has been sufficiently great, ministers pointed out, that the plan instituted here is taken as a model by other towns considering the installation of similar work among school children.

Employment Bureau Used

"We placed three people through our employment bureau Monday. The Tidings had no more than gotten on the streets before we received inquiries about the service we would give and from all indications we will become a real clearing house," according to E. G. Harlan, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce.

There is a considerable list of normal school students listed who desire part time employment.

PLAY BY PLAY COVERAGE OF WORLD SERIES

Tidings Reports Will be Given by Trained U. P. Newspaper Men and Will Be Complete in Every Detail — Reports Go Over 100,000 Miles of Leased Wire.

The United Press, which will furnish the Tidings a complete play by play report, this year will handle the world series baseball play with trained and experienced new men.

Following a practice adopted during the last two years in covering great sporting events, reporters and news writers alone will be responsible for telling the real story of the games through the United Press.

There will be supplementary features to make the United Press coverage the most detailed and comprehensive possible.

In charge of the story will be Frank W. Getty, sports editor of the United Press, a veteran sports reporter in the organization and a man whose writing and reporting of big stories is widely known.

Working with Getty on the coverage of the games in Pittsburg and New York will be Morris De Haven Tracy, Paul W. White, Ross Boyning, Sam Love, Robert Waggoner and others.

Through the system of visible relay adopted by the United Press to speed transmission of a fast-breaking spot news stories, the play by play description sent from the playing fields by Getty will be flashed instantaneously over 100,000 miles of leased wires from coast to coast.

Such are the mechanical arrangements made for handling of the play that the result will be as if every leased wire circuit in the country were on its own direct wire to the ball parks.

In addition to the newspapers in the United States which will receive the stories of the championship games, the United Press will send detailed descriptions of the game to Latin America and the Orient.

Europe has not reached the point of enthusiastic interest in baseball that as come among the people of the southern hemisphere and the far east.

MANY CARS REGISTERED

During the first nine months 17,505 automobiles were registered at the local Chamber of Commerce registration bureau records show.

Record by months is as follows: January, 285; February, 402; March, 786; April, 1,071; May, 1,790; June, 3,442; July, 4,051; August, 3,623; September, 1,454.

During the month of June and July, tourist travel included many travelers from eastern states.

VALLEY PEAR CROP RECORD

Approximately 2,500 Carloads of Pears Will be Shipped

The 1927 pear crop in the Rogue river valley will be greater than the crop of last year, and will exceed the early season estimates in the neighborhood of 200 cars, according to estimates which are being made by shippers and packing house men.

The pears sizing up much better than anticipated and being of a finer quality, made early season estimates low.

Nearly 2,000 cars of pears have been shipped with approximately 300 more to soon be on the road, making a total of approximately 2,500 carloads of pears sent out of the valley this year. Last year a total of 2100 cars were shipped.

Prices satisfactory to the majority of the orchard men are being obtained it is said.

VINING OFF TO CAPITOL

Tramway of Mt. Hood to be Presented Interior Department

Irving E. Vining, of this city, President of the Oregon State Chamber of Commerce, has been named a member of the delegation which will meet October 13 with Secretary of the Interior Herbert Work, to ask that department to endorse the building of the tramway to the summit of Mt. Hood.

Mr. Vining, who has been spending several days at his cottage at Lake of the Woods was notified today of his appointment on the delegation and immediately made plans for making the journey.

The Mt. Hood tramway, which is endorsed by the Portland Chamber of Commerce, the Hotel men's Association and other civic and commercial bodies, has been a disputed question, the head of the forestry department several months ago refusing to consider the proposed tramway—argument against the proposition being advanced on the theory that the tramway would commercialize too much the beauty of Mt. Hood.

DEVELOPMENT OF GOLD MINE IS DISCUSSED

Effort is Made to Interest Ashland Capital in Mining Project in Warner Creek District—E. D. Briggs, Owner of Mine Now Abandoned.

Development of the Shorty-Hope mine, and of the old Ashland mine, two gold mines with histories closely interwoven with Ashland history and development, was discussed by a group of local business men who met in the Chamber of Commerce office Monday evening, to consider ways and means of raising sufficient capital for the development.

F. R. Bachus of this city, an experienced mining man who has made a thorough investigation of the possibilities of the mine, from which gold of great value there is still much high grade ore in the mine—ore which was not touched in former operations, containing sufficient of the precious metal to make it profitable to mine, at the present price.

The Shorty-Hope mine, taking its name from a joining of two claims and the Ashland mine, both owned by E. D. Briggs of this city. Operation of the Ashland mine ceased 30 years ago and operation of the Ashland mine some time before that.

The old stamp mill was at one time located in Ashland and according to plans which promote of the mine hope to be able to realize a new mill would be located in this city for the purpose of handling the ore.

There is considerable water in the Ashland mine at the present time, and plans include the tunneling through from the Shorty-Hope mine to the Ashland mine, and draining the former with natural drainage rather than the use of pumps.

Much high value ore remains in the mine, according to mining men, and interest of local capital in the project was the purpose of the meeting Monday evening.

Some definite action it is expected, will be taken in the near future.

WARDEN PARR SHOOT'S BUCK

Game Warden Ray Parr went hunting Monday and returned with a fine four point buck, Fred Frahn, his hunting partner landed a three pointer. The two were hunted on Parker mountain.

There are plenty of deer and more hunters than ever in the woods this year according to Warden Parr who has traversed over this entire district during the open season on deer, and reports having received reports of numerous fine kills.
