pass that adjusted compensation bill.

The boys are NOT squanderers, but are home builders, and sound citizens, who want to take up the threads where they were broken, and pull ahead.

It will be interesting to watch the results of the Oregon state aid measure.

It just tickles the members of Ashland post some to learn of Gerald Gunter's wedding with (used to be) Miss Hazel Powell. You betcha they did it Wednesday afternoon and then beat it out of town in their little Ford bug. They are coming back, though, and have purchased a dandy little bungalow near the Chautauqua building. We'll venture a guess what Gerald will do with his chance at the state aid measure. That's substantial progress, and not squandering.

Ashland post has been greatly in need of good orators and spellbinders, but we were very pleasantly surprised when Chet Smith budded out into a most enthusiastic discourse at the last meeting. He could not even wait for his turn to come, but pulled the other fellows down so that his turn would come sooner. It's good stuff. Chet, we want you to come again.

Ashland post has two mighty good entertainers that we are mighty proud of, and they are John O. Riggs and Rev. W. L. Evans, who put the Legion up to full glory with the G. A. R. and W. R. C. at their reunion. They have the lasting appreciation of the post for their splendid spirit with which they responded to our call for help.

The more we see of our lyceum course the better we like it. Our committee has worked it over pretty carefully and announce the first event to be the La Salle quartet for October 1. These entertainers are very well known to many people. We feel particularly glad to have them because they are all ex-service men with us, and they are some regular entertainers.

Remember the bonus meeting, and then the Old-fashioned Party, follows. After that we will have some more good stuff.

MUCH FETED VISITOR FORMER ASHLAND WOMAN, LEAVES FOR WASH.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Ward who have been visiting here for the past ten days will leave tomorrow evening for their home at Burlington, Washington. Mrs. Ward will be remembered here as Mrs. Francis Hockett and numbers her friends here as Legion. They have had a busy time since their arrival having been gloriously entertained by Mrs. Ward's many friends. Mrs. Ward likes Burlington, because her home is there, but she says good old Ashland, with its mineral waters and wealth of wonderful fruit still looks good to her.

American Legion Column

By DONALD SPENCER

Ashland post No. 14, American Legion, had a regular session again last Tuesday night. They have established a regular club room together with the G. A. R., in the Armory. It is planned to redecorate the room and make it a really comfortable meeting room for all veterans.

The meeting was alive and full of interest for all concerned. Many committees reported their activities and have shown work well done.

Henry Pace leans heavily to entertainment and anything that is for the best interests of the Legion in general, so he heads a committee which will arrange for a whaling big get-together meeting of all ex-service men and their relatives to be held at the Armory September 27. It's to be a regular old-fashioned party style, the kind that we never get tired of. They will select a ladies' committee from the Auxiliary and other relatives, to co-operate with them in the final preparations in order that it might be the most complete success. The affair is for all ex-service men and their relatives, so don't overlook any bets, but plan to be there.

The state aid is of paramount interest for all ex-service men, so it necessarily brought out a lot of discussion. Arrangements were made for a bonus meeting to be held at the Armory for Thursday night, when the committee will be ready to handle any kind of questions that will be asked, and fill out all the applications possible. Don Dickerson and his crew of chefs will hand out a bit of eats on the side lines while the scrimmage is in progress. If you seek information on bonus or loan lines, be there.

We are most agreeably surprised at the number of fellows who are taking out loans. They don't want the bonus. The loan really means something to them, and to Ashland in general. Many of them like the idea that they have $3000 credit with the state that they can draw on any time in years to come, while the bonus only lasts—over night. If our national government could realize just what the ex-service men are doing with the bonuses which they receive from the various states, they would not hesitate a moment to
