A short program was presented at which Mrs. J. B. Harrell and daughters sang to the accompaniment of ukuleles; Miss Dowd pleased the audience with a delightful reading, followed by a charming piano selection by Miss Berna Haight. The rest of the evening was devoted to getting acquainted, and the company adjourned with a more cordial relation existing among teachers and patrons.

The Tufts sawmill which started operation last February on the Dean Indian mountain closed the season's work this week. This mill has cut upwards of 2,000,000 feet of pine lumber, which was taken by truck to Medford for shipment. A big crew of men were employed there during the past summer, earning a payroll of from $50,000 to $60,000. This sawmill has about three years' operation there. The energies of the company now will be devoted to getting the lumber off from the mountain while the weather holds good.

ALL STUDENTS
More applications for admission to the School of Medicine of the University of Oregon have been received than can be admitted, according to administration officials of the University. Applications have been received from graduates of pre-medical departments of well-known eastern institutions as well as those of the coast. A waiting list for the 1921-1922 year has already been formed and is well filled. Owing to the lack of facilities for handling a large number of students at the medical school, only a limited number are admitted each year.

WEBSTER, Mass. — Whistling cheerily, Stanislaw Oinsky, 29 years old, put a noose around his neck, fastened the other end to a gas pipe, kicked out a box which he was standing on and strangled himself. Oinsky returned from work and ate a hearty meal with his parents. He told his mother he would chop some wood in the cellar. She heard her son whistling and thought he was piling up wood. Instead he was arranging his noose. No cause for the suicide was known.

PASTOR ASKED TO RETURN 4TH YEAR

Yesterday was a great day in the local Methodist church, in the close of the greatest year in the history of the church. The fourth quarterly conference took place Saturday night, at which all the business of the church and auxiliaries was finished, and the pastor and members close the year with the assurance that this has been by all odds the most prosperous and successful year, financially and spiritually, this organization has ever known.

Reports read at the conference show that the total receipts of the church are over $7000. An increase of 76 has been made to the membership within the year, while yesterday morning 27 promotions were made in the Sunday school. The happiest of relations existed between the pastor and his members, which was shown materially when Rev. C. A. Edwards was given an unanimous invitation to return to that charge at a salary of $2000 a year and the parsonage.

Rev. Edwards has been the pastor of the Methodist church of this city for the past three years, and during that time he has had the satisfaction of seeing a flourishing growth among his membership, with a steady increase in the prosperity of the church. He is not only remarkably popular with his own parishioners, but he and his wife and son have greatly endeared themselves with the entire city, and the most cordial relations exist between Mr. Edwards and family and their wide circle of acquaintances.

Mr. Edwards leaves this evening for the annual conference of the M. E. church at McMinnville, and the sincere wishes of Ashland as well as that he will return as pastor of the local church go with him.

HOBOS GET WARM RECEPTION IN CITY
A man who failed to heed the warning to stop given by Night Policeman Webster Wertz, received a shot in the arm while attempting to make a getaway at an early hour yesterday morning. According to a report from Siskiyou, a trainman was held up on the mountain by a party of hoboes, and Chief of Police Hatcher was notified to make a search for the robbers. The chief started at about midnight for the scene of the holdup, with an assistant, leaving word for Night Policeman Wertz to watch out for suspicious characters on the street. Some time later Mr. Wertz came across a party of hoboes and ordered them to stop. Instead of obeying the officer they started to run, when the policeman shot after them. The shot hit one man in the arm, inflicting a slight flesh wound. He was taken to a local hospital where his wound was dressed. It is stated that his injury amounts to very little.

SKY LINE HIGHWAY LOCATORS ON JOB
EUGENE—The forest reserve reconnaissance party that started work in July at Crater lake to map out a route for the proposed skyline highway along the summit of the Cascade mountains, has reached Obsidian cliffs, in Lane county, and only a few miles from the McKenzie river highway, according to N. F. Macduff, supervisor of the Cascade national forest, who has just returned from a ten days trip through the forest.

Members of the party have sent word to Mr. Macduff that on Diamond lake to the old military road over the summit by way of the Willamette pass a very easy grade has been found and Mr. Macduff says that from his own personal observations he knows there is an easy route from that point to the McKenzie river highway. The sky-line highway will of necessity be compelled to extend to lower levels owing to the vast lava beds on the summit and for several miles west of it in eastern Lane and Linn and western Deschutes counties. It would be practically an impossibility to build through the lava beds, says Mr. Macduff.

The party, which is headed by M. A. Johnson, engineer in the forest service, and F. W. Cleator, landscape engineer, expected to reach Mount Hood before the winter storms set in, said Mr. Macduff, but he says that, judging from the progress they have made thus far it is doubtful if they will get that far this year.

PITTSBURGH, Pa. — Legally dead and cremated, according to the records of the Allegheny morgue, his wife waiting for his ashes, Samuel Scott, aged 46 years, supposed to have been murdered last July and his body hidden on a towboat, returned a few days ago, and the fact was reported to the coroner's office. When the other body was found it was identified by Mrs. Scott, who arranged for its cremation.

DIAMOND LAKE MAY BE PLACED IN CRATER PARK

ROSEBURG, Ore. — Diamond lake, one of the famous beauty spots of the Pacific Northwest, may be included in the boundaries of Crater Lake park if the bill now being prepared by the National Parks association passes congress, according to word received yesterday afternoon by W. F. Ramsdell, forest supervisor of the Umpqua reserve. The park's association was defeated in its first attempt to secure control of Diamond lake, and in the event the lake should be set aside as a park it will mean a great loss to Douglas county. Thousands of tourists have been attracted to this section by this scenic wonder and its withdrawal from the Douglas domain would mean commercial loss.

In the event the boundaries of the Crater Lake park are extended to include Diamond lake, the restrictions now in force around Crater lake would be extended to the other natural wonder nearby. A charge would be made for passage through the park, regardless of whether a person stopped at the lake or not. Visitors would not be allowed to carry guns and special restrictions would be made for campers.

ELMORE AND DANFORD APPOINTED LIEUTENANTS
H. T. Elmore and Beecher Danford have received their appointments as First and Second lieutenants, respectively.

H. T. Elmore, the new First lieutenant of First Company, has been with the organization since it was started in February, 1919. His strict attention to his work and his untiring efforts in behalf of the company were the cause of his promotion. Lieutenant Elmore's promotion has been very rapid, having enlisted as a private in February, 1919, and having been promoted first to corporal, then sergeant, then First sergeant and then to First lieutenant.

Beecher Danford, the appointee to the office of Second lieutenant, First Company, is an ardent worker. He was a member of the old First Company, and has had service in France. The boys are all very enthusiastic over his appointment.

Colonel White, the adjutant general of Oregon, wrote both lieutenants very encouraging letters, stating that he had noticed their good work, and felt personally pleased over the appointments. Sergeant Eric Weren, another stand-by in the company, was appointed as First sergeant to succeed Lieutenant Elmore, who formerly held that position.

The First Company is now getting ahead very rapidly. Three recruits were taken in last week and many more are in line for enlistment. The splendid training and advantages that an enlistment in the company offers is very appealing.

The deceased is survived by his wife and ten of the eleven children born to this union, one daughter of whom, Mary M. Pinnegar, died four years ago. The children surviving are as follows: W. H. Groom, Mrs. Annie Williams, Miss Millie Groom, Geo. F. Groom, H. S. Groom, Ashland, Mrs. Lydia Hopkins Soda Springs; S. P. Groom, Medford; W. R. Groom, Bakersfield, Calif.; Mrs. Nettie Dorman, Perry, Ind., and E. A. Groom, Portland. There are also 32 grandchildren surviving.

Will Gather Old Clothes for Needy

B. H. Jones, field secretary for the Near East Relief, was in Ashland last night and this morning, arranging for the annual old clothes offering of the people here to the children and destitute people of that stricken country.

It is expected that October 2nd will be the date appointed for the gathering of the clothing.

The Boy Scouts will gather the bundles, under the direction of the scoutmasters.

Every citizen, young or old, should begin at once to look into their closets and safes and gather from them every warm garment, large or small, that is at all wearable, and tie them in compact bundles for contribution to this fund.

Over one hundred thousand children are now in the shelter of the orphanages of the Near East Relief, and thousands more are waiting to be received, besides the men and women who are destitute of clothing.

No clothing will be unwelcome, and the warmer it is the more welcome it will be.

The young people's societies of the churches of the state have undertaken the splendid task of raising the money to pay the transportation charges on the clothing from Oregon to Constantinople, and are entering into the task with earnestness and enthusiasm.

Let Ashland do itself justice in this splendid work that costs hardly more than a kindly thought but which will mean life and hope to such multitudes of little people.

The deceased is survived by his wife and ten of the eleven children born to this union, one daughter of whom, Mary M. Pinnegar, died four years ago. The children surviving are as follows: W. H.
