There has just been held in Portland a three-day conference of men from each of the National Forests in western Oregon to learn more about the forest fire laws of the Federal Government and the state and how to enforce these laws in order to put a stop to needless forest destruction. This conference was for the purpose of acquainting the field men of these forests with a knowledge of what the trespass laws are regarding fires left burning in the woods, how the rangers should secure evidence about the guilty parties who purposely start forest fires, those who leave unextinguished camp fires and unpermitted brush fires, and how and when they should report all such cases to the Justices of the Peace or other state or federal officer. It was brought out at this meeting that the local Justices of the Peace and other state peace officers are on the whole helping in a splendid manner the forest rangers in this work, looking towards the full protection of the timber resources of the northwest.

HOLD MEETING FOR RANGERS TO LEARN FOREST FIRE LAWS

The meetings were conducted by T. M. Talbot, who is in charge of fire law enforcement work for the U. S. Forest Service in Oregon and Washington. The Portland meeting was addressed by Assistant U. S. Attorney Hall Lusk and Deputy County Attorney Mowry, of Multnomah county. The conference was attended by forest officers from the eight national forests lying west of the Cascades. FIRE DESTROYS TUCKER RESIDENCE

The ranch home of M. M. Tucker, east of Ashland, was burned to the ground this morning, together with practically all its contents. Only a little bedding and some clothing were secured from the burning building before the flames rendered approach to the house impossible. There was no insurance carried on the building and contents.

The fire was discovered between 6 and 7 o'clock. Mr. Tucker had built a fire in the living room, which was shut away from the kitchen, where Mrs. Tucker was getting breakfast. Shortly after the fire was built a member of the family had occasion to go into the living room, and on opening the door found the entire room ablaze. The fire spread so rapidly there was no time to secure the hose from the barn, so the family turned their attention to trying to save some of the contents of the building, and only succeeded in carrying out a very little bedding and clothing. A defective flue is supposed to have been the cause of the fire.

FARM BUREAU TO START TESTS TO FEEDING HOGS

Through the office of the county agent of Jackson county and the County Farm Bureau, several hog-feeding tests have been started in various sections of the county to ascertain the actual cost of producing pork under average farm conditions, with the idea of giving information that will be of help to all farmers who grow hogs, in knowing which practices prove most economical. One of these tests will be carried on with J. E. Judy of Medford. In this test eight pigs, weighing 102 pounds, have been placed on alfalfa pasture. They will be given ground barley in a self-feeder by the "help yourself" method. This lot will be weighed after thirty days, and the cost of gains will be computed. Mr. Judy has another lot of pigs that will be placed on similar test as weeners about May 1st. These, however, will not have access to the self-feeder, but will be hand-fed on a limited ration with alfalfa pasture. Another test was started on the farm of E. E. Dimick in the Evans Creek section. This lot weighed 127 pounds average. They will be fed "Hog Eats," a concentrate prepared by the Farm Bureau Exchange, for thirty days in a self-feeder, and will be given access to alfalfa pasture.

Another lot of thirty-six shoats will be tested on the farm of F. L. Benson. This lot will be fed ground wheat through self-feeders. They are to be pen fed and will not have access to pasture but a short time, when they will be pastured on rye. It is the plan to weigh all these lots about May 1st. The information gained will be of value to other hog-growers in Jackson county. The results will be given publicity as the tests progress. Assistant County Agent Fred Hollibaugh will keep watch of results. Other tests will be started as the season advances and other feeds are made available.

SOCIAL HYGIENE SPEAKER COMING

Under the direction of the World's Parity Federation, Mrs. Aristen Felt, supervisor of the United States Interdepartmental Social Hygiene Board, is coming directly from Salt Lake City to spend a week in Jackson county, speaking to mothers and young women. Mrs. Felt is a graduate of law, holds a high position under the government, and is said to be an excellent speaker. She has had wide experience and no doubt will bring a message on social conditions well worth while. Mrs. Felt was for eighteen months connected with the Woman's Protective Association of Portland, in our own state.

Mrs. Felt will be in Ashland on the evening of April 19th, and will speak at the Baptist church at 7:30. Winfield Scott Mall spent a day in our county talking to boys about the story of manhood under the direction of the Y. M. C. A. No boy can fail to remember nor to be influenced for good by the things which he heard.

TWO ECLIPSES OCCUR IN APRIL

According to astronomical observations there was an eclipse of the sun today. A total eclipse of the moon is scheduled to take place April 22. This lunar phenomenon will occur in the early morning, and will be visible generally in North and South America. The eclipse will begin at approximately 4:03 a. m. and will last until 7:26 a. m. Totality will be from 5:24 a. m. to 6:05 a. m.

MEN QUALIFY FOR FOREST RANGERS

The list of men who passed the U. S. civil service examination last October for the position of forest ranger on the national forests of Oregon and Washington has just been received at the Portland office of the Forest Service. This is the result of an annual examination held to secure a list of men qualified to become protectors of the timber resources belonging to Uncle Sam in these two states. The examination covers such subjects as fire fighting, timber work, surveying, handling of live stock and land laws, and is held in all the towns throughout the western states where forest supervisors' headquarters are located.

CITY FATHERS MEET AND PROJECT FOR MUNICIPAL WELFARE

The city council at its meeting last evening was visited by representatives of the state fire department, who are touring the state on a fire prevention crusade. The object of this visit was to inspect Ashland's fire protection and risks, and the representatives last evening addressed the council on what they considered the city's greatest risk in promoting a fire in its midst. The state department will submit a number of ordinances to the council in regard to fire protection and the situation in the city regarding fighting fire, which may become laws in the city.

never heard that plaid, checked and dotted goods of any description only eyes, however, convinces me that two of every three stout women and girls accentuate their size. Purples, blues and hip draperies apparently are favored for by the very women who ought never to wear them. If their dressmakers were artists or business men they would procure injunctions to prohibit their patrons appearing in gowns which so poorly reflect their creator's judgment.

NOTES ON THE PRESBYTERIAL

Rev. H. G. Harrison of Grants Pass was among the interested audience yesterday. Grants Pass church sent a delegation of nine women. Mrs. Edgar of Central Point sang "The Old Rugged Cross" by request at the afternoon session.

The dinner and supper served by the local society was all that could be desired as to bounty and good fellowship.

Mrs. Fletcher Linn thoroughly enjoyed the day in Southern Oregon as her husband's people were among the early pioneers, coming to Jacksonville in 1852. Mr. Linn still thinks southern Oregon is very near heaven and his wife said his face wore a wrath and far look all day Monday as she prepared for her trip.

A vote of thanks was extended Mrs. C. B. Lamkin and other retiring officers for their faithful service. Mrs. Lamkin has served through the war and sickness of other workers and has well earned the expression of good will.

The Calcutta "Synodical twins," were heard from at one of the far Indian mission stations. Twins were born to an Indian mother. According to Indian superstition it is bad luck to let both live, so a consultation was held as to which should be killed. A telegram reached a missionary field secretary, who arrived in time to take part in the family pow wow. She asked if they would give them both to her, and the Indians were glad to have their problem solved, so they are adopted by the Christian women of Calcutta, and are trained for the Master's service.

Dr. and Mrs. Woods and sons furnished two orchestral numbers for the evening which were inspiring.
