SATURDAY'S NEWS

Fish stories are a little slow in coming in this season, but are not so bad when they are related. A number of five-pound steelheads have been caught in Bear creek. Fish are said to be plentiful, but are apparently not hungry and do not fall for the lure of the bait. When the water begins to go down, fishermen claim, is the time when the fish cannot find so much to eat in the water.

Rev. Charles A. Edwards of the local Methodist church, has given up his trip to Portland to attend the funeral of the late Bishop Matt S. Hughes, as it is impossible to get any one to fill his pulpit Sunday morning and he feared he might not get back in time for the morning service.

L. L. Multt of Portland is a business visitor in Ashland today.

Mrs. M. D. Herman of Sparks, Nev., will be in Ashland on or about April 15 to see those who have answered her advertisement.

Reports from Grants Pass state that salmon fishing is unusually good at this time. Many fishermen landed fine chonok at the dam Thursday, one of which weighed 32 pounds dressed. According to the Courier there seems to be a run of salmon coming up now and they are taking hold now better than at any time during this year. The fish do not seem particular as to the kind of spinner they take, most anything attracting them.

Mrs. G. H. Ketcham and Mrs. E. P. Vorus were Medford visitors this afternoon.

W. F. Dunn, who recently sold his ranch and orchard near Tule, expects to leave soon for Watsonville, Calif., where he will make his home.

Dr. and Mrs. S. A. Danford left yesterday for Portland where they will attend the funeral of the late Bishop Matt S. Hughes today. Mrs. Danford will remain north until the first of June, when she will return with her daughters who are in the University at Eugene, and will occupy their newly purchased home on the Boulevard.

Without the least solicitation Ashland again met her quota in the campaign for the Near East Relief Fund which was taken during the past month. The committee in charge, after placing the matter before the public, left subscriptions to be made at the various banks, with surprising results. Ashland's quota was fixed at $1,657, but contribution continued to come in so well that before the committee was aware Ashland was "over the top" with her subscriptions. Following is the summary of the amounts raised:
Total church subscriptions, $1,664.35.
Total subscriptions through banks, $708.20.
Gross amount subscribed, $1,772.55.
Expenses, $6.50.
Net amount to "Near East Relief, $1,766.05.
Anyone who will further subscribe to this fund is urged to do so through any of the local banks, and the subscriptions will be forwarded to Port and headquarters.

Portland would spend $10,000,000 on improved waterfront.
