PEOPLE'S FORUM

D. L. Moody's Faith.

Probably a few citizens of Ashland were privileged to hear the great evangelist D. L. Moody. Those who heard him will never forget the man nor his message. He was used of God as no other evangelist has ever been to turn thousands from sin to salvation through Christ. His work was even more effective in Great Britain than in America.

Mr. Moody, like every great soul-winner of this, or past generations, believed the Bible from cover to cover. He had no fads of doctrine, but was believed in by every minister and Christian who stood for the Truth of God.

The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago was founded by D. L. Moody many years ago. During all these years it has remained absolutely true to the same doctrines and truths that Mr. Moody preached. It has sent out tens of thousands of well taught young people to preach the whole truth of God to the ends of the earth.

If Mr. Moody were alive and could stop one day in Ashland the great auditorium would not hold the people that would throng to hear him. The Bible Institute now in progress in this city is under the management of the Chicago Institute and the men who are conducting this work are not only known and honored far and wide for their knowledge of God's Word, but they are chosen and sent here by that great Institute because they believe and teach exactly the same truths Mr. Moody taught. There should be no mistake here. In these days of fads and cults it is easy to suppose that this Institute holds and teaches some errors. On the contrary, the old faith of our fathers is being taught. It is the truth that every soul-winner and faithful missionary believes and teaches today.

This closing week of the Institute should have the personal support of every person in this city who claims to believe in the Bible.

OREGON HEADS LIST.

Receipts from National Forest business in the North Pacific district for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1920, totalled $860,663.08, which is $105,680.60 greater than the receipts of the preceding year, according to a report just compiled in the office of District Forester George H. Cecil, Portland.

The Whitman National Forest, eastern Oregon, leads in receipts with a total of $119,252.87. In the second place, is the Tongass National Forest, Alaska, with receipts of $94,210.23; the Crater Forest, in southern Oregon, comes third, with $81,674.99; while Columbia, Olympic and Wallawa follow in the order named with $44,964.96, $43,581.01, and $41,541.84 receipts respectively.

By far the greater portion of these receipts came from timber sales which brought in $518,845.17 during the year and an additional $8,582.35 from timber settlement and timber trespass.

Twenty-five per cent of the total receipts for the district, $215,165, will be returned to Oregon, Washington, and Alaska, to swell the road and school funds of the counties or districts in which the National Forests are located. Ten per cent more, $51,884.52, must be spent in road or trail development within the forests themselves.

The total receipts from the National forests of the country for the last fiscal year were $1,792,482.28, which is nearly a half million dollars more than for the preceding year.

PARKHURST WILL QUIT THIS FALL.

Alfred L. Parkhurst was down from Crater Lake today and was very much displeased with the recent "unfair and extreme attacks" made on the Crater Lake lodge and himself by Mr. Hazzen of the Portland Telegram and Stephen Mather.

Mr. Parkhurst said: "I am the only man in Oregon who has put money into the Crater Lake National park development and all the thanks I have ever received for developing the tourist business in Oregon and Crater Lake park is abuse by the National park service and the newspapers. I have not had any controversy with Mr. Mather, but the controversy has been all one sided by Mr. Mather. I have always been ready to get out of the park and let someone else take over the concessions and develop them. Up to the present I have never been able to get in touch with a human being who has been willing to put a penny into the project."

"I am so thoroughly sick and disgusted with the abuse I have been compelled to put up with that at the end of this season I shall lock the door of the lodge at Crater Lake and never open it again."

Mr. Parkhurst has truly had a very hard time pioneering the work at Crater Lake, has put thousands of dollars into the project and has lost money every year of the ten except last year, when he made a little money. He has been unable to get any capital interested although he has appealed to the Chamber of Commerce of Portland several times as well as the business men of that city personally, but has never received any encouragement.

What has become of the Crater Lake committee the Chamber of Commerce members of Portland promised to appoint when they were here a few months ago on their trade excursion, that was going to do so much for the development of the lake, but so far has done nothing at all? The Portland people are long on promises but short on action.—Medford Mail-Tribune.

THRILLING RACES AT LAKE OF WOODS.

An International Yachting Regatta looms as insipid as a knitting bee beside a bull fight in comparison with a day of racing that was held at Lake of the Woods Monday according to Game Warden Peck, who came in from the lake yesterday as ballast in E. V. Carter's car.

Five speed-burning motor boats staged a thrilling contest which had it all over the Resolute-Shamrock race for thrills. The entries were Eldon of Central Point in a "Motorgo," George Gillette with a "Liberty Drive," Ralph Vining with a "Coban," E. V. Carter with a "Motorgo," and Bert Peck with an "Evinrude." The race was over a triangular 2 1/2 miles course with three landings and passenger changes incorporated in order to lend variety to straight speeding.

George Gillette took the lead on the start but made a balk at the first landing and lost 200 yards. Eldon took the lead with Carter a close second, Peck third and Vining almost outdistanced. On the last leg, a one mile straight away, Gillette overcame some of his handicap and came in 40 seconds ahead of Eldon and Carter, who tied for second. Peck finished fourth and Vining trailed in last.

Frank Peck won a rowing race.

FISH CONFERENCE IS HARMONIOUS.

Wm. Briggs returned last evening from Gold Beach, where he took his father, E. D. Briggs, who is representing Ashland sportsmen at a conference between the commercial canning interests, the fishermen's unions and the sportsmen in regard to fishing in Rogue River. The conference is proceeding harmoniously according to Mr. Briggs and should result in a well defined plan to be carried out. Today the hearings are being held at Brookings.

ROAD GOOD.

Mr. Briggs says the road to Crescent City is in as good or better shape than it has been in past years. He drove from Crescent City to Ashland yesterday, leaving there at 8 a. m. and arriving here at 4 p. m. The road is now macadamized from Grants Pass to Kerby and part of the way to Waldo. The worst stretch is that on "Oregon Mountain."

From Crescent City to Brookings is good road but from Brookings to Gold Beach is exceedingly rough. He advises anyone against taking the Brookings-Gold Beach trip as a pleasure jaunt, saying that he figures it took $50 out of his tires to make that portion of the trip.

Mr. Briggs will return for his father the last of the week, taking his wife and her mother and sister with him for a two weeks' outing at Crescent City and Brookings.

SUGGESTS WORK ON LAKE OF WOODS ROAD.

O. Winter makes the most excellent suggestion that six or seven auto loads of Ashlanders should come themselves with picks and shovels and put in a day on the Lake of the Woods road while the road is in the present soft condition following the recent rains. All who are interested in

Director Mather NOT BLUFFING ON LAKE IMPROVEMENT (Medford Sun)

"My notice that conditions at Crater Lake must be improved," said Stephen Mather, director of national parks, to a representative of the Medford Sun last evening, "was not a bluff, but no radical change can be made now. I understand Mr. Parkhurst has shown a decided improvement and I certainly hope so. There must be a radical change, however, for next season, and the people of Oregon should back up a business-like plan to make Crater Lake one of the greatest natural assets in the state. Governor Olcott was in favor of state aid to Crater Lake and while I appreciate his interest I believe it would be better to keep the state out of it. There could scarcely help but be a tinge of politics under such conditions and we want no politics in the national park service."

"Ashland is figuring on connecting Crater Lake with its new big resort project, and the man behind the new Ashland proposition has the money. But there again I would personally prefer to have a representative Oregon corporation behind Crater Lake than one man. An endowed national park hotel would be something like an endowed church—too much under one man's control."

"Portland is interested in putting Crater Lake on its feet, and I believe Medford will give substantial aid when the time comes. Perhaps Frank Branch Riley, the noted lecturer, can be engaged to do a little missionary work at home and show the people of Oregon just how valuable Crater Lake can be made to them. The Southern Pacific will assist in the work, and they plan to appoint a special agent to look after the tourist travel to the lake."

"I said before I appreciate what Mr. Parkhurst has done, and the difficulties he has had to meet. Whatever happens I don't want him to suffer financially but I should think he would be willing to take only part cash for his investment if he could see that it is to the best interests of all that he step out. I expect to have some definite announcement to make in the near future."

MEDFORD IRRIGATION DISTRICT BONDS CARRY.

Some time ago the Medford Irrigation district voted bonds for the purpose of securing water for the Medford district. The state supreme court found the bonds illegal in some particulars.

Monday the Medford district voted on the bond issue again, revised to meet the corrections implied by the supreme court decision. The bonds carried Monday by the largest majority yet rolled up in the valley for irrigation; 114 to 2.

It is expected that the bonds will be validated by the supreme court immediately and work can begin on the western part of the system this winter if the weather permits.

GIRL KILLS SELF.

Delta Lee Reed, 15-year-old daughter of G. C. Reed, committed suicide late this morning at the Reed home on the Pacific highway about a mile beyond the new over-grade crossing.

Ruth Sharrp and Emma Lovett, representing some state institution or home, the name of which could not be learned at the hour of going to press, in company with Chief of Police Hatcher, went out to the Reed place this morning to interview the girl, whom it is understood has been giving her parents trouble. According to report the girl promised to go with the matrons and told them she would go to her room to get some things together.

Instead of going to her room she procured a heavy calibre revolver belonging to her father, and going out behind the barn, shot herself through the chest. Death was practically instantaneous.

Chief of Police Hatcher has gone to the Tutts mill to bring in G. C. Reed, who is employed there. The girl was a legally adopted daughter of the Reeds.

JACKSONVILLE BANK FAILS; PRESIDENT IS UNDER ARREST.

The doors of the Bank of Jacksonville have been closed by the state bank examiner and W. H. Johnson, president of the bank, was yesterday put under arrest by Prosecuting Attorney Roberts, charged with perjury in misstating the true condition of the bank to the state examiner.

Most of the deposits in the bank were made by residents of Jacksonville, which is the county seat, and by ranchers in that section of Jackson county.

Mr. Johnson would make no statement, but did not appear particularly disturbed by the developments, although all attempts to secure bail were fruitless.

The deposits of the bank were recently placed at approximately $60,000, but local authorities maintain at that time nearly $100,000 of Jackson county funds were on deposit.

Great excitement has been caused in Jacksonville, where Mr. Johnson is known as a leading citizen and a prominent and active church worker, the bank being surrounded by anxious depositors ever since the doors closed.

Friends of Mr. Johnson are confident that he will be cleared from criminal charges in connection with the failure.

HORSETHIEF CAPTURED.

Deputy Sheriff Houser journeyed to Roseburg yesterday with John Cody in tow, Cody being charged with stealing a horse from a Douglas county rancher who resides near Fish creek. The rancher notified Houser a short time ago that a horse belonging to him had been stolen. Houser took up the trail of the horse thief and with the help of Sheriff Terrell through the Siskiyou they bagged the fugitive across the California line by telegraphing ahead to Deputy Sheriff Calkin of Siskiyou county, who headed Cody off at Hornbrook and had him safely locked up when the Oregon sheriffs arrived.

YOU TELL 'EM CLOCK: I HAVEN'T GOT THE TIME

Vincent Pinto of Philadelphia has what, to all appearances, is a staid old grandfather's clock, but at time it does things that would surprise, if not shock, all of the younger clocks.

During the early morning hours, it behaves as other clocks have from the time of the first grandfather's. But at 6 it changes.

First it booms out the hours—Bong—bong—bong—bong—bong—then it shouts, being heard all over the house.

"Six o'clock and time to get up," Mrs. Vincent and her daughter Rose obey and an hour later the clock shouts up the stairs to Pinto and his son:

"Breakfast is ready. Hurry down."

"Off to work, now it's time," the clock warns the men of the family at 7:30 and at 9 a. m. it informs Mrs. Pinto: "It's time to go to your marketing."

And so it goes all day long, that nobody in the house may forget any duties. At 11 o'clock at night the clock, imitating Pinto's voice in its deepest and sternest tones, says:

"Time to go home, young man, it's 11 o'clock; time to go home." Miss Rose's "young man" gets his hat and goes.

Pinto and his son built the clock and installed the talking apparatus after 11 months' work. Pinto made his own records and he can change the clock's conversation whenever he wishes. It is rumored he sometimes stops the talking apparatus on Sundays and other days when he is at home.

RAILROAD OFFICIALS LOOK OVER TIMBER.

E. B. Duffy, traveling freight and passenger agent of the Denver and Rio Grande, and the Western Pacific, and Charles W. Dickenson, purchasing agent for the D. & R. G., were arrivals in town Wednesday on No. 13, and spent two days on local business. They are looking over the lumber here and expect to close contracts for timber for the D. & R. G. to be used for all purposes from railroad ties to car building. Two years ago the D. & R. G. bought about two million feet of lumber from this section—Grants Pass Courier.

MOTOR REGATTA AT LAKE OF WOODS FULL OF THRILLS.

LAKE OF THE WOODS—(By Grapevine, Delaysed)—Water sports were the order of the day at Lake of the Woods the afternoon of August 9.

The first and main event was the motor boat race, for which there were the following entries: G. V. Gillette—"The Resolute"; R. W. Elden—"The Motor-go"; Bert Peck—"The Let-or-Go"; E. V. Carter—"The Sometimes Goes."

Ralph Vining—"The Linger Longer Letty."

The latter ran true to name and finished last.

The course was laid from Peckville to Carter Point, then across the lake to Sanford Point and from there back to Peckville. When the start was made the noise reminded one of a Chinese New Year's celebration.

Gillette's "Resolute" ran rings around the others and finished an easy winner.

Elden's "Motor-go" ran foul of a rock and bent its propeller, which enabled Carter to nose out as winner of second place. The race was very exciting as at times the speed attained was fully seven miles an hour.

The afternoon's celebration was opened by the singing of "Life on the Ocean Wave" by the Peckville quartette and in responding to an encore they gave "Pull for the Shore, Sailor."

The rules governing the motor race were rigid. No profanity permitted, though the committee ruled that after a man had turned his flywheel 15 times without a responding "putt-putt" he was allowed to say "damn" once right out loud. The only tools allowed in the boat were a pair of pliers and an axe; there are times when the latter can be used with great effectiveness and satisfaction.

Only one accident happened; Ralph Vining broke a finger nail turning his flywheel while endeavoring to induce "Letty" to stop lingering.

One case of seasickness was reported, but on investigation it was found to be a case of over indulgence in huckleberry pie.

After the motor race there was a swimming and diving contest with so many entries that your reporter was unable to get the names of the winners.

A rousing race between Fred Johnson and Frank Peck was a draw. Mr. Elden was the moving spirit in arranging the afternoon's sports. The only disappointment was the failure of Lipton to show up with his "Shamrock"; he called up his regrets.

"Admiral" Gillette now struts around as if he owned the whole Southern Pacific system.

This scrambling for a lowly thatched cottage in which to fry the morning egg, which is becoming popular (the scrambling, not the egg), in Ashland, reminds us of a story they tell about a Mr. Brown of Rochester.

After trying in vain for months to get a house, Brown set out one day with a find-a-house-or-die look on his face. He wandered about all day without being successful, till at last his steps led him to the river.

"Ah!" he said in utter despair, "how tempting it looks!" He was almost inclined to plunge in and end it all.

All of a sudden he heard a splash and, looking around, he saw his friend Green struggling in the water. Without attempting to save him, he rushed off to the local house agent.

"Quick!" he gasped. "Green has fallen in the river. Can I have his house?"

"Sorry," said the house agent. "I've already let it to the man who pushed him in."

Life of Aged Lady Ends at Midnight

Mrs. E. J. Calhoun, the aged mother of Mrs. A. M. Beaver, died at 12:30 midnight, after a gradual decline due to advanced years. She was 91 years and five months old. Mrs. Calhoun had been a resident of Ashland for the past eight years, when she came from the East to make her home with her daughter. She had been a remarkable woman for her age, keeping her faculties clear practically up to the day of her death, and having most of the time unusually good health. The end came like the running down of a clock after a long period of usefulness, and the tired body earned a peaceful rest. Mrs. Calhoun was a native of Clinton, Ohio, to which place the remains will be conveyed for their last resting place beside her husband who had preceded her some time ago. After a private funeral this evening Mrs. A. M. Beaver will start for Ohio, accompanying the body.
