GILL vs. NORLEY
By DOC REID

Eighty-two years ago today, Paddy Gill, a former bantam-weight champion of England, successfully defended his claim to the featherweight title in the hardest battle of his long career, by defeating Young Norley in 160 rounds of desperate fighting near Birmingham, England. The battle lasted four hours and ten minutes.

In the sixtieth round, Norley suffered a broken right hand and battled the remaining 160 rounds with the left hand as his only weapon of attack. At that he had the champion in a bad way upon several occasions, but was a badly beaten man at the finish.

Christmas Seal Sale Under Way

First response to the Christmas Seal sale was reported this morning by Mrs. Rose Robinson, local chairman, who said she received a check for $10 from Hillah Temple.

An immediate, generous response is anticipated, as has been made in the past through the e-mail sale.

Deer Die In Copco Canal

Complaints have been received by game officials regarding the drowning of deer in the "canal" at the Copco plant at Prospect. Five deer have been drowned in the last week, and six pulled from the waters before they were dead. A fence will probably be placed about the canal.

who cast asparagus at the fed necks and uncultured minds of the uncouth Boss Vare and his pals during their vain but extremely expensive attempt to keep him from getting Pepper's seat in the 1926 primary and election. Reed and the Mellons erect an heroic statue, of Boss have since been almost willing to Bill atop the capitol dome in their frenzied efforts to keep him from further reducing their important political power. But at Boss Vare cannot forget those unkind words.

And now, Mr. Beck, who is as respectable as any of the refined Pittsburgers and as wealthy as some of them, has come here to add considerable pertumery to the Vare crowd both in Washington and at home.

Boss Vare has every reason to believe that the Senate won't let him in when it comes into session in December, despite all the Mellons, Reeds and Backs may do to show that his campaign expenses of a million dollars or less should not bar him. If the Mellon machine can't wheedle him out of it, he may run against Reed next year, but that's another story.

In the meantime, Pennsylvania should have a second senator, who will be appointed by the governor. Vare unquestionably can dictate the appointment and it seems more than likely that he will reach over into his old seat in the House and select his pal, counsel and defender, Mr. Beck.

G. A. R. Post Election Near

With but 14 members of Burnside Post, G. A. R. remaining, plans are being made for the annual election of officers to be held December 10, at the regular meeting. Five of the remaining veterans because of infirmities due to their advanced age, are unable to attend regular meetings, but those who are able are faithful in their attendance and hope as long as possible to retain their charter and remain an active Post.

Ike Dunford Is Nearly "Moved"

Ike Dunford, county jailor, is a busy man. He is the only county official who does not have his office in Medford, and hopes to join the rest of the official family in their new home by December 1. He is busy making the final preparations for the transfer of his prisoners from the old Jacksonville jail to the jail on the first floor of the new court house. All escape-proof cells, steel bars and other equipment is being gradually moved and installed in the new jail.

Some Inside Information on The New Ford is Given Here

We have been repeatedly asked for information concerning the new Ford, and we are pleased to give our readers the full benefit of the information we have gleaned from first-hand source and another. Here it is.

The new Ford product will be known as the Lincoln, taking its name from Abraham Lincoln, its founder, and Henry Ford, its manufacturer. Some other names may be substituted.

The car will be equipped with a running gear, engine, body, gasoline tank, radiator, and other accessories, usual to other automobiles.

The wheels, of which there will be four, will be set on axles and will turn around and around forward or backward, depending on the choice and skill of the driver.

On the extreme front end, the car will be equipped with a radiator, which will serve as a reservoir for water with which to water the road. The front of the radiator will be meshed so as to be an excellent smasher of bugs, insects, and the like.

Situated somewhere on the car will be a gasoline tank which will contain a certain number of gallons of gasoline, or any liquid sold as gasoline by filling stations. A lesser number of gallons can be used if desired.

All seats will be equipped with cushions of more or less softness. On the touring and sedan models the rear seat will be placed directly behind the front seat. Both seats will be protected from sun, rain, etc., by a top.

In front of the front seat and behind the radiator will be placed a windshield, which will serve as a barometer. When it is raining the windshield will become smeared with mud, water, etc., from passing vehicles.

The car will be guided by a steering wheel, which will turn the car to the right or left, but never both ways at the same time.

Entrance to the car may be gained through doors cut somewhere in the body, or, if desired, by climbing over.

The sedan and coupe models will be closed cars, and the touring cars and roadsters will be open cars.

The engine of the car will be usual in design and equipped with gears, rings, pistons, cylinders, spark plugs, wires and other Goddads.

The car will be equipped with pneumatic tires, which will be placed over the wheels, tending to give the car a soft, airy, easy-riding feeling.—Woodson (Tex.) Reporter.

Y. Secretary On Faculty

W. P. Walter, local Y. secretary plans to go to Astoria early in December for an Older Boys conference, having been asked to serve as a discussion leader or member of the conference faculty. This invitation comes as a distinct honor to Mr. Walter, a recognition of his work, and is particularly pleasing as he spent his first year of Y. work in that city.

Ancient Law Is Constitutional

SALEM, Nov. 29.—(AP)—The constitutionality of the Oregon State, enacted January, 1854, exempting personal and real property of literary, benevolent, charitable and scientific institutions from taxation was upheld by the Oregon Supreme court today in an opinion handed down today in the case of Sisters of Mercy hospital at Eugene, Against Ben F. Lane county assessor.

SHORT TALKS BY THOUGHTFUL MOTHERS

A California (Long Beach) Mother speaks: "Only a mother who has passed through anxious hours of fear of crup can appreciate our feeling of gratitude toward Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. It stopped Junlor's dreadful hoarse crup cough the very first night he took it and it was a great relief to see him drop into a quiet sleep. Since then, we have many times proven its reliability for coughs and colds." Good also for whooping cough.—For sale by all druggists—No. 1

Stomach Trouble

New thousands use genuine Agmela from Mexico, where formerly only a few wealthy sufferers could travel there to drink it. For this world-famous natural sap, cherished centuries in Mexico for its health value, is now available here in unadulterated concentrated form known as Agmela. Not a medicine but Agmela just as Nature produces it except for removal of water without cooking. Free from preservatives. Non-alcoholic.

People all over the world now use Agmela in connection with treatment of stomach trouble. Scientific research has been conducted to determine why Agmela works so well. It contains a combination of the complex sugars and somewhat similar to glycogen found in normal liver and muscle tissue. This research also discloses nine valuable minerals, vitamins A, B and C, and active vitamin content in Agmela. Free booklet at druggists. Imported only by Agmela Corp.

"Electricity!—The Tireless Servant of America's Prosperity"

Says Lewis E. Pierson
President of the United States Chamber of Commerce

"Many factors have contributed to the pre-eminent position of America's workers, but underlying everything else has been the fact that the American wage earner has had more horse power at his elbow than the workers of any other industrial nation."

WHILE the rest of the world wrestles with unrest and industrial strife, capital and labor in America work shoulder to shoulder on a basis that has resulted in higher standards of living than those enjoyed by any other people.

The most highly developed system of electric power equipment and facilities in the world has helped make this condition of affairs possible.

Because of the engineering skill and organizing ability which have gone into the expansion of America's power plants, there is available to American industry today more electrical energy than is produced in all the rest of the world combined.

Nearly a million miles of transmission and distribution lines supply American industry with more than thirty million horse power. Expressed in terms of man power, this is equivalent to the potential service of 40 helpers for every worker in this country.

Increasing, as it does, the production capacity of the worker by forty fold, this great industrial force has improved the financial status of American labor approximately fifty percent in the last fifteen years, while at the same time, materially decreasing the cost of manufactured articles.

In the light of such achievement, it is obvious that the interests of American business and American family life will be served best by the careful preservation of the principle of individual initiative by which such accomplishments have been made possible.
