Miller Tells of White Metal

"Maybe you better not mention it," cautioned Ed. W. Miller of Grants Pass, state senator for Josephine county, as he checked out of the Imperial for Washington, D. C., "but a man in Grants Pass the other day smelted 20 pounds of ore and recovered five pounds of white metal. Yes, they are getting the white metal in Grants Pass, notwithstanding the assertions of pessimists. While it is not definitely known what the white metal is, it is known that it contains a percentage of tin and as it comes from the furnaces it is a splendid solder. Aside from the white metal, there is considerable activity in the gold mining industry in our mountains"—Oregonian.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

by EDSON R. WAITS Shawnee, Oklahoma

That newspapers are instruments for service.

Because they build up a better relationship between the people they serve.

Because they go into every home with their message.

Because they are educational, clean and elevating.

Because they shorten the distance between buyer and seller.

Because newspapers are not an experiment, but are proved a thing.

Because nothing can take the place of honest advertising in newspapers.

Because newspaper advertising has been in the lead in the advertising field for many years and that proves their ability to serve the business world profitably.

Newspaper advertising stimulates business!

Testing Times ON a levee at a bend in the Mississippi a thousand men were building with sand-bags a second-line defense against rising waters which threatened hundreds of miles of fertile cropland. Over a telephone, housed in a wooden box nailed to a tree, an engineer was talking to headquarters—reporting on the progress of the work, asking for reinforcements and additional material, receiving Weather Bureau forecasts which would be vitally important to him in planning the strategy of this grim battle for lives and property. The telephone had been put in service but a few minutes before, after a construction crew had worked from sunrise to sunset, often waist-deep in swamp water, to string fifteen miles of line to this isolated outpost. Such is telephone service in an emergency—service in which telephone men and women do very much the same things they do every day of their lives, but do them under conditions that give vivid emphasis to the import of their efficiency, devotion, and fidelity to public interests. In such crises, when even the most commonplace of calls may become a matter of life or death, the public realizes its day-by-day dependence upon the telephone and upon the men and women who make of it an instrumentality of human service.
